HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Order issued by authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

It is requested that this copy of Circular No. 4 of the 30th August 1879 may be substituted for the one previously issued, which should be destroyed.

THOMAS C. LEDLIE, for Registrar.

HIGH COURT, ENGLISH DEPARTMENT, the 10th September 1879.

CRIMINAL

No. 4, dated the 30th August 1879.

UNDER Chapter XII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, service of a summons should, if possible, be made personally; but when the person named therein cannot be found, substituted service is allowed to be made, (1) by giving a copy to a male adult member of his family living with him, or, where there is none such on whom service can be made, (2) by fixing a copy on some conspicuous part of the house in which the person to whom the summons is addressed ordinarily resides.

2. The court has reason to believe that some laxity of practice exists in the matter of seeing that the requirements of the law are strictly attended to, and in a case recently brought to its notice has observed that a Magistrate taking affidavits of the service of summonses received from the Calcutta Small Cause Court, under Section 30, Act IX of 1850, entirely failed to record the particulars which were material to enable that Court to judge whether the provisions of the law had been complied with. The Judges are therefore pleased to circulate, for the information and guidance of the Criminal Courts, the accompanying rules extracted from Circular Order No. 9 of 6th April 1871, addressed to Civil Judges, pointing out how the service of process should be proved, and to direct that the instructions given be observed not only with respect to process received from other courts or districts, but in every case where it is material to prove the service of process.

Rules.

Rule 1.—When the summons or notice is served on the defendant personally, the service

As to personal service. and the signature of the defendant on the back of the summons or copy should be proved by the affidavit or solemn declaration recorded in writing of the person who actually effected the service; and the identity of the person served with the party to whom the process is addressed, should be proved by the affidavit or solemn declaration of some one personally acquainted with the party to be served.

Rule 2.—If the service be made on an adult male member of his family residing with

As to service on an adult male member of the family. him, it should be proved by the affidavit or solemn declaration of the officer effecting the service, and, if necessary, of some other person or persons acquainted with the facts that the defendant could not be found, and that the person to whom the process was delivered was an adult male member of his family, and was actually residing with him at the time of such service.

Rule 3.—If the service be made by affixing it to the dwelling-house of the defendant, it

As to service by affixing copy of the summons to the house. should, in like manner, be proved that the defendant could not be found nor any other person on whom the service could be made, and that the defendant was actually dwelling in the house, on the outer door of which a copy of the process was fixed, at the time when it was so fixed.

CIVIL.

No. 33, dated the 18th September 1879.

THE High Court finds it necessary to call the attention of the Judges of Subordinate Courts to the following observations and rules with reference to Sections 294 and 306 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

2. Section 294 does not provide for the set-off of a part of the purchase-money against a part of the amount due under a decree. The whole of the purchase-money may be set off against a part of the amount due under a decree, where the latter exceeds the former; or where the purchase-money exceeds the amount due under the decree, the whole of the latter may be set off against the former.

3. When the decree-holder purchasing property of his debtor at an execution sale, with leave of the Court, desires to make a set-off, the Court executing the decree "shall enter up satisfaction of the decree, in whole or in part, accordingly." No receipt is required from the decree-holder, and the entering up of satisfaction does not depend upon his giving such receipt. When he has signified his intention of claiming a set-off, the Court is to enter up satisfaction in full, or in part, as the case may be, without any further action in that respect by the decree-holder.

4. Satisfaction cannot be entered up until the sale has been confirmed, and must then be done once for all. The practice of entering up satisfaction, as for the earnest-money required under Section 306, is irregular and is prohibited.

Rules framed under Section 652 of the Civil Procedure Code.

I.—When the amount to be paid by a decree-holder buying with the leave of the Court, and who has signified his intention of claiming a set-off, is not more than the amount due to him under the decree, and for the costs of executing it, the deposit required shall not exceed the amount of the court fees due on the sale under Clause F, Article 6, Parts II, III, and IV of the Rules under the Court Fees' Act, Section 20, Clause 1.

II.—When the amount of purchase-money exceeds the amount due to the decree-holder as above, but such excess, together with the amount of Court fees due for the sale, does not exceed 25 per cent. of the purchase-money, the deposit required shall not exceed the amount of such excess and court fees.

III.—When the excess, with or without the court fees for the sale, is greater than 25 per cent. of the purchase-money, the full deposit of 25 per cent. shall be required as authorized by Section 306.

IV.—Whenever the amount due as court fees for the sale of the property has been deposited under Rule I or Rule II, the Court shall, at the time of confirming the sale, direct that such sum be applied by an officer of the Court to the purchase of the necessary stamps, and shall cause the same to be attached to the proceeding containing the order of confirmation, and to be then and there properly defaced. All Judges will be held personally responsible for compliance with this order, which, if attended to at the proper time, will give no appreciable trouble.

NOTIFICATION.

THE following rule, framed by the High Court under Section 10 of the Letters Patent 1865, is published for general information.

By order of the High Court.

	37 Cuttack Sept. 27 '79	4.83	Weather—cloudy and rainy. Fine at the close. Heavy rain and a storm at False Point during last week. Transplantation on inundated tracts going on. Grub totally destroyed by heavy rain, and prospects fair. Beali being reaped. Saradā being weeded. Public health generally good.
ORISSA DIV.	38 Pooree, " 25 "	4.63	Weather—cloudy and rainy. Condition of crops in Khoorda sub-division satisfactory. Early paddy coming into ear. Insects that have damaged saradā disappearing. Biali and mandia being reaped. In Sudder sub-division transplantation on inundated lands being vigorously carried on. Some distress in pergunnahs Peral, Rahang, and Chowbiakud, as plants have to be brought from a distance at a great price and cultivators of Chilka Tracts are poor; their lands suffering every year either from drought or inundation.
	Khoorda ..	3.58
	39 Balasore, " 28 "	8.43	Weather—overcast, dark, and threatening, with frequent and heavy squalls, Burnabalong in flood and rising rapidly. Rain done good. Prospects fair, except on high lands where crop has failed. Fever in neighbourhood of Balasore.
CHOTA NAGPORE

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. OXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,

The 20th September 1879.

JOHN ELIOT,

For Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway for five weeks ending 30th August 1879.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY. TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPORE, THE 16TH SEPTEMBER 1879.
Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway for five weeks ending 30th August 1879.

The approximate figures for the period are as follows :—

	Coaching.		Goods		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1879	656,060	7,54,608	47,43,280	18,50,582	26,05,190
1878	609,877	7,06,680	38,14,630	16,84,477	22,90,067
Increase	46,183	48,948	9,28,650	2,66,175	3,15,128
Decrease

The coaching traffic shows an increase of about 8 per cent. in the numbers carried and about 7 per cent. in receipts.

Goods Traffic.

The general results are very satisfactory, and the principal fluctuations calling for remark are—

Increases.				Decreases.
Brass and spelter.				Grain and pulses.			Salt.
Coal.				Iron.
Cotton.				Piece-goods.
Government stores.				Hides.			Seeds.
Ghee and oil.				Lac.			Tobacco.
Brass				Mds.	7,480	Rs.	10,368
Spelter				"	7,117	"	10,402
					14,006		20,868

This increase is in despatches of sheets and tiles principally to the Mirzapore and Cawnpore native markets for local manufacture.

Coal, up	Mds.	2,42,188	Rs.	1,45,118
" down	"	1,86,026	"	22,312
		4,28,214		1,67,480

Up Coal.—The demand from the different foreign railways, viz. the Oudh and Rohilkund, Rajpootana, State, Sindh, Punjab, and Delhi, and the Punjab Northern State Railways continues.

Down Coal.—Large quantities have also been despatched to Howrah and Bally for the use of mills and steamers, and, as usual, stocks are being replenished before the coming Durga Puja holidays.

Grain and pulses	Mds.	513,901	Rs.	1,64,940
-------------------------	------	---------	-----	----------

After several months of depression this traffic is again reviving, and it may be best divided as follows :—

	Increases.		Decreases.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.
Rice	84,085			3,279
Wheat	3,00,601	1,41,368
Other grain	76,271	10,960
Pulses	52,044	15,911
Total	5,13,901	1,68,219		3,279

Cotton	Mds.	8,259	Rs.	16,136
---------------	------	-------	-----	--------

There have been considerable despatches to China, and as the prospects of the new crop are very favorable, we may look forward to a continued improvement in this traffic.

Jaggree and sugar—

Jaggree	Mds.	21,284	Rs.	5,518
Sugar	"	13,777	"	4,080
Total		35,061		9,598

There was a marked falling off in the despatches from the Oudh and Rohilkund Railway last year via Cawnpore and Allyghur owing to failure of crops in those districts. This year there is a steady demand from Rajpootana and the Western Presidency, and supplies are plentiful.

Piece-goods—

Decrease	...	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	632
Increase	...	...	...	...	...	...	Rs.	5,195
...	...	...	...	...	...	Mds	7,001	4,562

There have been heavy imports to Calcutta, and prices are favorable to buyers. The supplies are principally to Patna Ghat and Arrah.

Decreases.

Government stores—
Beer, Commissariat	Mds.	+1,955	Rs.	—13,992
Commissariat and ordnance	"	+2,988	"	+925
Total		+4,943		—13,067

Ghee and oil	Mds.	10,798	Rs.	21,865
---------------------	------	--------	-----	--------

A portion of this decrease is in kerosine oil from Howrah owing to the up-country markets being overstocked, and, as explained in my last report, there is still a falling off in ghee and other oils from Behar and the North-Western Provinces.

Hides	Mds.	7,321	Rs.	7,806
--------------	------	-------	-----	-------

There is active demand for Patna and North-Western Provinces hides, but business is entirely restricted by want of supplies.

Lac	Mds.	5,886	Rs.	6,419
------------	------	-------	-----	-------

Owing to the raw material being scarce and its price high, little or no shellac has been manufactured; the entire shipments from the port during August being 32 chests only.

Seeds	Mds.	91,716	Rs.	62,143
--------------	------	--------	-----	--------

The local prices at Cawnpore and Patna are still high, and the market in Calcutta has not been attractive.

Tobacco	Mds.	16,634	Rs.	8,942
----------------	------	--------	-----	-------

I remarked in my last monthly report on the falling off in this staple, and there is nothing further to add. The train mileage for the period is—

	1879	1878	Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
	...	...	228,744	831,500	561,241
	...	...	233,262	294,313	527,575
Increases	...	...	...	38,187	33,639
Decreases	...	...	4,518	...	...
Earnings per train mile—
	...	...	Rs. 4 P. 9	Rs. 4 P. 8	Rs. 4 P. 8
	...	...	5 0 5	5 6 2	4 5 5
Increases	...	...	0 4 4	0 2 10	0 4 10
Decreases	...	...	...	...	...

The total increase of 4 annas 10 pies per train mile must, I think, be considered satisfactory.

Shunting mileage.—Increase ... Hours 635

This slight increase is at Howrah, and calls for no comment.

We now come to the Jubbulpore line traffic:—

	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Total.
1879	24,078	80,551	5,24,004	1,38,004	1,97,355
1878	22,923	58,500	2,70,343	90,440	1,49,940
Increases	140	851	2,54,051	47,564	48,415
Decreases	...	...	...	...	...

The earnings show an increase of over 52 per cent in goods traffic owing to despatches in grain, wheat, and jaggree from Cawnpore principally to the Great Indian Peninsula and connected railways.

Train mileage for the period is—

	1879	1878	Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
	...	...	28,140	35,889	59,038
	...	...	21,664	21,755	43,419
Increases	...	...	1,485	14,134	15,619
Decreases	...	...	...	...	...

Earnings per train mile Rs. 3-5-6, as against Rs. 3-6-10 last year.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the four weeks ending the 23rd August 1879.

Report on the Goods Traffic for the four weeks ending the 23rd August 1879.

Dated Calcutta, the 15th September 1879.

From—W. INNES, Esq., Acting Traffic Superintendent, Eastern Bengal Railway, To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Calcutta.

THE total weight of goods carried over this Railway during the above period was 5,48,807 maunds, which, as compared with the corresponding period of last year, shows a decrease of 1,07,393 maunds. This decrease is chiefly in gunny, jute, seeds, tobacco, turmeric, and miscellaneous goods. The articles showing the largest increase are, hides, salt, sugar, and tea.

Decreases.

Gunny	...	...	...	...	Mds.	Bundles, 110	Bales, 1,988
The Serajgunj Jute Company have not been shipping so largely of late.
Jute, drums and bales	...	...	...	...	Mds.	Drums, 74,210	Bales, 3,080
This decrease is owing to the dull state of the market, and consequently smaller quantities have been forwarded.
Seeds	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	14,681
The decrease is owing to the bad year and smaller quantities on hand for export.
Tobacco	...	...	...	...	Mds.	Bundles, 15,125	Bales, 3,050
This decrease is to be attributed to a falling off in the demand for export, the same being regulated by the market, which fluctuates.
Turmeric	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	10,706
This decrease may also be accounted for by a lesser demand in the market, which fluctuates greatly.
Miscellaneous goods	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	27,839
This may be accounted for by depression in trade generally.

Increases.

Hides	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	10,338
The quantity forwarded of these is regulated by the demand for exports, and fluctuates accordingly.
Salt	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	21,174
This increase is satisfactory, and shows that exporters appreciate the facilities offered for carriage over the line.
Sugar	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	2,222
This increase is owing to manufacturers holding back their stocks on account of previous low prices and now clearing them out.
Tea	...	...	...	...	...	Mds.	6,121
This is owing to the increased quantities now brought from Darjeeling and Cachar.
I attach the usual statement of increases and decreases.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE SALT DEPARTMENT IN 1878-79.

THE most important measure of the year, in connection with the administration of the department, was the reduction of the duty on salt in furtherance of the policy of equalizing the duty throughout India, which the Supreme Government had kept in view for many years. The rate of duty on imported salt, which had been fixed at Rs. 3-4 per maund in 1875 and reduced to Rs. 3-2 in December 1877, was further reduced to Rs. 2-14 by a notification issued on the 31st July 1878. Under another notification of the same date, the rates of duty on salt manufactured in Orissa were revised and reduced to the scale of Rs. 2-8 for the whole of the districts of Pooree and Cuttack, Rs. 2-10 for the portion of the Balasore district lying between Cuttack and the Kansbans River, and Rs. 2-12 for the rest of the district. The receipts of the past year show a decrease of Rs. 32,45,045 in the amount of duty realized on imported salt, due to the reduction of the duty, and of Rs. 91,335 in the rents received from the bonding golahs. On the other hand, there was an increase of Rs. 2,14,815 in the revenue from excise salt and of Rs. 7,660 in the miscellaneous receipts.

The net decrease of revenue for the year was Rs. 31,13,905. At the same time, a reduction of Rs. 3,08,447 was made in the charges. The receipts of the past five years have been as follow :—

	Rs.
1874-75	...	...	...	2,64,87,143
1875-76	...	...	...	2,53,41,025
1876-77	...	...	...	2,56,90,656
1877-78	...	...	...	2,68,77,604
1878-79	...	...	...	2,37,63,699

2. The following statement shows the salt supplies of the past five years :—

	1874-75	1875-76.	1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79.
	Mds.	Mds	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
Stocks at commencement of year	20,59,418	20,87,317	41,53,880	42,50,816	21,28,566
Imported and manufactured during the year	82,88,081	1,00,24,786	82,86,901	84,03,127	76,77,704
Cleared for consumption	81,99,300	79,14,513	81,07,092	84,82,062	84,57,247
Wastage, &c.	60,793	43,680	61,032	40,213	87,473
Balance at close of year	20,87,317	41,53,880	42,50,816	21,28,566	12,61,850

The total quantity imported during the last year was 70,92,615 maunds. The importations were confined to Calcutta and Chittagong, and, as compared with those of the previous year, show an increase of 8,00,654 maunds. Balasore received no imports by sea. No salt came to Calcutta from Egypt, but the importations from all other places of supply increased. Chittagong imported 1,67,696 maunds, the whole quantity coming from the United Kingdom, against 1,19,545 maunds in 1877-78. The increase is attributed to the chance importation of 3,000 tons by two European vessels which came to the port for jute cargoes. It must also have been due in some measure to a larger demand caused by the low stocks with which the year opened.

3. The clearances for consumption in the last two years were as follow :—

	1877-78.		1878-79.
	Quantity.	Duty.	Quantity	Duty.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.
Sales of imported salt from ship-board	54,59,877	1,69,59,194	57,49,843	1,80,15,755
Ditto from bond	26,51,799	82,78,811	22,42,659	61,59,594
Sales of excise salt	3,70,886	10,03,065	4,04,745	12,32,555
Total	84,82,562	2,62,41,070	84,57,247	2,33,97,904

It is observed that the total clearances of the past year were less than those of 1877-78 by 25,115 maunds. This small decrease makes no appreciable difference in the consumption of the two years. The increase of consumption which occurred in 1877-78 has thus been maintained. The clearances from shipboard increased by 2,46,516 maunds in Calcutta and by 53,450 maunds in Chittagong. This was naturally accompanied by a reduction of the clearances from bond, with the result in Calcutta of diminishing largely the income from golah rents.

4. There was a marked increase in the manufacture of excise salt, the quantity produced being 5,84,395 maunds against 1,70,980 maunds in 1877-78. Of the total produce only 7,750 maunds were manufactured in the 24-Pergunnahs, the rest being entirely manufactured in Orissa. In this Division there was an increase in every district, but it was particularly large in Pooree, where the outturn was 4,01,436 maunds against 47,839 maunds in 1877-78. In Cuttack 27,653 maunds were produced against 10,996 maunds in 1877-78, and in Balasore 1,47,555 maunds against 94,127 maunds. The increase was partly due to favourable weather, but manufacture was chiefly stimulated by an increase in the duty on Ganjam salt, which competes with Orissa salt, and by the fact that Government defrayed the cost of the preventive establishments. In paragraph 8 of the report the Board allude to the correspondence which took place during the year regarding the charges for these preventive establishments. It has now been decided that the cost of the establishments shall be borne by Government on all works yielding duty equal to twenty times the charges, and that on smaller works the establishments must be paid for by the manufacturers themselves.

5. Sales of excise salt increased during the year from 3,70,686 maunds, yielding Rs. 10,03,065, to 4,64,745 maunds, yielding Rs. 12,22,555. In Pooree 1,02,116 maunds and in the 24-Pergunnahs 1,225 maunds were sold in excess of the quantity in the previous year; but the sales fell off by 436 maunds in Cuttack and 8,846 maunds in Balasore. The large transactions in Pooree were no doubt developed by the ability of the local traders to compete successfully with Ganjam manufacturers, the duty on Ganjam salt having been raised by three annas, while that on Pooree salt remained at Rs. 2-8. The decrease in Balasore was nearly made up by larger clearances of Madras salt from bond and by the importation of Liverpool salt from Calcutta through Midnapore.

6. The quantity of salt sold in the saliferous districts shows a net increase of 16,064 maunds. Midnapore, the 24-Pergunnahs, Backergunge, Noakholly, and Balasore were the districts in which an increase occurred. In the first two the result was partly due to increased exertions on the part of the police to prevent the consumption of illicit salt. In Backergunge and Noakholly it is attributed to renewed prosperity of the people in the tracts which suffered most from the cyclone of 1876. The Collector of Balasore is unable to account for the increase in his district. The largest reduction of sales occurred in Chittagong and Cuttack. In Chittagong it amounted to 2,680 maunds, and is attributed partly to a misconception of an order issued by the Commissioner permitting manufacture in small quantities for home consumption, and partly to the introduction of supplies from the Arracan side of the border. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board that the decrease of 17,773 maunds, or 8·6 per cent. in the quantity sold in Cuttack, indicates the prevalence of illicit manufacture in that district, and he will look to the local officers to take proper measures for the protection of the revenue.

7. The number of cases in which salt was seized was 256 in excess of that in the previous year. The quantity of salt seized amounted to 3,657 maunds. Of the total quantity under attachment, including the balance of the previous year's seizures, only 634 maunds were confiscated. A comparison of the quantity attached with that eventually confiscated gives decidedly unsatisfactory results in Howrah, the 24-Pergunnahs, and Pooree.

8. Prosecutions under the salt law increased by 330, the total number being 1,452 against 1,122 in 1877-78. The number of persons apprehended was 1,597 against 1,189, and convictions were obtained in 1,400 cases against 1,057. The offences were, as usual, of a petty character. The largest increase took place in Midnapore (64), the 24-Pergunnahs (253), and Jessore (31). The fines and forfeitures realized amounted to Rs. 11,853, but only Rs. 2,894 were paid to informers and police officers. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the Board have called the attention of district officers to the great importance of making prompt payment of rewards to the persons entitled to them. The Board justly remark that it is idle to look for information from the public, and special exertion from the police, if the rewards which the law sanctions are withheld, or are disbursed only after great delay; and it is not satisfactory that officers should have to be reminded of this. On the whole, the police appear to have worked fairly well for the protection of the salt revenue during the past year. In Chittagong and Pooree, however, there is evidently much room for improvement.

9. The quantity of salt conveyed into the interior from Calcutta, by rail and water, was 77,16,653 maunds as compared with 79,41,633 in the previous year. The despatches by water fell off by 1,84,769 maunds. There was a slight increase in the quantity conveyed by the East Indian Railway; but a decrease of 44,459 maunds in the despatches by the Eastern Bengal Railway, the Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway, and the Chitpore Canal.

10. The experience of the past year has been again favourable to the scheme of restricting the rowannah system introduced on the 1st April 1877.

The increased sales in the 24-Pergunnahs, Midnapore, and Backergunge show clearly that the measure has had no evil effects on the revenue in those districts. In Pooree, the Commissioner reports that it has in no way proved injurious. The only unfavourable report comes from Chittagong. The Commissioner remarks that illicit salt made in the saliferous tracts is notoriously sold or exchanged for goods in places where the rowannah system has been withdrawn: but the Board observe that this statement is hardly in keeping with the opinion expressed in another part of the Commissioner's report. The Lieutenant-Governor will await the submission of the special report which has been called for by the Board.

11. A further heavy decline in bonding took place during the past year. Bonders availed themselves very slightly of the concession of bonding any quantity less than 5,000 maunds without being liable for the rent of an entire golah which was accorded to them during the year. Mr. Maclean's explanation, which is given at length in the report, appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to account in great measure for the late falling off in bonding. There is also reason to believe that the expansion of the railway system, by enabling dealers to forward salt to the interior at all times, has had something to do with the decline.

12. The question of improving the salt protective establishments in Behar has been under discussion for a considerable period. A report on the subject was received from the Board during the past year, and orders have now been issued for the preparation of a final scheme for establishing an effective control over private manufactories and refineries, the rules in force in the North-Western Provinces being adopted as far as suitable. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that there will be no delay in submitting the scheme, and that it will be possible to dispose of this long-pending matter without further loss of time.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of August 1879.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of August 1879 aggregated maunds 92,075 as compared with maunds 1,04,543 carried during the corresponding period of 1878, and maunds 97,840 carried during the previous month, showing a decrease of maunds 12,468 in the one case and of maunds 5,765 in the other. This falling off in the traffic is due to the extraordinary inundation in the district during the past and previous months, which not only damaged the line in several places but also cut off communication between the stations and surrounding districts and necessitated the suspension of through booking of goods with other railways from the 18th July to the 6th September 1879.

INCREASES.

Hides and horns	1,568	Notwithstanding disadvantages under which traffic has been worked during the month owing to the flood and its results, there is still a favorable increase in these staples.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1° or 1½° lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

1. Imperial post offices generally (as per list in the Indian Postal Guide), with such exceptions as may be ordered by the Director-General of the Post Office from time to time, shall be authorized to issue and pay money orders, and shall be open for that purpose between the hours of 12 noon and 5 P.M., on every day except Sundays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, the Queen's birthday, and Good Friday.

* The post office at which the money order is to be made payable will generally be the same as the post office mentioned in the payee's address, but the remitter may name a different office of payment if he so desires.
† The district in which a post office is situated will be found immediately following the name of the office in the list of post offices in the Postal Guide. If the name of the office of payment mentioned by the applicant is the same as, or similar to, the name of any other post office, the addition of the name of the district by the applicant is compulsory. In other cases the post office is allowed to fill in the name of the district when omitted by the applicant.

should be written on one of the printed forms supplied (gratis) by the post office for that purpose. A diagram of the form is given on the margin.

3. The name of only one person may be entered in the application as payee, and the name of only one person as remitter, except in the case of firms or corporations, when the usual designation must be given.

4. All the entries to be made in the application (as indicated in the form) must be legibly written:

and the name and address of the payee must also be entered with such completeness as shall secure identification and avoid risk of wrong delivery. The occupation, rank, trade, or profession of the payee, and any other particular calculated to help in identifying him, should be added. The post office shall not be responsible for any wrong delivery or payment resulting from, or facilitated by, indistinctness, inaccuracy or incompleteness of name or address, or any other defect in the application. The entries in an application may be made by the remitter or any one employed on his behalf.

5. The application may be presented ready written at the post office or it may be written at the post office. Where other facilities for getting applications written do not exist, the post office officials will ordinarily be able to write an application on behalf of a remitter who appears in person at the post office, or sends an intelligent messenger to the post office to give the necessary particulars.

6. Applications for money orders must be presented at the post office window. The remitter or his messenger, on presenting the application duly prepared together with the required amount (being the value of the money order and the commission chargeable thereon), shall receive a receipt bearing the dated stamp of the post office and the signature of the postal official who receives the money. The receipt shall contain particulars of the money order to be delivered to the payee and of his address; and the remitter should examine the receipt with the view of seeing that the particulars have been correctly entered. Any error or omission should be pointed out at once by the remitter to the post office: and if he omits to do so, the responsibility of any mistake will rest with him.

7. The remitter shall have nothing to do with the transmission of the money order, this work being done entirely by the post office, but in due course he should expect to receive through the post office an acknowledgment signed by the payee. And if any unreasonable delay should occur in the receipt of this acknowledgment, he should represent the matter to the post office. On receiving the acknowledgment, the remitter should examine it to see that the particulars entered therein are correct, and that the signature is that of the payee, any observed defect or discrepancy being at once reported to the post office.

8. A money order shall be delivered by the post office of the post town named in the address given by the remitter, and if necessary, it shall be re-directed to a revised address within the limits of British India; but no such re-direction shall affect the office of payment as originally named by the remitter. A money order delivered by the post office to the payee shall be accompanied by a receipt and an acknowledgment, both of which must be signed by him on taking delivery of the money order. The acknowledgment so signed shall be forwarded by the post office to the remitter.

9. On every money order there shall be entered the post office of payment mentioned by the remitter in his application, as well as the head office thereof (if the office mentioned by the remitter be a sub or branch office): and an order bearing the names of two post offices (sub or branch and head) as above may be presented for payment at either of them.

10. A money order is not transferable by endorsement: it must be signed by the payee named therein: and having been so signed, it may be presented for payment by the payee or any other legitimate holder. It should be presented at the post office of payment on as early a day as possible after receipt, delay in presentation being liable (in the case of small offices of payment) to necessitate the return of the funds originally provided for payment and to involve delay in the obtainment of a fresh supply of funds. After the close of the month following the month of the date of the money order, it shall lapse: a lapsed order shall, however, be payable within two months from the date of its lapsing, if postage stamps equal in value to a second commission be affixed to the back of it. After the expiration of two months from the date of lapsing, the amount of the money order shall be forfeited. Thus an unrepresented money order bearing any date in June shall lapse at the close of July and shall be forfeited at the close of September.

11. As an exception to the preceding rule, the signature of the payee shall be dispensed with when the payee cannot write and attends personally at the post office to make his mark in presence of a witness who knows him and is known to the post office.

12. A money order can be paid only at the office or offices of payment mentioned thereon, and if a payee desires to receive payment elsewhere, he should sign the order and send it to the Head Office of payment named thereon, with an application for the issue to him of a new order payable to himself or any one else named by him at such office as he may specify. A new order will thereupon be issued in accordance with his instructions, the amount of a second commission on the original order being deducted from the amount of the new order. The post office which receives the letter of application and issues the new order will send a receipt direct by post to the applicant. Any legitimate holder of a money order duly signed by the payee may make the application herein referred to.

13. A money order which cannot be delivered within the limits of British India shall be forwarded by the post office free of charge to the remitter.

14. A person to whom a money order issued on his own application has been returned by the post office as undeliverable may make application for a new order in the manner described in paragraph 12 above, and no deduction for second commission will be made in this case; but in attestation of his being the remitter, he must attach to his letter of application the receipt granted to him on his original application, or (if he has lost it) a duplicate obtained from the post office to which the original application was made.

15. If a money order is lost, application for a duplicate may be made by the payee to the office of payment or its head office, accompanied by a fee in cash equal to a second commission. It must be made in writing, and the post office shall require the applicant to furnish such particulars or evidence as may be deemed necessary to establish the claim. Such an application, if the office of payment be a sub or branch office, shall be submitted for orders to its head office. Second duplicates shall in no case be granted. The remitter of an undeliverable money order may also make the application herein referred to, but he must attach to his application the original receipt or a duplicate thereof as provided in the preceding paragraph. A duplicate order shall bear the same date as the original, the dates of lapse and forfeiture being consequently the same. Discretionary authority shall be vested in offices of payment to stop payment of an order represented to have been lost pending the presentation of a formal application by the payee for a duplicate.

16. The post office reserves the right of paying a money order to the bearer thereof, and shall not be responsible for the genuineness of the signature professing to be that of the payee, or for the legitimacy of the possession of the person presenting the order. The payee of a money order should, therefore, attend to its custody prior to presentation. After once making payment of a money order, by whomsoever presented, the post office shall not be liable to any further claim.

17. The following conditions shall be applicable to money orders granted by the post office, viz.—

- (1) The value of a money order shall not exceed Rs. 150, and shall not include the fraction of an anna.
- (2) The same remitter shall not be allowed to obtain in one day more than four money orders payable to the same person, except under special permission conveyed to the issuing office by the Compiler of Post Office Accounts, Calcutta.
- (3) The grant of money orders may be refused by any post office acting under special orders, owing to an unusual condition of the exchange market, an exceptional state of treasury balances, or any other special cause.
- (4) The commission charged on the issue of money orders shall be as follows :—

- (5) The second commission payable on lapsed orders, &c., shall be the same amount as a first commission according to the preceding scale.

by the applicant himself, or by some friend or agent on his behalf, it being undesirable to allow the officials of the post office to write such applications, except in cases of special necessity. The amount of the foreign money order (whatever be the foreign country of destination) must be stated by the applicant in the appropriate place in British (sterling) money. If the foreign country of destination has a different currency, the sterling amount will be converted by it into the local currency for the purpose of payment. The amount to be paid in India for the money order (including the commission) will be entered by every head post office on presentation of an application in which the value of the desired order has been stated in sterling money, and the applicant can then pay the amount indicated, obtaining a receipt on which further instructions will be found.

20. If the post office at which an application for a foreign money order is presented be a sub or branch office, it will be necessary for it to forward the application to its head office for examination, and in order to ensure the correct calculation of the amount due. On return from the head office the application will be delivered to the applicant, who may then present it accompanied by the required amount.

21. In preparing an application for a foreign money order, the name of the payee or the person to whom the money order is made payable should include the surname and at least the initial letter of one christian name. If the payee be a firm or company, the name of the firm or company will suffice. The address of the payee should be full and precise, as on it depends the determination of the particular money order office in the foreign country at which the money order is made payable. The same instructions apply as respects the name of the remitter, and if the remitter be a native of India, his tribe or caste and his father's name should also be given.

22. It will be necessary for the remitter of a foreign money order to write to the payee informing him of his (the remitter's) name as entered in the application. The payee will receive the money order direct from the head money order office of the country of payment.

23. The remitter shall receive from the Presidency post office, Bombay, an intimation that the money order has been communicated to the foreign country of payment. The remitter should retain in his possession this intimation, and also the receipt given to him for the amount paid by him, in case occasion should arise for making inquiry regarding the money order.

24. Foreign money orders shall be granted on the countries noted on the margin and on any other countries which may from time to time be added to this list. The list will be found in the Postal Guide.

United Kingdom.
Canada
Germany.
Belgium.
Luxembourg.

Helig land.
Netherlands.
Switzerland.
Denmark.
Italy.

25. For the purpose of calculating the Indian equivalent of the amount of a foreign money order and the commission chargeable thereon, all head post offices shall be supplied with schedules drawn out at different rates of exchange, and shall receive orders from time to time as to the particular schedule to be used in such calculations. Copies of the schedules can be seen at any head post office or in the Postal Guide.

26. The following conditions shall be applicable to foreign money orders :—

- (1) The amount of a foreign money order shall not exceed £10 or contain the fraction of a penny.
- (2) The same remitter shall not be allowed to obtain in one day more than four money orders payable to the same person except under special permission conveyed to the issuing office by the Compiler of Post Office Accounts.

- (3) The grant of foreign money orders may be refused by any post office acting under special order owing to an unusual condition of the foreign exchange market, an exceptional state of treasury balances, or any other special cause.

27. The rates of commission are as follow :—

Exceeding £2 and not exceeding £5	...	...	1	0
Exceeding £5 and not exceeding £7	...	...	1	8
Exceeding £7 and not exceeding £10	..	...	2	0

These rates of commission are doubled in the case of money orders payable in Canada.

28. If the remitter of a foreign money order desires any of the services noted on the margin or has any complaint to make with regard to the money order remitted by him, he should address the deputy postmaster of Bombay enclosing the receipt granted to him by the office of issue or the intimation received by him from the office in Bombay. The Bombay post office will communicate with the foreign money order office concerned and intimate the result. In the case of the cancellation of an order after reference to the foreign country of payment, the amount to be refunded will be the value of the order, but not the commission.

29. If a money order is returned by the foreign country of payment as undeliverable to the office in Bombay, the value of the money order, but not the commission, will be refunded to the remitter.

30. No second commission will be charged in India for any of the services mentioned in the two preceding paragraphs.

31. Foreign money orders coming from places abroad will be converted in Bombay into ordinary inland money orders, the value in sterling money of the original order being entered in Indian currency according to the schedule of exchange in force at the time (see Rule 25).

32. The Indian inland money orders so granted in discharge of orders from foreign countries shall bear the dates of actual preparation in the head office of payment, and shall be governed in all respects by the rules appertaining to ordinary inland money orders, e. g., in respect of payment, lapse, forfeiture, and obtainment of duplicates or new orders. The second commission chargeable for the two last-mentioned services (viz. duplicates and new orders) shall be the same as the second commission which would be chargeable for similar services in respect of an inland money order of like value.

FROM

THE AUDITORS OF THE ACCOUNTS OF THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATION FOR THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA,

To

THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA.

GENTLEMEN,

WE have the honor to inform you that we have audited the cash and store accounts of the Corporation of Calcutta for the year 1878 and have found them to be correct.

2. The printed accounts of the several funds and loan accounts have been prepared in the forms which were introduced in 1877, and show the actual receipts and payments compared with the budget figures of the year and subsequent sanctions, bringing out the excesses or deficiencies in separate columns against every detailed heading. The balance of each account is stated also, as in 1877, so as to show in what proportions it is held in cash and stores and recoverable advances.

3. General Fund.—The general results of the year's operations for this fund are shewn in the two memoranda given below:—

* This includes Rs. 53,835-11-3 invested in Government securities. † This includes Rs. 54,373-1-2 repayable to the Bank of Bengal.

4. The figures which are shown in these statements as the estimated revenue and expenditure of the year differ, in regard to both receipts and charges, from the totals of the budget for 1878 as sanctioned by the Commissioners. The differences are as follows, and will be found explained in greater detail at pages 20 and 21 of the printed account:—

	Budget figures.	Revised figures.	Excess in budget.
Receipts	24,83,634	21,21,922	3,61,712
Expenditure	25,80,508	23,24,241	2,56,267

They are due to the following causes. An entry of Rs. 89,210 was unnecessarily made on both sides of the budget of the General Fund, in anticipation of the consolidation of the Government loans; as a contribution on account of the proportion of interest payable to the Government from the water-rate account. And, as in 1877 (see paragraph 8 of our report for that year), credit was taken in the budget as revenue for the value of stores issued to other departments and for advances recovered, to an amount in the aggregate of Rs. 2,72,502, while, on the other hand, advances to be repaid to other funds, to the amount of Rs. 1,67,057, were estimated as expenditure.

5. Receipts.—The deficiency in the revenue of Rs. 1,84,840 occurs under the following headings:—

	Rs.
House-rate	1,49,277
Hackery carriage fees	23,328
Notice of demand and warrant fees	10,783
Removal of business refuse	10,381
De-watering and filling up tanks	6,782
Night-soil assessment bills	68,027

and there are small excesses over the estimate under other headings forming a set-off against these figures.

6. We have to repeat the remarks which we made last year on the following points. The collections of the Dhurrumtollah Market still include the taxes realized from the tenants, which are incorrectly shown as market receipts, and the headings Tank filling receipts and House Drainage fees include many items which are not items of revenue. The register of lands and immoveable property, and of rents realizable from surplus lands, which were directed to be opened on our recommendation in 1876, have not been produced to us, and we have therefore been unable to trace in them the sales of land for which credit appears in the accounts of the year.

7. Expenditure.—The falling-off in the expenditure as compared with the estimates is due, as in 1877, to the liabilities of the year not having been fully met. We presume that the budget of 1878 included provision for the outstanding liabilities of the former year. In the following cases, however, the estimated figures have been exceeded, and subsequent sanctions have not been produced to us to cover the excess:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Conservancy and road establishment	190	3	0
Store Department ditto	44	5	9
Proportion of Collector's establishment for collecting miscellaneous bills	875	10	5
Repair of office	44	4	5
Hackery tickets	120	2	0
Hackery carriage tickets and other charges	659	8	0
Crushing machine	40	15	10
Repairs of roads	37,914	14	8
Purchase of water carts	1,478	13	1
Repair of engine of drainage pumping station	743	13	2
New boiler	89	12	0
House drainage establishment	1,205	15	5
Repair of railway locomotives and wagons	498	15	2
Night-soil out-door establishment	1,774	10	2
Profit and loss	323	15	2
New machinery and boiler for Entally	114	6	6

8. The explanatory foot-note at page 3 of the printed accounts will show that the amount which, under section 337 of the Act, has to be set aside annually on account of interest on the debenture loans in anticipation of payment to debenture-holders, was not so set aside during 1878.

No charge was made during the year against revenue on account of the contribution to the Debenture Loan Sinking Fund under section 337 of the Act, and therefore the investment which is prescribed by the law was not made. The amount due on this account on the 31st December was Rs. 1,16,083-5-4, made up as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
* From Genl. Fund	5,008	10	8	1,10,000 0 0 on old loans,
" " Water-rate Fund	416	10	8	6,083 5 4* on loan of 1878.
	1,16,083	5	4

The Accountant-General duly brought to notice the non-receipt of securities which should have been forwarded to him on account of the old loans, and he has since received them; but we understand that he has received no replies to his enquiries whether fresh additions have been made to the debenture loans in the course of the year 1878.

9. We observe also that the following sums, which are shown to have been paid to the Accountant-General, Bengal, on behalf of the Trustees of the Municipal Loan Sinking Fund on the dates stated, have not been credited in the Trustees' accounts for the year:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Paid on the 29th June 1878	18,478	14	8	Contribution towards Drainage Loan Sinking Fund.
	951	5	5	Ditto Office Loan do.
	4,102	8	0	Ditto W. S. Extension do.
	54,986	12	1

Interest has thus been lost to the Sinking Fund on Rs. 23,532-12-1, which remained uninvested for more than six months.

10. The expenditure shown under the heads House Drainage and Tank filling includes, as it did in 1877, amounts which are recoverable from contractors or the public. We repeat our remarks that the check over the realization of these advances is not satisfactory.

11. Of the numerous items of expenditure which were incurred during the year without the sanction of the Commissioners in meeting, the Town Council have sanctioned all but the following charges, which, we observe, they have declined to sanction :—

Cost of an iron latrine	Rs. 1,200
Conveyance allowance to the assistant assessor	52

In anticipation of the proceedings of the Town Council being approved by the Commissioners in meeting, we note these charges as having been disallowed, having passed the others in audit.

12. We observe also that the Town Council, in sanctioning the arrangements made by the Chairman under which leave was granted to a clerk in the Engineer's office on half pay, and a substitute appointed on the other half, have expressed their opinion that such arrangements can be made by the executive. We beg accordingly to call your attention to section 36 of Act IV of 1876, which provides that "the Chairman may, with the sanction of the Commissioners in meeting other than an ordinary meeting, pay out of the Municipal Fund such allowances to the said persons respectively, or in case of absence on leave such portion thereof as he shall think reasonable, provided that the allowances of the offices filled by the said persons shall have been sanctioned in meeting other than an ordinary meeting."

The power to sanction allowances to acting incumbents, thus expressly reserved by the law to the Commissioners in meeting, cannot be delegated to any executive officer with reference to section 53 of the Act, which provides that neither the Chairman nor the Vice-Chairman shall exercise any of the powers reserved by the law for the Commissioners in meeting.

13. Water-rate Account.—We subjoin a summary of the transactions for the year of the water-rate account in the forms given at paragraph 3.

14. The payment which was made to the Accountant-General on the 29th June, as noticed at paragraph 6, on account of the contribution to the Municipal Loan Sinking Fund, included a sum of Rs. 4,102-8-0 from water-rate revenue which had not yet appeared in the Trustees' account on the 31st December.

15. The following charge has been disallowed by the Town Council and is noted accordingly :—

Cost of three street bathing lamps, Rs. 1,060.

16. Lighting-rate Account.—The following are the figures for the lighting-rate account in the forms given at paragraph 3 :—

* Due from Drainage Account.

† Repayable to General Fund.

17. The expenditure incurred during the year under the following headings exceeded the budget figures to the amounts stated, and the excesses have not been covered by subsequent sanctions of the Commissioners:—

	Rs. A. P.
Miscellaneous contingencies	333 8 8
Illumination on the 1st January	74 0 0
Gas Analyst's salary and establishment	12 0 0

18. The charges of the Lighting-rate Fund include this year large sums which have been expended in the purchase of new lamps and lamp-posts and in setting them up, and we observe that provision was made for the first time for such expenditure in the budget of the year.

Hitherto, in accordance with section 192 of the Municipal Act, the Lighting-rate Fund has been debited with only the "current expenses of lighting the streets," while the "expenditure requisite for the purchase, setting up, clearing, and maintenance of lamps, lamp-posts, pipes, and other necessary apparatus" has been made from the General Fund. We are of opinion that the former practice was correct, and that it is contrary to the law to debit to the Lighting-rate Fund the cost of new lamps and lamp-posts which should be paid from the General Fund. We note that the Town Council differ from us in opinion in this matter, and have stated in reply to our objection that they do not consider such charges to be contrary to section 192 of the Municipal Act.

19. We have recorded the same objection, and with a similar result to a charge against the Lighting-rate Fund of the cost of illuminating the municipal buildings on the 1st January 1878, Rs. 485. Such a charge cannot be said to form one of the current expenses of lighting the streets, which are only the charges admissible against this fund.

20. The effect of these transfers of expenditure from the General to the Lighting-rate Fund is to relieve the house-owners of a portion of their legal liability as the expense of the tenants of houses in Calcutta.

21. Drainage Loan Account.—The printed account of the expenditure from the Drainage Loan has been altered this year, so as to show for every sewer which was under construction during the year (besides the year's charges), the entire amount that has been expended upon it since the work was begun. By this means it is possible to compare the sanctioned cost of each work with the actual expenditure on it to the end of 1878. In the following cases the sanctioned cost has been exceeded to the amounts stated:—

DRAINAGE WORKS COMPLETED DURING THE YEAR.

	Rs. A. P.
Rajah Rajbullub's Street	1,679 10 2
Ramkisto Bose's Lane	477 7 4
Bonomally Sircar's Street	1,213 15 3

Stamp on debentures	517 7 0
Night-soil depôts	4,019 14 2
	16,879 6 7

In the following drainage works under construction the estimated cost of the completed work has already been exceeded:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Forriapooker Street	103	5	11
Hurry Mohun Bose's Street	73	7	8
Nilmoney Mitter's do.	1,250	8	2

South Collingah Street, new road	799	9	11
Do. do. do. land	15,301	4	6
	48,970	0	5

22. Of the drainage works on which expenditure was incurred during the year, the Commissioners do not appear to have sanctioned the estimates in 26 cases which were dealt with by the Chairman alone.

The total amount so sanctioned by the Chairman was Rs. 62,634-1-3.

23. Among the items of contingent expenditure met from the Drainage Loan there has been included, we observe, the cost of stamps for the new debentures Rs. 517-7-0, but the charge ought, we think, to be met from the revenue of the year, and we note it accordingly as realizable from the General Fund.

24. Balance Sheet.—The balances on the 31st December of the stores and suspense accounts, as shown in the printed balance sheet, have been analysed and explained in detail with the following exceptions:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
1. Deposit for appeal against assessments	3,058	10	0
2. Road Department recoverable charges	809	5	3
3. Town Hall recoverable charges	1,188	12	0
4. Group drainage recoverable from private parties under section 225 of the Act	383	14	0

Of the amount (Rs. 38,323-7-0) entered as the balance of miscellaneous bills in the hands of the Collector, the detailed list of bills furnished by the Collector includes only Rs. 34,448-13-6.

The difference Rs. 3,874-9-6 represents bills made over by the Collector to other Departments, from whom lists have not been obtained.

25. We have not been shown the Bank's statement which should exhibit the Government promissory notes, which were held by the Bank on the 31st December on behalf of the Comptroller-General and Chairman of the commissioners as Trustees of the Water-supply Loan Sinking Fund.

26. We find also that the balance, which remained at debit of the Trustees of the Municipal Loan Sinking Fund on the municipal ledger, differs from the balance of the account to the 31st December rendered by Trustees, and published in accordance with the law in the Calcutta Gazette of the 18th June last. The difference is explained as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Interest realized by the Trustees during the year and credited in their account, but not brought upon the municipal ledger	69,739	14	3
Paid to the Accountant-General on behalf of the Trustees, but not credited by the Trustees during the year—
On the 29th June 1878	23,532	12	1
On the 31st December 1878	31,454	0	0
	54,986	12	1
Difference short credited in municipal ledger	14,753	2	2

27. The balance of the market loan also on the 31st December is differently stated by the municipality and the Accountant-General as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Municipal ledger balance	11,77,330	2	2
Accountant-General's balance	11,74,984	1	5
Difference	2,346	0	9

The Accountant-General, it is explained, credited the market loan on his books with an amount which was intended by the municipality to be applied to a different purpose.

28. We observe that a payment of Rs. 292-4-0 was made during the year to the Accountant-General in reduction of the amount due to the Government, with a view to the issue of a consolidated loan of an even sum for which application had been made. No authority from the Commissioners for this payment has been produced to us, and as the Government loans have not yet been consolidated, this amount, which is held in a suspense account, should be recovered from the Accountant-General.

29. The separation of the Debenture Loan Sinking Fund from the Sinking Fund maintained for Government loans has not yet been carried out. The balance under the former heading includes at present only the sums contributed from revenue during 1877. We beg to call your special attention to the necessity of making this separation without delay.

30. The balances of the material depôts have been verified this year under the supervision of the Engineer of the Corporation, who took charge of the Store Department on the 31st December. The results have been agreed with the balance on the ledger. The Kotrung stock list has been similarly verified. But the stock lists of the Entally store and the Entally manufactory were not received before the closing of the books, which therefore show only the book balances under those headings. The necessary re-adjustments have been made in 1879, and involve the writing off to profit and loss of Rs. 1,144-13-8 and Rs. 7,978-13-10 respectively, for which the sanction of the Commissioners in meeting will be necessary.

31. We consider it right to point out, in connection with the Entally stock list, that it includes a quantity of tramway stores and materials valued at Rs. 37,445-15-3, which are now brought upon the store ledger for the first time, having hitherto been included, we presume, in the total of the tramway block, which is still shown in the balance sheet at Rs. 1,47,175-12-8, and of which no details are obtainable. A re-adjustment of these figures will be necessary in 1879.

32. The following amounts are shown in the balance sheet as having been held by the late collectors and the Arrear Department in outstanding rate bills at the close of the year:—

	Rs.	£	P.
Chunder Sekur Bose, collector, house-rate	1,35,995	4	3
Jogendro Nath Mookerjee, late collector, ditto	52,589	10	3
Chunder Sekur Bose, night-soil bills	65,869	1	0
Jogendro Nath Mookerjee, late collector, ditto	68,570	3	6
Superintendent, Arrear Collection Department, house-rate	16,629	15	0
Ditto ditto night-soil bills	14,681	2	0
WATER-RATE.
Chunder Sekur Bose	54,479	12	3
Jogendro Nath Mookerjee, late collector	36,302	15	3
Superintendent, Arrear Collection Department	11,880	4	0
LIGHTING-RATE.
Chunder Sekur Bose	30,958	8	9
Jogendro Nath Mookerjee, late collector	19,227	12	0
Superintendent, Arrear Collection Department	5,868	2	3
POLICE-RATE.
Chunder Sekur Bose	34,924	9	0
Jogendro Nath Mookerjee, late collector	21,823	0	6
Superintendent, Arrear Collection Department	6,672	0	0

Stock of these bills has not been taken, nor have detailed lists of them been produced to us. The amounts stated above agree with sums which are shown to be outstanding in statements prepared in the late collector's and the Arrear Department. These give, but only in lump sums, the bills received, collected, and outstanding. We observe that, as regards the late collector's department, all the statements are signed by Baboo Chunder Sekur Bose, whereas a large portion of the balance is held against Baboo Jogendro Nath Mookerjee.

33. We have further to remark, with reference to these outstandings, that the year's demand on account of the several rates as originally certified by the assessor of the Corporation was reduced during the year by an amount of Rs. 13,616-14-6 in the aggregate on reports from the collector (who had been debited with the full amount in every case) that the figures were incorrect. The revised figures were subsequently accepted by the assessor, and the collector's liability reduced accordingly.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT DURING THE YEAR 1878-79.

REGISTRATION.

Calcutta, the 13th October 1879.

RESOLUTION.

The Report on the Administration of the Registration Department during the year 1878-79.

Read again—

The Report for the previous year, with the orders of the Government passed thereon.

The results of the working of the Registration Department during the past year were eminently satisfactory. Notwithstanding the abolition of fourteen offices, and the introduction of an enhanced fee table, there was an increase of 48,882 in the total number of registrations; while the financial result was a net revenue of Rs. 3,79,531, as compared with Rs. 2,06,881 in the previous year and Rs. 1,36,714 in 1876-77. In no previous year except 1877-78 did the net surplus approach even one-half that of the past year.

2. The following statement exhibits the leading statistical data connected with registration during the past fourteen years:—

4. It appears from this table that there was an increase of 11·8 per cent. in registrations affecting immoveable property, while there was a decrease of 2 per cent. in the registration of documents not relating to immoveable property. In compulsory registration the increase was 11·9, and in optional registration 4·9 per cent. The total increase compared with the previous year was 8·8 per cent. There was an increase in the registrations of each class of document relating to immoveable property, except leases for one year and less, and miscellaneous documents; in the registrations of documents of which registration is compulsory, which comprise all the most important classes of deeds, there was an increase under every head. In ordinary agricultural leases there was an increase of 13 per cent. The districts which contributed most to the general increase in registration are Durbhunga, Shahabad, 24-Pergunnahs, Chittagong, Midnapore, Sonthal Pergunnahs, Tipperah, Nuddea, Noakholly, and Burdwan; while the only districts that show any decrease as compared with the preceding year are Chumparun, Maldah, Mongliyr, Bogra, and Singbhoom. The total decrease in the last-named five districts was 23,118, while the total increase in the remaining districts was 72,000. In each of the ten districts Jessore (94,660), 24-Pergunnahs (42,581), Backergunge (39,827), Burdwan (28,193), Durbhunga (28,062), Chittagong (26,943), Nuddea (25,438), Midnapore (24,986), Furreedpore (21,703), and Noakholly (20,284), more than 20,000 deeds were registered. The only district that showed any very marked falling off was Chumparun; and the decrease there was really nothing more than the necessary result of the abnormal increase in the two previous years in consequence of the ryots refusing to sow indigo unless their deeds were registered. The falling off of 20,285 registrations in Chumparun was compensated for by an equally abnormal increase of 20,419 registrations in Durbhunga, due to the presentation of an enormous number of agricultural leases from the Durbhunga Raj; so that the net increase of 48,882 registrations represents fairly the actual progress of registration in the past year. In Shahabad and Cuttack there were special causes for the increase of registration that took place; but the operations of those districts are not sufficiently numerous to materially affect the gross returns. The different provinces under this Government contributed to the total operations of the department in the following proportion:—Bengal Proper, 75·8; Behar, 19·8; Chota Nagpore, 2·2; and Orissa, 2·2 per cent.

5. The total number of perpetual leases registered during the past year was 119,015, a higher number than in any previous year, the registrations of 1877-78 being 108,678; of 1876-77, 102,747; and of 1875-76, 109,399. The districts that registered the greatest number of perpetual leases are—Jessore (32,805), Backergunge (17,969), Chittagong (15,501), Furreedpore (11,015), 24-Pergunnahs (7,732), Noakholly (4,851), and Nuddea (4,834). Besides these there are only four districts in which more than two thousand perpetual leases were registered—Burdwan (3,058), Midnapore (2,852), Pubna (2,533), and Bankoora (2,386.) The eleven districts just named are the same in which the registrations of perpetual leases were highest in 1877-78. In each of these districts except Midnapore there was an increase in the number of registrations, but the fluctuations were not sufficiently great to require explanation. In the remaining 33 districts, the number of perpetual leases registered annually is very small, but the returns show that there was an increase in 21 districts, against a falling off in 12 districts. In Manbhoom, the number of perpetual leases registered rose from 891 to 1,115, the increase being due to the grant in perpetuity of a large number of clearing leases of jungle lands. The abnormal increase in the number of perpetual leases in the Maldah district has ceased, and the number of registrations is now approximately the same as in 1875-76. The attempt made by several registrars to explain the increase in the number of perpetual leases by the high prices of food and the scarcity prevailing during the past year does not commend itself to the Lieutenant-Governor. There was a falling off in the number of perpetual leases registered in seven out of the twelve Behar districts.

6. The number of term leases registered was 141,805, against 125,211 in 1877-78 and 95,616 in 1876-77. More than half the increase in 1877-78 was due to the operations of indigo-planters in the Chumparun district, and the number of term leases in that district fell in the past year from 24,767 to 5,506.

This fall was, however, far more than compensated for by the increase of 21,186 in the number of agricultural leases granted by the Durbhunga Raj, and by the general increase in 28 districts against a decrease in only 15 districts. The increase in the number of registrations of term leases in Behar and Orissa is very satisfactory. In seven out of the twelve districts in Behar there was an increase, and excluding the abnormal registrations in Durbhunga and Chumparun, there was a total increase of 5,587 over the returns of the previous year. In Shahabad alone there was an advance of 3,349 registrations, or 198 per cent. on the number in the preceding year, the increase being mainly due to the grant of leases by indigo-planters. The registrations in Orissa were 4,315, against 1,172 in 1877-78. Next to Durbhunga, the district in which the greatest number of terminable agricultural leases was registered was Mymensingh, where there were 12,771 registrations, against 11,571 in the previous year. There is no doubt that the great majority of agricultural leases are not formally reduced to writing, and both the zemindar and the ryot are often averse to the execution of a lease, the former as it restricts his power of enhancing the rent, and the latter, lest it should bar his claim to a right of occupancy. The Lieutenant-Governor approves the proposal of the Inspector-General to issue for gratuitous distribution a broad sheet in the vernacular setting forth the provisions of the Stamp and Registration Acts regarding agricultural leases. The request made in paragraph 7 of the resolution on the report for 1877-78, that detailed information might be given as to the proportion of leases registered to counterparts, appears to have been overlooked. The last column of Statement No. IX only shows the number of kabuliyats registered simultaneously with pottahs. The information asked for would be interesting, and should be given in future reports. The Lieutenant-Governor will also be glad to receive in future reports information as to the character of the tenures transferred by sale or mortgage and the status of the parties to the sales. The form of statement given in the appendix is not, however, well suited to Bengal, and the Inspector-General should submit a revised form for approval.

8. There was a slight falling off in the registration of wills, the number registered being 1,849, as compared with 1,954 in 1877-78 and 1,681 in 1876-77. In the other minor operations of the Department there was a satisfactory increase. The number of authorities to adopt was 47, against 35 in the previous year; and the number of applications for search and copies of documents was 17,733, against 16,575 in 1877-78 and 13,362 in 1876-77.

9. Registration was refused in 2,560 cases, against 2,222 in 1877-78; and the Inspector-General reports that appeals against orders refusing registration were made to district registrars in 176 cases. Apparently under the term

'appeals' Mr. Bourdillon has included applications made to the registrar under section 73 of the Act, which are not really appeals, as the sub-registrar has under section 35 no option but to refuse registration when any of the persons by whom the document purports to be executed deny its execution. The reasons given by the Inspector-General in paragraph 16 of his report would be applicable against any proposal to transfer to special sub-registrars the strictly appellate powers of the registrar under section 72 of the Act; but they would not apparently apply to a proposal to grant to special sub-registrars under section 7 the power of hearing applications under section 73. The question for determination in these cases is one of fact only, and the special sub-registrar should, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, be competent to decide it, especially as, if he refused registration, there would be an appeal to the civil court, while, if he directed registration, his decision would not bar the objecting party from denying the validity of the document in any subsequent suit. In very few districts, however, is the number of applications under section 73 sufficiently large to render it desirable that they should be heard by special sub-registrars. As the question is one on which there appears to be considerable difference of opinion between many of the district registrars and the Inspector-General, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that any application from a district registrar to depute his appellate powers to a special or sudder sub-registrar may be submitted to Government for orders. The report called for from the Registrar of Pubna regarding the deeds of gift by which female children are made over to prostitutes should be submitted to Government, and it should be stated whether a prosecution under the Penal Code was instituted in any case.

10. The number of registered documents ascertained to have been discredited and rejected by civil courts during the past year was only 9 as compared with 25 in the previous year. Under the High Court's circular No. 6, dated the 3rd March 1877, which was issued after communication with Government judicial officers are directed to inform the Registration Department in only those cases in which registered documents have been discredited, and where there is also a strong prima facie case indicating the propriety of a prosecution. In cases, however, where a prosecution may be inexpedient, the Inspector-General would often desire to hold a departmental enquiry, and the High Court will therefore, as requested by Mr. Bourdillon, be moved to order that a brief notice of the facts may be given to the district registrar whenever a registered document is discredited. The prosecutions under the Registration Act instituted during the year were 76 against 67 in 1877-78 and 38 in 1876-77, the increase being attributed to more frequent and careful investigation in cases in which registration was refused. Out of 121 persons tried, 83 were convicted, 70 being punished with imprisonment, and 13 with fine.

11. The following statement shows the actual cash receipts and expenditure of the Department for the past five years:—

		Receipts.	Expenditure	Surplus.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1874-75	...	5,52,325	3,86,953	1,65,372
1875-76	...	5,56,505	4,17,402	1,39,103
1876-77	..	5,66,882	4,30,168	1,36,714
1877-78	...	6,64,236	4,57,355	2,06,188
1878-79	...	8,70,497	4,90,966	3,79,531

To the departmental cash expenditure of Rs. 4,90,966 must be added Rs. 57,654 on account of stationery and printing, and Rs. 8,571 for Public Works charges, thus reducing the surplus, after the deduction of book debits, to Rs. 3,13,306. The charge for stationery is necessarily very high, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the Inspector-General proposes to effect a considerable reduction by the adoption of a cheaper kind of paper for some of the departmental books and forms. Apart from such measures as this, the expenditure on account of paper and printing must be expected to increase with the expansion of registration. Out of the total departmental expenditure of Rs. 4,90,966, the percentage paid to registering officers amounted to Rs. 2,65,924 as against Rs. 2,50,127 in 1877-78. Owing, however, to the adoption of revised rates of remuneration for special and rural sub-registrars, and the closing of several rural offices, the charge on this account was only 30·5 per cent. of the gross receipts as compared with 37·6 per cent. in the previous year, the actual increase being far more than accounted for by the increase in the amount of fees realized. The abolition of rural offices has in some cases necessitated an increase in the establishment of the nearest ex-officio officer, and this fact explains the increase under the head of permanent establishment in the mofussil.

12. In pursuance of the policy of closing small rural offices and of substituting ex-officio sub-registrars for special and rural officers at district and sub-divisional head-quarters, two district offices and fifteen rural offices were closed during the year, the work being made over to a Deputy Magistrate when the office was at the district head-quarters, and to the sub-divisional officer in the other cases. Ten small rural offices, six of which were in the Burdwan district, were abolished, and it is satisfactory to find that, notwithstanding the decrease in the number of offices, there was an increase in registration; while owing to the heavy rates of commission at the smaller offices having ceased, the surplus revenue was larger than in any previous year. The total number of offices on the 31st March 1879 was 295, as compared with 309 on the same date in 1878. Since the close of the year two more special sub-registrarships and four rural offices have been closed.

13. Although several rural sub-registrars were dismissed or suspended for misconduct in connection with their official duties, their actual work, as well as that of the other special officers of the Department, is reported to have been good during the past year. Sir Steuart Bayley, however, regrets to find that several of the ex-officio sub-registrars are mentioned unfavourably. The Lieutenant-Governor can scarcely believe that any district officer would knowingly place the least effective Deputy Magistrate at head-quarters in charge of the sub-registry office, or that he would, if the matter were properly represented to him, insist on giving the work to the treasury officer who cannot possibly inspect the rural offices. If any district officer so misunderstood his duty, Mr. Bourdillon should have referred the matter to Government. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that the Inspector-General was on several occasions compelled to refuse his countersignature to the commission bills of ex-officio sub-registrars who showed laxity and indifference in their work. Mr. Bourdillon states that the effect of withholding a part or the whole of the sub-registrar's commission has been unsatisfactory; but it is not clear from the report whether the Inspector-General desires to propose any other measure more calculated to induce ex-officio sub-registrars to give greater attention to the registration of assurances. If so, a special report should be submitted on the subject. The Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to consider any proposals that the Inspector-General may make for placing special officers at the head-quarters of sub-divisions in Jessore or elsewhere where the work connected with registration is so heavy as to make it impossible for the sub-divisional officer to perform it satisfactorily.

14. The extraordinary fluctuations in the receipts of many of the special and rural offices during the past year caused corresponding variations in the income of the officers in charge, rendering their remuneration in many cases wholly out of proportion to their work. It became therefore necessary to consider whether a system of remuneration could not be adopted which should give even the sub-registrar with the smallest amount of work a fair livelihood; while, in the event of the work of his office increasing, his income should rise gradually, without being dependant upon the value of the deeds presented for registration. Such a system for the remuneration of special sub-registrars was devised by the Inspector-General, and was, with a slight modification, submitted for the sanction of the Supreme Government. The scheme came into force at the beginning of the current year, and the Lieutenant-Governor is now awaiting a report on its working during the first six months since its introduction. For rural sub-registrars, the system of remuneration by percentages on the receipts from fees is still in force, but the necessity of constantly revising the percentages according to the variations in the work and receipts of the different offices has caused so much inconvenience both to the sub-registrars and to Government that, if the new system for the payment of special sub-registrars is successful, the Lieutenant-Governor will gladly recommend to the Government of India the adoption of a scheme based on the same principles for the remuneration of rural sub-registrars. In order to guard the records of the Registration Department against destruction by fire, the Lieutenant-Governor directed that all fire-proof safes should, whenever it was possible, be imbedded in masonry, and this order has now been carried out in 32 out of 44 districts. The theft of books from the Gya record-room in January last should have been reported to Government at the time of its occurrence.

15. The operations under the Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act, I (B.C.) of 1876, were but slightly more successful during the past year than in the year 1877-78. The Act was not extended to any fresh district, and the number of officers remained 103—the same number as at the close of the previous year. The following statement shows the number of ceremonies registered in the last three years:—

YEAR.	Number of districts in which the Act was in force at the beginning of the year.	Marriages.	Khula division.	Other divisions.	Total ceremonies.
1876-77	6	2,555	161	608	3,118
1877-78	14	7,891	595	1,404	9,890
1878-79	14	8,161	771	1,705	10,637

Of the 103 offices open at the close of the year, only five registered more than 500 ceremonies, and only six other offices more than 200 ceremonies. As many as 62 offices registered less than 50 ceremonies each, 45 of the 62 offices registering less than 20 ceremonies each. It is, as the Inspector-General states, clear that the Act is not appreciated generally even in the districts to which it has been extended, and the Registrars of Chittagong and Rungpore, where the ceremonies registered were 2,802 and 2,305 respectively, are the only two district officers who report favourably of the working of the Act. The Lieutenant-Governor does not, however, agree with the Inspector-General in his opinion that the Act has been long enough in force to justify Government in declaring it a total failure. Registration under the Act is voluntary, and the Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason why, if care is taken in the selection of persons to be marriage registrars, the Act or its working should be unpopular. The small number of ceremonies registered at Cox's Bazar as compared with the registrations at Puttya and Satkania is no doubt due to the small number of Mahomedans in the neighbourhood of the first named station, compared with the number at Puttya or Satkania.

16. The work of inspection both by the special officers of the Department and by local officers was fairly carried out during the past year, but the Lieutenant-Governor found it necessary to define more strictly the duties of special sub-registrars and sub-divisional officers in this respect. According to the orders of Government of the 5th December last, each rural office must now be inspected once a quarter by the special sub registrar or sub-divisional officer, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the returns of the current year will show that those orders have not been neglected. The remarks of the Inspector-General regarding the special officers of the Department, and the names of the other officers who are favourably mentioned for their work in connection with registration, will be forwarded to the Appointment Department of this office.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE ORISSA DIVISION FOR 1878-79

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS,

Calcutta, the 16th October 1879.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Orissa Division for 1878-79.

Mr. Smith was Commissioner of the Division throughout the year. The report submitted by him is very full and contains copious and interesting extracts from the reports of the district officers.

2. Tours.—The Commissioner was out for over three months altogether at different periods of the year. His presence was required at the beginning of the year in the tracts adjoining the Chilka Lake, where the failure of the crops in the two preceding seasons, and the high prices then ruling, had rendered necessary the opening of relief works on a small scale for the benefit of the people. In the cold weather his tour was confined to the Tributary Mehals. The District and Sub-Divisional Officers also travelled a good deal over their jurisdictions. The late Sub-Divisional Officer of Kendrapara alone failed to give sufficient attention to this duty.

3. Weather and the Crops.—The season was on the whole a good one. For several weeks after May the weather was unusually dry, and fears were entertained for the rice crop, but good and well-distributed rainfall was subsequently obtained, and prospects rapidly improved. There was fortunately no recurrence of floods, such as caused much damage in the previous year. The general outturn of late rice, the staple crop of the division, is reported to have been up to the average. In Cuttack the Collector states that the season was an unusually favourable one for the agriculturist. He estimates the yield of early rice at $14\frac{1}{2}$ annas, of late rice at 14 annas, and of the cold-weather crops at 10 annas. In Balasore the area of cultivation was somewhat contracted in consequence of the drought experienced in the early part of the year, and the crops were injured by unseasonable and stormy weather in November and December. The outturn for the whole district was about $11\frac{1}{2}$ annas. In Pooree the result of the harvest was less favourable than in the other districts. A general failure of the late rice crop appeared imminent at one time in the Khoorda sub-division, but an outturn of 12 annas was eventually obtained.

4. Public health and material condition of the people.—A great deal of sickness prevailed in the division during the year. The delay which occurred in the breaking of the rains, an unusually high range of the temperature throughout the greater part of the year, and the fact that the poorer classes were compelled on account of high prices to consume less nutritive food than in ordinary years, are mentioned by the Commissioner as probable causes of the unhealthiness of the year. In Cuttack there was a considerable increase of mortality, due chiefly to fever and cholera. In Pooree the inhabitants of the forest tracts of Khoorda and the neighbouring Gurjat territory suffered badly from fever. An epidemic of malarious fever broke out in various parts of Balasore at the close of the rains, and lasted through the entire cold season. Three native doctors were specially deputed to the affected localities. It is believed by the people that the absence of the annual inundations contributed to produce the outbreak. A similar cause has been assigned for the prevalence of the disease in Maldah during the past few years. The arrangements made for securing the cleansing of the pilgrims' rest-houses along the Trunk Road are reported to be working satisfactorily. The vaccination establishment in Cuttack performed 34,619 operations against 36,375 in the previous year, and were successful in 98·71 per cent. of the cases against 93·87 per cent. The Lieutenant-Governor quite concurs in the Commissioner's opinion that the time has not arrived for prohibiting inoculation in the district.

5. Of the material condition of the people, the Collector of Balasore remarks—"Whatever change there has occurred in the material condition of the people during the year under report has been in the direction previously indicated; it has consisted in the amelioration of the circumstances of the cultivators and the deterioration of the condition of the non-agricultural classes." The Commissioner also testifies to the improvement which has taken place in the condition of the cultivating classes in recent years. The scarcity which prevailed in the neighbourhood of the Chilka Lake during a portion of the year was judiciously met by small relief works and charitable relief. The total expenditure incurred amounted to Rs. 30,864.

6. Emigration and Immigration.—There is no emigration deserving of the name from the districts of the division. A large number of men annually leave to take service in Calcutta and elsewhere in Bengal, but these constantly return to their homes for the purpose of spending their savings. They form, with the pilgrims to the Temple of Juggernaut and other shrines, the bulk of the passengers carried by the steamers which ply between Calcutta and the Orissa ports. The number of passengers who embarked and landed at Chandbally during the past year was 33,640 and 33,430 respectively, against 27,681 and 30,285 in the previous year. It is reported that from Madras the division receives a steady influx of Telugu labourers, whose numbers appear to be gradually increasing, and who are settling down with their families. Instances of the acquisition of land by Bengalis are not very common in the present day. The maritime commerce of the province is still mostly in the hands of foreigners, but the Ooryas are gradually taking a larger share in it. They are also helping to develop the trade with the Tributary Mehals, where the maintenance of order has led to a large increase of cultivation.

7. Prices of food and labour.—Prices were high everywhere in the division during the year. The Commissioner attributes the rise partly to large exportations to Madras and other ports, and partly to the diminution of the outturn in some places in consequence of heavy rainfall in December. The wages of skilled labour have undergone no material change, but those of unskilled labour are said to be rising, owing to the increased cost of food.

8. Salt manufacture.—Salt manufacture, which is the principal industry of the province, has undergone a most satisfactory revival, much to the advantage of the poorer classes on the saliferous tracts, to whom it affords employment. An increase in the rate of duty on Ganjam salt enabled the Orissa manufacturers to under-sell that salt in the local markets, and they were further benefitted by the Government paying the cost of the protective establishments. The total quantity of salt manufactured was 5,76,644 maunds as compared with 1,52,963 maunds in 1877-78. In Cuttack 27,613 maunds were manufactured against 10,996; in Balasore 1,47,555 maunds against 94,127; and in Pooree 4,01,436 maunds against 47,839. The salt revenue amounted to Rs. 11,59,748, and the sales to 4,41,915 maunds; the figures for the previous year being Rs. 9,37,960 and 3,47,864 maunds respectively.

9. Trade and Commerce.—The value of the trade of the Orissa ports in the last two years is shown in the following statement:—

		1877-78.		1878-79.
		Rs.		Rs.
FALSE POINT	Imports	...	36,23,812	...	19,28,230
	Exports	...	36,74,817	...	28,28,183
	Total	...	72,98,629	...	47,56,413
BALASORE	Imports	...	53,68,743	...	35,82,421
	Exports	...	58,63,579	...	49,24,834
	Total	...	1,12,32,322	...	85,07,255
POOREE	Imports	...	62,629	...	1,30,302
	Exports	...	5,62,894	...	3,95,484
	Total	...	6,25,523	...	5,25,786

The total trade of the past year was thus valued at Rs. 1,37,89,454, as compared with Rs. 1,91,56,474 in 1877-78. In the latter year, however, trade was abnormally active, owing to the large demand for grain in the famine district of Madras, and the returns cannot be fitly compared with those of any other year. The steady development of the trade of these ports, which began in 1869-70, has, as a fact, been maintained in the past year. The Commissioner observes: "In 1869-70 the total value of trade, both in imports and exports, was Rs. 11,92,666; in 1873-74 it had risen to Rs. 58,98,464; and in the year under report it was Rs. 1,37,89,454: in other words, the traffic in 1873-74 was nearly four times that of 1869-70, and that of 1878-79 a little more than twice that of 1873-74. The figures of the intermediate years, notwithstanding the fluctuations revealed, show a steady development, which is full of hope for the future progress of the trade of Orissa."

The chief article of export is rice. In the past year 423 tons of unhusked, and 22,183 tons of husked rice, valued at Rs. 16,156 and Rs. 20,28,970 respectively, were exported from the province. The imports consist mainly of cotton and silk fabrics, metals, spices, gunny-bags, and ghee. In addition to the sea-borne trade, a large traffic is carried on by means of the Chilka Lake and Ganjam road.

10. State of public feeling.—There was no manifestation of strong public feeling on any subject during the year. The high price of food was naturally a subject of complaint everywhere among the labouring classes and people with fixed incomes. The license tax is also said to have excited a good deal of grumbling, but the Commissioner makes only a passing allusion to this subject. The extent to which public feeling was excited by the working of the measure, and the points to which objections were chiefly addressed, should certainly have been discussed in a report which purports to treat of the general administration of the division. Among local topics, which have created some interest and discussion, the most important were the settlement of the Khoorda Estate and the demand for putwaree papers from the zemindars.

11. Public Press.—The division possesses three vernacular newspapers—two published at Balasore and one at Cuttack. They are reported to be fairly well-conducted and generally loyal in tone. As exponents of the feelings and opinions of the people they have no practical value, and their influence is small.

12. Police and Justice.—The returns of cognizable crime show a decrease in the number of cases from 7,640 in 1877 to 7,318. The decrease is observed in all classes of crime, except serious offences against property, which the high prices of the year tended rather to develop. The number of cases actually investigated was 6,060 against 5,290 in 1877, and convictions were obtained in 2,453 cases. Of the 6,484 persons tried, 3,853 were convicted and 2,368 acquitted, the remainder being still under trial at the close of the year. The proportion of convictions to acquittals cannot be deemed satisfactory. The number of false cases, and of cases which the police refused to investigate, shows an improvement. The returns of non-cognizable crime call for no remark.

13. The conduct of the regular police is well spoken of by the district officers. The reduction in the strength of the force carried out in the past year is objected to by the Magistrate of Balasore, but the Commissioner is not satisfied that the difficulties pointed out may not be overcome by proper arrangements, and, in this view, the Lieutenant-Governor concurs with him. The village police in Balasore continue to give satisfaction. The measure taken by the Magistrate of supplying police stations with copies of the settlement records affecting police service tenures is likely to check in great measure alienations of these tenures.

14. In connection with civil justice, the Commissioner notices an increase in the number of Small Cause Court suits instituted in Cuttack. Suits for the recovery of rent have fallen off. A serious disagreement between landlords and tenants in certain pergunnahs of Balasore, which was at one time assuming a threatening aspect, is settling down, and it is hoped that the parties will shortly be reconciled. The ryots are now freely executing kabuliyats and presenting them for registration.

15. Land Revenue.—The total demand of the year was Rs. 18,09,037, and the collections amounted to Rs. 17,62,305. There was no sale for arrears of revenue in Pooree, and one only in Balasore. Four estates were sold in Cuttack, the proprietors who were involved in debt having, it is stated, deliberately allowed the estates to fall into arrears in the hope of realizing a better price at the public sale.

16. The arrangements for completing the settlement of the large Government estate of Khoorda were modified during the year. The cadastral work which had not been taken up by the professional party was transferred to the settlement officer and his establishment, and the operations of the professional party are to be confined to the demarcation of the outer boundary of the estate. The change will result in a considerable saving of expenditure.

17. The registration of proprietary rights has made fair progress, but the number of cases pending is still very large, and an increased establishment has been sanctioned since the close of the year for the purpose of clearing off the work. The large number of revenue-free properties in Orissa, of which 102,977 still remain to be registered, accounts for the delay in completing operations under the Act.

18. Excise.—A considerable decrease in the consumption of country spirit and ganja, accompanied by an increase in the consumption of opium, is observed in the returns. The consumption of country spirits and ganja was doubtless checked by the enhanced cost of these articles, due in the one case to the higher price of rice, and in the other to partial failure of the crop in the producing districts. The total revenue of the year was Rs. 3,78,838, showing an increase of Rs. 74,774 on the average of the five previous years, and of Rs. 16,818 on the receipts of 1877-78. The measures adopted to prevent the smuggling of Gurjat ganja into the regulation districts have not, in the Commissioner's opinion, been quite successful. The Lieutenant-Governor will await a report on the subject from the Board after further experience has been acquired.

19. Stamps.—The revenue from all classes of stamps amounted to Rs. 2,86,931, as compared with Rs. 3,39,103 in the previous year. The decrease occurred chiefly under the head of judicial stamps. Sales of non-judicial stamps show an increase in every district. There was also a slight increase in the receipts from postage stamps.

20. License Tax.—The working of the Act is fully shown in the following statement:—

DISTRICTS.	Population as per last census.	Number of persons assessed.	Demand.	Collections.	Remission.	Balance.	Percentage of assesses to population.	Incidence of the tax per head of assesses.	Percentage of collection on demand.
			Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.		Rs. A. P.
Cuttack	1,494,784	13,732	41,978	33,075	8,907	4,996	91	3 0 10	78 79
Pooree	709,074	7,837	35,922	26,042	10,880	...	97	4 12 1	69 85
Balasore	770,332	9,600	42,563	27,373	15,147	148	135	4 5 11	64 93
Total	3,034,690	30,869	1,20,463	85,390	29,934	5,144	101	3 14 1	71 26

The proportion of remissions to original demand in Pooree and Balasore was not satisfactory. Of the total number of assesses no less than 29,729 or 96 per cent. belonged to the two lowest classes. A large proportion of these persons will benefit by the recent order fixing the limit of assessable earnings at Rs. 250. It is worthy of note, as evidence of the extent to which the lending of money and grain on a small scale is practised in the division, that 5,338 of these assesses have been taxed for business of this nature.

21. Monetary arrangements.—Transactions in currency notes and money orders were naturally influenced by the falling off in trade. A large reduction took place in the total receipts and issues of notes, and in the amount of money-orders cashed. The Commissioner's remarks, in paragraph 62 of the report, on the large imports and exports of silver at Cuttack deserve the attention of the Accountant-General and will be communicated to him.

22. Irrigation.—There are no irrigation works in Pooree, and the third range of the High Level Canal, which lies in Balasore, has not yet been completed. The results of the working of the department in Cuttack during the past two years appear in the following statement:—

YEAR.	Area assessed on application under section 72.	Area assessed on account of the unauthorized irrigation, section 74.	Total assessment.	Collections.	Cost of collection.	Net receipts.	Percentage of cost on assessment.	Percentage of cost on collection.
			Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1877-78	97,261	1,234	1,52,133	1,22,962	27,947	95,965	18 40	22 78
1878-79	100,263	12,958	2,00,932	1,21,304	28,208	93,599	15 74	23 16

The decrease in the receipts was partly due to delay in making collections within the year. Five-year leases have now been taken for 94,636 acres. The increase in the irrigated area within the last two years has been very marked. A cadastral survey of the area is proceeding.

23. Roads and Communications.—A fair amount of the available funds was devoted to village roads in Cuttack. Of the total expenditure on works, Rs. 16,989 were spent on repairs and Rs. 16,734, inclusive of Rs. 7,466 allotted to village roads, on original works. A sum of Rs. 1,504 was also spent on arboriculture. In Balasore the Collector reports that the roads are remarkably good and are improving year after year under the application of road cess funds. Much is still required in Pooree to perfect communications, and it will take some years before any great improvement can be effected.

24. Education —The system of payment-by-results, which was introduced into Pooree during the past year and is now working throughout the division, has led to a large increase in the number of primary schools under inspection. These schools have increased from 4,368 with 51,805 pupils in 1877-78 to 6,111 with 65,393 pupils. The working of the new system has so far been attended with complete success. In higher and middle schools, however, no progress has apparently been made in the past year. The Joint-Inspector, indeed, speaks of the growing deterioration of the middle schools, a result which he considers to be partly due to the fact that, under the system of payment-by-results, the primary schools are engrossing a larger share of the attention of inspecting officers at the expense of other schools. The Lieutenant-Governor is not prepared to accept this explanation, and he will expect the Joint-Inspector himself to supplement largely the efforts of the Deputy Inspectors in supervising the middle schools. The Cuttack (now the Ravenshaw) College was established on a permanent footing during the year by an endowment of Rs. 20,000 received from the Maharajah of Mohurbhunj. The thanks of Government were tendered to the Maharajah for this munificent gift. The first examination of the students of the Medical School of Cuttack for certificates was held in the course of the year, with results very creditable to them. There were 33 students on the roll at the close of the year. It is noted in the report that out of a population of 731 Europeans and Eurasians in the division, only 46 children are under instruction in the public schools.

25. Committees.—The Educational Committees are reported to have given valuable assistance in the supervision of zillah schools and the disposal of current business. Other Committees have also worked satisfactorily.

26. Wards' and Attached Estates.—Pooree has only one Ward's estate, and Balasore one Ward's and one Attached Estate. These Estates are quite unimportant. In Cuttack there are eight Wards' Estates and one Attached Estate. Of the former, the only valuable estate is that of Kanika, which was brought under the management of the Court in December 1864. Over nine lakhs of debt have been cleared off since that period, and the property is now practically solvent. It has a net income of Rs. 72,270 a year.

27. Conduct of zemindars.—Several zemindars of the division are favourably mentioned for their liberality and public spirit. In Balasore Coomar Boikanta Nath Dey, son of Rajah Shamananda Dey, generously defrayed the expenses attending the deputation of one of the native doctors specially employed in the parts of the district affected by the fever epidemic. He has also provided funds for repairing and cleansing the wells along the Grand Trunk Road in his district.

28. The remarks of the Commissioner on his subordinate officers will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,
The 20th October 1879.

JOHN ELIOT,
For Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway during the month of September 1879.

GENERAL REMARKS.

A REFERENCE to the figures in the statement attached will show that there has been an increase under all heads of traffic during the period under review.

The gross weight in all staples carried during the month stands at 2,11,700 maunds, being nearly three times the weight lifted during the corresponding month last year.

Increases.

Ale Mds. 603

This, although an increase over the despatches for September 1878, is only about the average quantity of Commissariat beer sent through since the rains set in.

Food-grain Mds. 17,248

The demand for common descriptions of rice for shipment still continues.

Ginger Mds. 212

Immense stocks of this article are held by growers in the district, but the absence of all demand effectually stops despatches. The increase shown is the result of a slight movement for local consumption.

Gunny bags Mds. 474

The up traffic in gunnies has been considerably in excess of the down during the month, a result which tends to show a decided decline in the hand-bag-making industry of the district, which at one time promised to be of considerable importance.

Jute Mds. 36,853

The total traffic in this staple during the month was 40,896 maunds, which is the greatest weight we have yet carried in any one month. At the present low rate there is no doubt most, if not all, of the jute grown in the vicinity of the line is being despatched by rail.

Piece-goods Mds. 10,793

The traffic during the month under this head has been unusually heavy, and is due to the push that is being made to stock the local markets before the Poojah holidays.

Railway material Mds. 5,078

Material for the tramway continues to go forward in considerable quantities.

Salt Mds. 11,030

With the end of the rains and the closing of the waterway to our stations this staples is again finding its way to the line. At the low rate at which salt is being carried a considerable increase may now be looked forward to.

Sugar Mds. 873

The movement in this staple continues to be purely for local consumption.

Tea Mds. 9,226

The lateness of the season throughout the whole of the Darjeeling district is now beginning to tell. The weight carried during the month is nearly three times that lifted in September 1878.

Tobacco Mds. 13,491

A special through rate of 9 annas per maund from Damer and Kawnia and intermediate stations came into force for this staple on and from 1st of the current month, and the impetus given to despatches by rail is shown by the result.

All other goods Mds. 20,380

This traffic, like that of piece-goods, is being effected by the near approach to the Poojahs. A desire to stock the local markets with all the miscellaneous goods carried under this head has in a great measure helped to the result shown.

H. L. HARRISON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 21st October 1879.—The following revised rules under the Bengal License Act, 1878, for the town of Calcutta, are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. L. HARRISON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal

Revised Rules for the administration of the Bengal License Act in the Town of Calcutta under Section 39 of Act I (B.C) of 1878.

1. Every person carrying on any trade, dealing, industry, or calling, whose annual earnings from such trade, dealing, industry, or calling, amount to Rs. 250 or upwards, must take out and pay for a license under this Act.

2. A person who carries on more than one trade, dealing, industry, or calling is to be taxed, not separately on the profits from each trade, dealing, industry, or calling, but on the collective net profits derived from all such trades, dealings, industries, or callings.

3. When a person or firm carries on two or more trades, dealings, industries, or callings coming under more than one designation in Schedule B of the Act, the assessment will be made with reference to the total profits from all such trades, dealings, industries, or callings, but it is within the discretion of the Chairman of the Commissioners to determine under which particular designation the license will be granted.

4. A person not specially exempted is liable to taxation in the town of Calcutta or in any district in which he may be found carrying on any trade, dealing, industry, or calling, and such person should be assessed in each district upon his profits accruing in that district, it being left to him to claim exemption under section 5 of the Act in the town of Calcutta or in any district if his profits in the town of Calcutta or in any such district are below Rs. 250.

5. A person carrying on a trade, dealing, industry, or calling, in more than one circle in the town of Calcutta should be assessed by each Circle Officer independently with reference to the profits derived from his trade, dealing, industry, or calling in his particular circle; and the Chairman of the Commissioners, after comparing and collecting the returns of the various Circle Officers, will determine the place in which the total and final assessment should be made. This place will usually be that in which the assessee's principal place of business is situated; but the Chairman may order that the place of assessment shall be any other place of business of the assessee if he considers that the convenience of the assessee will be more consulted by this arrangement.

6. In estimating the amount of profits derived from any trade, dealing, industry, or calling, the expenses incurred in carrying on such trade, dealing, industry, or calling, must be excluded; but the amount expended on things not directly connected with it, such as the maintenance of the licensee or his family, must not be excluded, as such amounts form part of the taxable profits of the licensee.

7. Under section 4 of the Act, no person earning his livelihood solely by agriculture, no cultivator of land who does not keep a shop or stall for the sale of his produce, and no person receiving rent in kind who merely disposes of the produce so received as rent, is liable to license tax. All servants receiving fixed wages, or paid partly by wages and partly by commission, whether their duties are such as would ordinarily make them liable under the Act or not, including all mechanics and artizans paid by fixed wages, are exempted from the operation of the Act.

8. Any agriculturist who (besides cultivating land) carries on any trade, dealing, industry, or calling which would, if it formed his sole occupation, subject him to tax, must take out a license with reference to the amount of his earnings from such separate trade, dealing, industry, or calling. Care must be taken in assessing such a person to discriminate between his earnings from his trade or industry and his earnings from his agriculture. Agricultural profits must not on any account be taxed. So, again, no zemindar or rent-receiver is liable to tax in respect of his rents. But, if he carry on the business of a mahajun or money-lender, he should be required to take out a license in respect of his business profits. There will ordinarily be little difficulty in distinguishing between the case of a zemindar, who occasionally makes advances to his tenants with the object of assisting them, and the case of a zemindar who regularly carries on 'mahajuni' for his own profit. The former should on no account be taxed under this Act. The latter must take out a license.

There will ordinarily also be little difficulty in deciding, generally, whether a man's occupation can be described as a 'trade' or 'dealing.' These words are intended to cover all the operations of commerce, large or small.

9. In determining under which class, or which grade of a class of the Schedule B annexed to the Incidence of taxation. Act, a person is liable to be assessed, the Chairman must endeavour so to regulate the incidence of the tax that the fee payable by any person shall not exceed two per cent. upon his annual earnings. The Chairman may make an estimate of a licensee's income from any information which may be available to him, and should generally consider what rate of tax the licensee's apparent circumstances would warrant his imposing. It will be for the licensee to show that the rate of tax proposed is beyond the maximum to which he is liable under the Act.

Table of fees.

10. The following table may serve as a guide in fixing the rate of fees:—

Under Schedule B.

CLASS.					Grade.	Taxable income.	Rate of tax
						Rs.	Rs.
I	...	...	...	...	1	25,000	500
II	...	...	...	...	2	10,000	200
III	...	...	...	...		5,000	100
IV	...	...	...	...		2,500	50
V	...	...	...	...		1,250	25
VI	...	...	...	...		600	12
	...	...	...	...		250	5

Thus, a person whose annual earnings are estimated to be between Rs. 5,000 and Rs. 10,000 should be assessed under class II, unless he falls within the description of persons chargeable under class I, in which class the assesses will be divided into grades and charged with a fee of Rs 500 or Rs. 200, respectively, according as their income is estimated at Rs. 25,000 or under. But any person falling under any of the descriptions in class I may claim to be put in a lower class if the fee charged under class I is more than two per cent. upon his annual earnings.

11. In order to prepare fresh lists of persons chargeable under the Act, the Circle Officer is to proceed to each street in his circle and, after making such enquiries among the respectable inhabitants of the place as may seem necessary, draw up a list showing the name of each person who is prima facie chargeable under the Act in such street according to his trade, dealing, industry, or calling, and who has not been previously assessed. This list is to be submitted to the Chairman of the Commissioners in form A. Circle Officers are required to satisfy themselves of the proper assessment in each case.

12. For the purposes of this Act the town should be divided into circles, which, as a general rule, may be identical with the existing wards: provided that, for the sake of convenience, a ward may be sub-divided into two or more circles; similarly, two or more wards may be united to form a single circle.

13. Each circle will be placed in charge of a Circle Officer, who may be either a Commissioner of the ward, a License Inspector, or an officer especially appointed with the approval of the Chairman of the Commissioners.

The duties of Circle Officers will be confined to the assessment of license fees.

14. The Chairman of the Commissioners will examine the lists and check them by such means as are open to him, making such alterations as he may consider necessary; and the list, when so corrected and revised, will be the list to be published locally under section 15 of the Act. The Circle Officers' assessments should, in any cases of doubt, be tested by personal inquiry.

15. The Chairman of the Commissioners is at liberty to correct at any time any serious errors in assessment which may come to his knowledge; but unless the errors are really serious, it is better for him merely to note the corrections for next year's list, and not to press the licensees to take out a revised license. Generally, it may be said that errors in the classification of licensees of the first five classes should, as a rule, be corrected as soon as discovered. Errors in the last class should, as a rule, be merely noted for correction in next year's list.

16. It will not be necessary to publish the circle lists as a whole at any other place than the Municipal Office. But the parts of the list applicable to each ward may be published in the circle or ward concerned, and at every police-station a complete list must be published for all wards lying within its jurisdiction. With the lists the notification (form B) should invariably be published.

17. The publication of the list and notification should be made by affixing them on some conspicuous part, readily accessible to the public of each ward and police-station.

18. The officer of the license department entrusted with the publication of the list and notification in any ward must be provided with a purwannah, or written order in form C., which should be endorsed with a certificate, to be filled in by the publishing officer, stating the time, place, and manner of publication, and the names and addresses of two persons in whose presence the publication was effected. The certificate should further be attested by the signature of a Commissioner of the ward.

19. The lists to be published will not, of course, be the original lists, but copies of them, bearing the seal of the Corporation, the originals being retained in the office of the Chairman of the Commissioners.

20. The list of persons under section 10 of the Act will be kept at the office of the Chairman of the Commissioners in the English language, and a copy of it must also be made in the vernacular language of the district. The lists to be published under section 15 of the Act will be written in the Bengali language.

21. Whenever a person carries on his trade, dealing, industry, or calling for a portion of the year less than six months, he may receive a remission of one-half of his license fee on his satisfying the Chairman of the Commissioners to that effect.

Remission of a moiety of license fee when trade, &c., carried on for less than six months.

22. When contractors are engaged on works of a temporary nature, e.g. on works which are likely to be completed within a period not exceeding six months, and are not ordinarily engaged in business in the district in which such temporary works are being carried on, the whole of the fee payable in respect of profits arising out of such works shall be remitted on the understanding that any profits made out of such contract has been included in the profits of the head office. A copy of the order remitting the fee should be sent to the Collector of the district in which the head office is situated.

23. All Commissioners of Wards, Circle Officers, and all License Inspectors and Conservancy Overseers shall be deemed to be generally empowered to require any person holding a license to produce and show his license. But the Chairman of the Commissioners may, by an order in writing, generally or especially, empower any other persons to act in this behalf as he may think fit.

By whom production of licenses may be required,

Fees to be paid in one sum.

24. All fees under the Act must be paid in one sum and not by instalments.

25. Every person mentioned in the list published under section 15 of the Act must tender payment of his fee at the Office of the Municipal Commissioners.

Place where payment may be tendered.

26. Whenever the amount of the tax after being realized is remitted or reduced on objection under section 35 of the Act, the license originally issued should be returned to the Chairman at the time the amount refunded is paid. The license should be cancelled, and the fact of cancelment should be noted on the counterfoil. In the case of reduction of the tax a fresh license should be granted for the reduced sum, the amount paid for the cancelled license being treated as a refund, and the cost of the fresh license as a collection.

27. The cancelled licenses should be kept under the custody of the Chairman, and on the first day of every month they should be forwarded to the Superintendent of Stamps for destruction, together with an application for permission to write off the value of the licenses from the account of licenses issued to the Chairman by the Superintendent of Stamps. On receipt of a certificate from the Superintendent of Stamps of the destruction of the licenses, the Board will sanction the amount being written off the accounts.

28. A register should be kept in the following form :—

1. Name and address of licensee to whom refund is granted.
2. Number of license.
3. Class and grade of license.
4. Amount.
5. Date of refund.
6. Date of transmission of license to the Superintendent of Stamps for destruction.
7. Remarks.

29. The amount of refunds granted, and of penalties imposed during the month, should be entered in return T. in the remark column, and at the foot of column 9 the following entries should be made :—

 sioners, if the fee is not paid within 60 days from and after the date of publication of the list under section 13, to issue orders for the recovery of the license fee and penalty, not exceeding thrice the amount of the license fee, from each defaulter, unless for good and sufficient reasons the Chairman sees

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than
Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300
per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400
per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to the delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such resale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No 6.

9.—The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bona fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1877-78, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

19.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1879, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agents of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 60,000 chests of Chests.

Behar	...	...	...	30,000
Benares	...	...	...	30,000
		Total	...	60,000

Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

RESOLUTION ON THE EXCISE ADMINISTRATION REPORT FOR 1878-79.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—EXCISE

Calcutta, the 20th October 1879.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The report of the Board of Revenue on the administration of the Department of Excise in the Lower Provinces for the year 1878-79.

During the year under review the excise law of Bengal has been consolidated by Act VII (B.O.) of 1878, while a new opium law, Act I of 1878, has also been enacted.

New excise laws

These laws remedy some inconveniences in administration that were experienced under the former laws, and augment the discretionary power of the Revenue authorities in the scale of fees for licenses; but make no substantial alteration in the general excise system, which is still, for all practical purposes, the same as was described in the Board's report for 1876-77, though considerable extension has been given during the year to the outstill system.

2. Excise was first made over to the local Government as a branch of Financial Results.—Discrepancies between Board's figures and those of Accountant-General.

its finance in the beginning of the year 1877-78. The income for which the local Government was made responsible was Rs. 64,00,000. In that year, however, the revenue was administered with great care and ability, and the actual receipts of the year were Rs. 68,66,130 as shown in the Board's report, or Rs. 68,67,888 as shown by the Accountant-General. For the year 1878-79 the Bengal Government is responsible for a revenue of Rs. 65,00,000; but in spite of the great augmentation to the revenue in 1877-78, the excise yielded more than the estimated increment of one lakh, and the receipts amounted to Rs. 70,33,939 as shown by the Board's report, or Rs. 70,28,263 as shown by the Accountant-General. The expenditure during the same period has been considerably decreased. The provincial allotment was Rs. 2,92,000, or Rs. 2,89,000 omitting stationery. The precise amount of the saving effected varies very considerably according as the figures given by the Accountant-General or by the Board are followed. The Accountant-General shows the expenditure during the two years as—

			Rs.
1877-78	...	...	3,02,299 including stationery.
1878-79	...	...	2,82,810 excluding ditto.

The Board's figures are considerably less, viz.—

			Rs.
1877-78	...	...	2,91,774
1878-79	...	...	2,66,593

With a view to obviate these discrepancies in future years, the Board should endeavour to make their figures harmonize with those of the Accountant-General before submitting their report. Although the final report of actuals is not due from the Accountant-General till the 15th August, it is believed that his excise figures are generally available at a much earlier date.

3. The revenue of the year as shown by the Board is thus distributed

It will be seen that opium yields almost to a rupee the net increase of the year, viz. Rs. 1,67,648, and that the increase and decrease in the other exciseable articles balance one another, the chief increase being under the head of country spirits Rs. 80,451, and the chief decrease under the head of rum, the revenue of which suffered much during 1878-79 as well as during 1877-78 from the importation of rum that had paid duty in the North-Western Provinces. A similar complaint has been made by the Assam Administration that the Bengal rum is injuriously affecting the excise revenue of Assam. The increase in opium is mainly due to the selling price having been raised in December 1877.

4. The excise is a branch of the revenue to which different portions of the provinces under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal contribute in very different proportions, as the following figures, taken from Statement I, Appendix B of the Board's report, shew :—

Division.	Population according to census.	Total excise revenue.	Incidence per Rs. 100 of population.
		Rs.	Rs.
Burdwan	7,193,389	6,90,092	9
Calcutta with Suburbs and Howrah	786,229	14,22,313	180
Rest of Presidency Division ...	7,192,579	6,55,131	9
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar ...	7,377,063	4,92,067	6
Dacca	9,144,126	5,54,160	6
Chittagong	1,841,336	82,615	4
Patna	13,122,743	15,41,941	11
Bhagulpore	7,289,784	8,66,716	11
Orissa	3,162,490	3,78,829	11
Chota Nagpore	3,322,748	3,50,075	10
Total	60,432,487	70,33,939	11

Omitting Calcutta, the circumstances of which are of course exceptional, and which, under the head of rum especially, as well as under other heads, derives a large income from the mofussil consumption, it will be seen that the contribution from Eastern Bengal is far less per head than from Behar. The difference is obviously due to the religious denominations of the population.

5. The total revenue of Bengal from spirituous liquors and other exciseable articles is not fully represented by the figures shown above. The import duty on wine and spirits last year amounted to Rs. 13,54,506, the whole of which is credited as customs revenue. This raises the total revenue raised in Bengal from wines, spirits, and drugs to Rs. 83,87,445.

6. The most important measure connected with the excise revenue during the year was the return from the central distillery system. A commencement in this direction was made some years ago, but the progress made in closing distilleries and licensing shops under the outstill system was very rapid during the past year, as the following figures show :—

	1877-78.	1878-79.
Number of shops under sudder distillery system	3,512	1,938
Number of shops under outstill system	862	3,911
Total receipts under sudder distillery system ...	25,41,021	16,97,085
Ditto ditto outstill system	3,49,439	12,73,826
Ditto under both systems	28,90,460	29,70,911

7. The Board review the measures taken in each Division, notice the opinions of the Commissioners of Rajshahye, Patna, and Bhagulpore, and conclude that—

“The outstill system is beginning to show its superiority notwithstanding its imperfect development, and the great difficulties arising from permitting the concurrent existence of the outstill and sudder distillery systems in the same or adjacent districts. During the past year, owing to the high price of food-grains and the scarcity which existed in some parts of the country, a diminution of the Government revenue might certainly have been expected under the sudder distillery system, as the high cost of the liquor produced in the sudder distilleries would have prevented many of the poorer labouring classes from satisfying even their most ordinary cravings. The outstill system has supplied the people with a cheaper and weaker liquor, which is comparatively free from intoxicating effects, and has led to no complaints of any increase of drunkenness. The financial results have been very satisfactory, and the settlements of the current year show even more favourable financial prospects.”

8. Sir Steuart Bayley notices with satisfaction that the Board are sanguine as to the financial results of the measure. There are reasons to fear that the excise revenue will exhibit a falling off during the current year, though it is premature to express any opinion as to whether this is in any way connected with the introduction of the outstill system, or is solely due to high prices or other causes. As regards the moral effect of the change, the Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Commissioner of Patna that it is premature to express a decisive opinion on the point at present. It cannot be disputed that the licensee has a more powerful interest in augmenting the sale of his spirit under the outstill system than when he pays according to the amount consumed. The spirit distilled is weaker, but also cheaper, and is drunk in larger quantities. The question is one which may rightly engage the attention of the Board, but, in contrasting the moral effects of the two systems, it is essential not to lose sight of the important element of illicit distillation which necessarily flourished far more under the sudder distillery system than under that of outstills.

9. It is observed that the falling off in the revenue derived from country spirits in Burdwan is ascribed partly to dearthness of mowah. But it would seem from Statement No. V, Appendix B, that no country spirit is distilled from mowah in Burdwan. It is probable that this statement is inaccurate, as the same is said of Midnapore also. The entire population in both these districts is shown as using spirits distilled from grain and molasses, but it is believed that in Midnapore the greater portion of the spirit consumed is distilled from mowah.

10. The experience of the year under review was very unfavourable to the experiment of levying the revenue from country spirits on the materials from which they are distilled. There was a marked decline in the revenue of every single distillery in which the system was adopted, though the force of the evidence is much weakened by the undoubted fact that the falling off was also largely due to the competition of the outstills which everywhere proved detrimental to the distilleries when they came into competition with them. The Board, referring to paragraph 9 of the Government Resolution on the Excise Administration Report for 1876-77, say that they will await the decision of Government whether the experiment shall be continued or not. It seems to Sir Steuart Bayley that, in the face of the general return to the outstill system, the experiment has lost much of its importance, and the Board report that out of 11 distilleries in which it was at work all but three have been abolished during the year. Under these circumstances the Board should report separately as to its discontinuance, as it is inconvenient to dispose of such questions finally in a resolution on an annual report.

11. Rum, as before observed, exhibits a very marked decline, a result, however, to be in no way regretted so far as it is due to the last of the causes specified by the Board in the extract below from paragraph 66 of the report :—

“ The yearly consumption of rum during the last five years was on the average 72,920 gallons ; in 1877-78 it amounted to 62,018 gallons ; in 1878-79 it declined to 39,298 gallons. This heavy falling off is ascribed to a preference shown for country spirits in the districts of the 24-Pergunnahs and Dacca ; to less demand in Midnapore and Hooghly ; and in Calcutta to the importation of cheap brandies and of Shajehanpore rum, which is sold at lower rates than those charged for Calcutta rum. The decrease is also in some measure attributed to the improved condition of the sailors and seafaring class of persons visiting this port, among whom, it is stated, intemperance has been much checked by the establishment of coffee and reading-rooms in several parts of the town. The Sailors' Home is also represented as having contributed its share to this improved state of things.”

The amount of Shajehanpore rum imported in 1878-79 was 11,566 gallons against 12,572 gallons in 1877-78.

12. The excise revenue derived from imported wines and spirits consists merely of the license fees from their sale. This item of revenue rose during the year from Rs. 1,04,501 to Rs. 1,15,846.

13. In paragraph 9 of the Resolution on last year's report, it was suggested that by leasing out circles as in Burmah, instead of single shops, a higher revenue might be obtained from târi. The Board consulted some of the Commissioners, who were disposed to think that the measure would not be financially a success. The Board, however, have directed its trial in the Rajmehal sub-division and in Hooghly, and the results will be noticed in next year's report. The revenue from târi increased during the year from Rs. 6,36,693 to Rs. 6,53,832, while that from pachwai decreased from Rs. 1,33,529 to Rs. 1,33,424.

14. The ganja crop in Rajshahye in 1878-79 appears to have been very nearly a total failure, and the following interesting statistics of its cultivation are given in paragraph 83 of the Board's report :—

YEARS.	Quantity of land estimated to have been cultivated with ganja.	Number of ryots engaged in cultivation.	Quantity of ganja estimated to have been produced.	Average production per beegha.
	Bgs. c.		Mds. s.	Mds. s. c.
1874-75	2,278 14	2,003	11,885 34	5 8 10
1875-76	1,200 2	1,280	6,400 30	5 1 7
1876-77	1,810 18	1,808	10,814 12	5 37 9
1877-78	2,102 14	1,877	9,448 7	4 19 11
1878-79	1,445 7	1,308	3,768 0	2 24 3

15. With so small an outturn it was inevitable that prices should rise very considerably and consumption decrease. A considerable decrease in the revenue would have been the result were it not for the very successful manner in which the shops were settled at increased license fees. This reduced the loss from Rs. 69,778 to Rs. 40,108. In the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division this was especially marked, there being a decrease in consumption of 107 maunds and an increase in revenue of Rs. 24,284.

16. The high price of ganja is said to have caused an increased consumption of charas and siddhi, the receipts from which increased by Rs. 516 and Rs. 3,508 respectively, while majum shewed a slight decline of Rs. 134.

17. The large increase in the revenue derived from opium is ascribed not only to the increase in the selling price, but also to the system, adopted from the 1st April 1878, of putting up the licenses to auction. The Board of Revenue, in paragraph 117, return to the question of the absence of any appreciable revenue from opium in the poppy-growing districts, regarding which it was remarked, in paragraph 13 of the Resolution in the report for 1877-78, that "the question of how to obtain a fair revenue from the opium consumed in those districts has long occupied the attention of many officers of ability and experience, but without receiving a satisfactory solution." The Board discuss the various means of meeting the difficulty which have suggested themselves, and have eventually accepted a proposal of Government to revert to the farming system which was tried some 30 or 40 years ago, but unsuccessfully.

"Under this system the district in which it is to be tried is divided into circles corresponding with the sub-divisions or the police thanas, and the right to open a group of shops within the circle is put up to auction. The number of shops is determined beforehand and announced at the time of auction. An upset price is fixed, and it is made a condition of the license granted to the farmer that he must purchase all his opium from the Government treasury and that his purchases must not fall below a certain quantity to be determined by the Collector. The farmer is allowed to locate the shops wherever he pleases within the circle, and the only restriction imposed upon the shop-keepers is as to the quantity to be sold to a single purchaser, with the other general conditions contained in a license. On this plan the system of farming out the opium revenue has, in consultation with the Commissioner of Patna, been introduced as an experimental measure from the 1st April 1879 in the districts of Mozufferpore and Durbhunga. The results of the arrangements will appear in 1879-80, and be noticed in the report for that year."

18. The Lieutenant-Governor will await with much interest the result of these measures; but it may be remarked that, while no doubt there is every facility to obtain illicit opium for personal consumption, and that a certain amount of illicit opium is consumed in the districts in which the poppy is grown, there is also good reason to suppose that the greater portion of the Behar population do not consume opium, and that the revenue to be obtained from its consumption in those districts will never bear any appreciable proportion to that derived from some other parts of Bengal. Behar, with the exception of Mozufferpore and Durbhunga, contributes a disproportionately large revenue from country spirits, and it is believed that the same people that consume country spirits rarely, if ever, consume opium, and vice versa. In some districts, such as Hooghly and the 24-Pergunnahs, there is a considerable consumption of both; but where the population that uses exciseable articles is addicted to country spirits, the sale of opium is almost always nominal, and where it is addicted to opium, the consumption of country spirits is almost nil. In general the great opium-consuming districts are those along the seaboard, or else with a very relaxing and depressing climate, such as Rungpore and Assam. Western Behar is certainly not the climate which develops a taste for opium.

19. The entire revenue from country spirits in the year under report was Rs. 29,70,911, and from opium and its preparations Rs. 15,77,659. The population of Bengal, according to the census of 1871, was 60,432,487, so that the average revenue from country spirits per 1,000 of population was Rs. 49 and from opium Rs. 26. Omitting Calcutta, which of course has a large spirit-drinking as well as a large opium-eating population, the averages would be Rs. 37 and Rs. 22 respectively. Now the districts in which the highest revenue is derived from country spirits are—

Revenue per mille in 1878-79.		Revenue per mille in 1878-79
Rs.		Rs.
Darjeeling ...	318	Lohardugga ...	117
Patna ...	199	Gya ...	84
Hazaribagh ...	126	Monghyr ...	81

while the revenue derived from opium is—

Rs.		Rs.
Darjeeling ..	19	Lohardugga ...	10
Patna ...	3	Gya ...	less than 1 Re.
Hazaribagh ...	2	Monghyr ...	3

Darjeeling is altogether exceptional in the character of its population, which it is probable has increased considerably since the census. Taking the figures, however, as they stand, its consumption of opium is below the average, and in all the other districts the contrast is complete.

20. On the other hand, among the great opium-consuming districts are—

Revenue per mille in 1878-79.		Revenue per mille 1878-79
Rs.		Rs.
Balasore ...	184	Rungpore ...	48
Cuttack ...	63	Chittagong ...	45

Revenue from country spirits per mille.		Revenue from country spirits per mille.
Rs.		Rs.
Balasore ...	5	Rungpore ...	7
Cuttack ...	9	Chittagong ...	5

It is true that in some districts, such as Maldah, Hooghly, the 24-Pergunnahs, and Moorshedabad, there is a large consumption of opium and of country spirits; but it is probably due to their containing a large proportion of inhabitants of both classes.

It is probable therefore that the consumption of opium in most of the Behar districts is as small as it is in the other dry districts in the Lower Provinces, and though some revenue must undoubtedly be lost, it is not so large as might at first sight be expected.

21. The statistics of prosecutions show a slight falling off in the year 1878-79 as compared with 1877-78, aggregating 2,842 persons prosecuted against 2,916: of these 2,442 were convicted.

Prosecutions under Excise Act.

Beerbhoom ...	253	Calcutta ...	186
24-Pergunnahs ...	214	Moorshedabad ...	182

22. The experiment was tried, in November 1877, of appointing four Experiment of appointing Excise Inspectors, who are reported to have "done good service by detecting illicit dealings, prosecuting the parties concerned, checking smuggling, introducing uniformity of practice, assisting in the settlement of shops, and making suggestions for the improvement of revenue." Only three Inspectors, however, are being employed during the current year.

23. The Commissioners named in the margin are especially thanked by the Board for their care and attention in supervising the Excise Department during the year. The favourable notice of the District Collectors and Deputy Collectors named in paragraph 139 of the Board's report will, as usual, be noted in the Appointment Department.

The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the Board of Revenue for the efficient and successful administration of the department during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. L. HARRISON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE DACCA DIVISION FOR 1878-79.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 23rd October 1879.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Dacca Division for 1878-79.

1. The report is submitted by Mr. Pellew, who assumed charge only twelve days before the close of the year. He has necessarily laboured under the disadvantage of possessing no personal knowledge of most of the subjects discussed in the report. Mr. Lyall held charge of the division for four months, and Mr. Peacock for nearly eight months of the year.

2. Tours.—The information given in the report on this subject is meagre, and if the district officers have given any detailed accounts of their visits to the interior, the Commissioner has omitted to reproduce them. The importance of this subject has been frequently impressed on officers of late, and it is needless to dwell upon it again. The Lieutenant-Governor will expect to see the subject fully treated in the future reports of the division. Except in Mymensingh, the tours of the district officers in the past year fell far short of the time which they should ordinarily spend in the interior of their districts. In Backergunge 64, in Tipperah 56, in Furreedpore 39, and in Dacca 30 days were spent on tour. The Commissioner draws attention to the insufficiency of the tours of the district officers of Dacca and Furreedpore, "though the license-tax work urgently demanded local supervision." The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the reasons for the unusually short tours in these four districts may be explained. The report entirely omits to notice the tours of the sub-divisional officers.

3. Weather and crops.—In all districts save Dacca the rainfall was less abundant than in the previous year. In June it was unusually scanty in Dacca, Furreedpore, and Backergunge, and the progress of the rice crops was in consequence somewhat retarded. Floods did considerable damage later in Mymensingh, Dacca, and Furreedpore. The Manickgunge sub-division in Dacca, the Goalundo and Madaripore sub-divisions in Furreedpore, and the alluvial lands on the Jamuna in Mymensingh, were the parts which suffered most. With the exception of these tracts in which the yield was much reduced, the general outturn of the rice crops was fair. The cold-weather crops are reported to have suffered from deficient rainfall in Backergunge, Mymensingh, and Tipperah; but they are not largely cultivated in these districts. In Furreedpore, Tipperah, and Dacca a good jute crop was obtained. In Mymensingh the crop was damaged in parts by prolonged immersion of the stalks during the inundations.

4. Public health and material condition of the people.—Outbreaks of cholera and small-pox occurred in some localities during the year, but the division was otherwise fairly healthy. Native doctors were specially deputed to the tracts affected by cholera and small-pox. The Commissioner states that “the high prices of food-grains have pinched the middle classes not engaged in trade or handicraft, but the agricultural classes, and those who provide their wants, have had a prosperous time.” In some parts, however, the agricultural classes, under the temptation of high prices, appear to have disposed too freely of their stocks, and found themselves much pressed when compelled subsequently to become buyers, in consequence of the shortness of their crops. This was especially the case in the inundated tracts. The great expansion of the jute trade has undoubtedly brought considerable wealth to the people of this Division of late years, and the Commissioner reports that much debt has been paid off by the cultivators. Considerable sums were subscribed by the local zemindars in some places for the relief of casual distress.

5. Emigration and Immigration.—Emigration is unknown among the agricultural population of the division. Such large movements of the people as occur are confined to the division itself, and consist of migrations from one district to another to assist in cutting the crops during the rice harvest. It is reported that about 20,000 persons annually migrate in this manner from the Madaripore sub-division of the Furreedpore district to Backergunge and Noakholly. Large numbers of labourers, chiefly from Behar, visit the division every year, and are employed by the peasantry. Some 2,000 females are said to have been imported by speculators into Backergunge in the past year from Chittagong and Noakholly, and to have easily gained husbands in the tracts which were devastated by the cyclone of 1876. This statement is somewhat mysterious, and further information should have been given.

6. Prices of Food and Labour.—The prices of the principal food-grains have been gradually rising for some years past, and the rates attained last year were extremely high. The following table shows the highest, lowest, and average prices of common rice in every district of the division in the past three years:—

District.	1876-77.			1877-78.			1878-79.
	Highest.	Lowest.	Average.	Highest.	Lowest.	Average.	Highest.	Lowest.	Average.

Dacca	25 0	20 0	21 1	23 14	11 13	16 0	13 0	10 6	11 10
Furreedpore	28 8	19 8	23 8	20 0	11 8	15 4	13 8	10 0	11 8
Backergunge	23 0	15 0	21 0	17 0	11 0	14 6	13 0	9 0	11 12

General average for the division	26 3	18 6	23 1	21 1	11 9	16 13	13 0	9 10	11 11

The general rise is apparently attributable to excessive exportation to meet the demand in Southern India during the Madras famine, and to partial failure of crops in some localities since that period. Notwithstanding a heavy fall in exportation during the past year, it would seem that so large a portion of the season's produce was required to renew stocks depleted by previous exportation as to leave a very inadequate supply for the market. If exportation is not abnormally large during the current year, some fall in prices after the ensuing harvest may be expected.

The wages of labour have not apparently been much influenced by the increased cost of food. They are reported to be nearly stationary, and no doubt there has been some distress in consequence among landless labourers.

7. Manufactures.—The fish-curing industry carried on in bonded enclosures at Goalundo is rapidly expanding. The results of the past four years are shown in the following statement:—

YEAR						Fish cured	Salt used.	Drawback	REMARKS
						Mds. s. c.	Mds. s. c.	Rs. A. P.
1875	.	.	..	...	..	1,362 29 8	329 14 14	907 2 0
1876	...	...	...	...	..	4,835 0 0	1,208 18 0	3,323 5 5
1877	...	...	...	...	..	11,258 9 8	2,664 4 8	7,320 2 9
1878	..	...	...	...	..	14,000 0 0	3,767 0 0	10,835 0 0

Sanction has been accorded to the maintenance of the preventive establishment for another year. Besides the fish cured under this system, it appears that nearly 50,000 maunds of salted fish were despatched from Goalundo to Calcutta.

8. Trade and Commerce.—Trade is reported to have been dull during the year. The principal exports are rice and jute. The returns prepared in the Statistical Department of this office show a heavy falling off in the exportation of both articles to Calcutta. The total quantity of rice exported was only 34,05,650 maunds, as compared with 68,60,550 maunds in 1877-78. From Dacca only 2,15,934 maunds were exported, against 13,05,847 in 1877-78; from Furreedpore only 1,73,847 maunds, against 17,06,949; from Backergunge only 29,12,462 maunds, against 31,95,972; from Mymensingh only 8,120 maunds, against 1,80,280; and from Tipperah only 94,687 maunds, against 4,71,502. In Dacca and Mymensingh one large firm found it profitable to import from Chittagong. The decrease in the jute exports to Calcutta is partly made up by an increase in the quantity sent to Chittagong for shipment. The total exports in 1877-78 amounted to 61,79,540 maunds, of which 59,88,540 maunds went to Calcutta and 1,91,000 maunds to Chittagong. In the past year they amounted to 59,71,263 maunds, of which 55,15,988 went to Calcutta and 4,55,276 maunds to Chittagong. Another important article of export from the division is betelnut, which is extensively cultivated in Tipperah and Backergunge. Its price fell considerably in Backergunge during the year. The trade in safflower and hides is said to be on the decline. The imports of the division consist chiefly of piece-goods, English earthenware, salt, sugar, spices, and tobacco.

9. State of public feeling.—The license tax was the chief subject of discussion during the year. It was received with general dissatisfaction, increased in some places by irregularities on the part of the circle officers. It appears, however, that unfavourable criticism was provoked chiefly by the low minimum of taxable income, which at a time of high prices of food told with some severity on the petty artisans and traders. This ground of complaint has now been removed. "On the whole," the Commissioner says, "people have not grumbled more than they do in England when an extra penny is added to their income tax." The Collector of Dacca states that the Land Registration Act has caused annoyance to petty landholders, and expresses a doubt as to its beneficial effect. His opinion is singularly at variance with that of his predecessor, and with the fact noticed in the report that the Act is popular in the neighbouring district of Furreedpore. The Road and Public Works cesses are said to cause discontent among the superior landlords of Backergunge, owing to the difficulty which they experience in realizing the proportion payable by the under-tenants. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish to receive a special report on this subject. In Tipperah the object of the road cess is beginning to be appreciated, and frequent applications are made for the construction and repair of village roads and the clearing out of water-channels. The Afghan war excited a great deal of interest in the division, and the movements of the troops were carefully followed.

10. Public Press.—Dacca has two English and five vernacular papers, and Mymensingh two vernacular papers. In each district a new weekly vernacular paper was started during the year. Of the papers in his district, the Collector of Dacca remarks: "The papers criticise fully all that goes on, and at times use language that is not well chosen; but, on the whole, I do not consider the papers to be disloyal at heart." The Bharat Mihir in Mymensingh is said to have secured a large local circulation.

11. Administrative changes.—The general introduction of the Chowkidary Act has been impeded by the pressure of other important work. Naraingunge was constituted a port during the year, and has since been placed under a special officer. A new sub-division, which was much needed, has been created at Netrokona in Mymensingh. Another, comprising the thanas of Chandpore and Hajigunge, was opened at Chandpore in Tipperah. The Collector reports that the sub-divisional officer has already, with the assistance of the zemindars, opened a dispensary, raised the status of the local school, established a bazar, and dug several tanks at the head-quarters of the sub-division.

12. Police and Crime.—The Chowkidary Act is in force in 9,436 out of 17,615 villages in all the districts except Mymensingh. Its introduction into the latter district has been postponed. It has worked fairly well, although difficulties have been met with, especially in the selection of the punchayets. The regular police is reported to be inefficient in Furrodpore and Tipperah, but their general conduct in the remaining districts is not unfavourably noticed. Considerable difficulty exists in obtaining good men from other parts of Bengal for the police of the eastern districts, and only an inferior class of men is available locally.

13. There was some decrease in crime during the year. It is satisfactory to notice a diminution of 42 in the number of riots, although the offence is still deplorably common. The cases were 762 in number, against 804 in 1877; and 18 cases were attended with loss of life, against 25 in the previous year. Eighty-seven cases of murder and 80 of culpable homicide were reported, as compared with 116 and 64 cases respectively in 1877. Twenty-four of the cases were declared to be false. Dacoities, robberies, and other serious offences against property increased from 2,392 cases to 2,529. The increase is attributed to the prevalence of high prices, and the growth of an inter-district trade in rice carried on by petty traders who keep their capital in cash in their boats, and thus afford frequent opportunities for theft to the bad characters.

14. Civil Justice.—An increase has been made in the staff of Moonsifs with the result of greatly accelerating the disposal of rent suits, but landholders are reported to be still dissatisfied. This question was carefully considered during the year with reference to the remarks of the Officiating Commissioner, Mr. Lyall, in the report for 1877-78. The High Court, in submitting a very able and temperate report on the subject by Mr. Geddes, then District Judge of Tipperah, pointed out that the average duration of rent suits taken for a whole year is unavoidably greater than the character of the suits themselves might seem to warrant. The reason of this is that about two-thirds of the total number are instituted in the second quarter of the year, after the close of the harvest operations, while there is always, at the same season, a large increase in the number of suits to recover money. The only remedy for this would be a periodical temporary addition to the number of the courts. This system, however, has been deliberately abandoned by Government at the instance of the High Court, and a permanent increase to the number of courts has been made at a considerable cost. The comparative inefficiency of temporary establishments, the temptations to which ministerial officers entertained for short periods are exposed, and the waste of strength involved in the transfer of pending cases to the permanent courts at the close of a limited period, have been held to outweigh the disadvantages of some delay in the disposal of suits instituted after the close of the Bengali year. Government have done all that was possible to diminish the inconvenience experienced, and such as remains is unavoidable. The relations between landlords and tenants continue to be unsatisfactory, especially in Backergunge.

15. Land Revenue.—The revenue-roll of the division contains 25,832 estates paying a total yearly revenue of Rs 43,22,512. The demand in the past year was Rs 49,52,533, including arrears amounting to Rs. 6,30,021. The collections within the year amounted to Rs. 44,15,202, and a considerable portion of the balance has since been realized. The number of estates sold was 109, of which 22 found no bidders and were purchased by Government.

16. Excise and Stamps.—The excise revenue shows a slight increase, the amount realized being Rs. 5,53,952, as compared with Rs. 5,48,608 in the previous year. In country spirits there was an increase of consumption with a decrease of revenue—a result which the district officers attribute to the simultaneous working of the sudder distillery and the outstill system. This matter has doubtless received the attention of the Board. In the case of ganja and opium, an increase of revenue has been attended with a falling off in consumption. The stamp revenue rose from Rs. 19,18,296 to Rs. 19,86,598, the increase having occurred chiefly in the sales of postage, hoondie, and non-judicial stamps.

17. Communications.—The existing roads in Dacca have been kept in fair order, and some new works are in progress. In Furreedpore Rs. 11,934 were expended in the repairs of the Pangsa road, which connects the centre of the district with the railway, and the construction of a new road between the civil station and Rajbari on the railway was begun. The Collector suggests a modification of the law with the view of empowering the Road Cess Committees of Furreedpore and Backergunge to establish lines of steamers as a rapid means of communication along the waterways of these districts. The proposal seems decidedly ambitious, and Mr. Pellew rightly observes that such recommendations should form the subject of a separate reference. In Backergunge the Committee have directed their attention to the construction of a system of roads with good ferries wherever practicable. In Tipperah a great deal has been done on village roads, and some small channels have been cleared out for boat traffic.

18. Education.—The number of schools and pupils in each district of the division was as follows:—

Districts.				Schools.	Pupils.
Dacca	...	...	...	807	26,496
Furreedpore	...	...	...	382	14,229
Backergunge	...	...	...	652	20,556
Tipperah	...	...	...	816	18,693
Mymensingh	...	...	...	434	14,530
Total				3,091	93,904

There was an increase of 223 schools and 3,561 scholars in Dacca, and of 17 schools and 1,365 scholars in Furreedpore. In these districts, Backergunge and Mymensingh, progress was made in primary education during the year. It has been remarked in the resolution on the annual education report that the people of this division take a special pride and interest in the prosperity of their middle schools. The number of schools in Tipperah has fallen off owing to the inefficiency of the inspecting staff. The matter has been specially enquired into.

19. Female education appears to be gaining in popularity in the division. The girls' schools increased during the year from 158, with 2,510 pupils, to 174, with 2,869 pupils. In addition to these, 2,965 girls were attending boys' schools and patshalas, against 2,513 in 1877-78. The Eden School at Dacca had 153 pupils on its roll at the end of the year. In several districts girls have been successful at the public examinations. Two passed the Lower Vernacular Scholarship examination in Burrisaul, two the Primary Scholarship examination in Furreedpore, and three the same examination in Tipperah. "Mary Carpenter's" scholarships were gained by one girl in Burrisaul and another in Tipperah. It would appear, however, that zonnana education is making no satisfactory progress in any district except Backergunge. One of the examining bodies of Burrisaul is very favourably spoken of by the Inspector.

20. Committees.—The various Committees have worked satisfactorily. The members of the Municipal and Road Cess Committees are said to take considerable interest in their work, but non-official members and landholders residing out of the stations are less regular than is desirable in their attendance. In Dacca and Naraingunge the Municipal Commissioners have worked well both as Commissioners and as Honorary Magistrates.

21. Court of Wards.—Thirty-four estates were under the management of the Court during the year. Some of the estates have given considerable trouble. In Mymensingh a portion of the large estate of the late Baboo Ram Kishore Acharjya had to be sold to clear off some pressing claims.

22. Conduct of Zemindars.—Some of the zemindars of Dacca received the thanks of Government during the year for their liberality in helping people whom the high prices had temporarily thrown into distress. The zemindars of Furrêdpore and Backergunge are mostly absentees, and their estates, it is said, are not unfrequently managed by untrustworthy subordinates over whom they can exercise no supervision. In Mymensingh the zemindars are on good terms generally with their tenantry, except on the estates of Naraindhar and Kagmari, where constant affrays have occurred for some time past. The Kagmari zemindars have been specially excluded from the list of zemindars entitled to carry arms, in consequence of their turbulence. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that a better system of management has been introduced on the estate of Baboo Mohim Chunder Roy.

23. The Commissioner's remarks on his subordinates will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION FOR THE YEAR 1878-79.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 22nd October 1879.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Report on Public Instruction for the year 1878-79.

The most encouraging feature in the educational history of the year 1878-79 is that, for the first time, since the Department was constituted, the contribution from private sources to the total cost of education has exceeded the Government grant, a result to which, as the Director observes, the experience of the last few years has steadily pointed. The Government contribution, which in the previous year fell from 53 to 51 per cent., or, excluding building charges, from 52 to a fraction over 50 per cent., has now decreased to 47·75 per cent. The departmental figures show that out of a total expenditure on education of Rs. 45,45,000, the Government contribution amounted to Rs. 21,72,000, while the people paid Rs. 23,73,000, their contributions in the previous year having been Rs. 21,43,000.

2. There is still some slight discrepancy between the departmental account of receipts and expenditure and the figures furnished by the Accountant-General. According to these the actual net Government expenditure for the year amounted to Rs. 19,65,416. In order to compare this with the actual net expenditure as it appears from the departmental figures, it is necessary to subtract from the latter the sum of Rs. 2,35,000, being the charges for medical expenditure. The net expenditure is thus reduced to Rs. 19,37,000, which amount is less by about Rs. 30,000 than the actuals of the year as furnished by the Accountant-General. The Director remarks that, of this difference a sum of Rs. 18,000 is explained by the purchase money of the Constantia Estate at Kurscong, Rs. 4,000 by the contribution in aid of Dr. Fallon's Dictionary, and Rs. 1,000 by the cost of medical stores supplied from England. There remains a difference of about Rs. 7,000 which is not accounted for.

3. The following table shows the state of education for the last two years:—

Class of Instruction.				1878.		1879.
				Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils

Total				26,218	641,400	33,278	727,707

Under superior instruction there is no actual gain, the increase of one in the number of colleges being due to the fact that La Martinière has for the first time furnished the details of its college department. If it is excluded, with its eighteen under-graduate pupils, there is a net loss of forty-eight students in colleges, of which Government colleges have lost fifteen.

Under secondary instruction there is a reduction of 101 in the number of schools and an increase of 969 in the number of pupils. The decrease in the number of schools is due to three causes—(1) the withdrawal of grants-in-aid from a large number of inefficient middle schools; (2) the orders of Government of October 1877 re-constituting Middle English schools on a vernacular basis which have had the twofold effect of raising good schools to the higher class, and turning bad schools into vernacular schools; (3) the growing disinclination in certain districts to aid secondary schools from the primary grant. The loss in secondary schools is therefore not to be regretted.

Primary instruction shows an increase of 7,144 schools and 84,542 pupils, the bulk of the increase being in the Behar Circle. This means, not that the numbers of schools and pupils in the country has suddenly increased to this extent, but that a large number of schools already existing have been brought within the purview of the Educational Department. Under special instruction there is a loss of six schools and a gain of twenty-six pupils. Twenty-four native girls' schools and 811 pupils were added during the year.

4. In the following table the schools are classed according to the source of their income and the grant by which they are maintained :—

Class of Institutions	1878		1879
	Schools.	Pupils	Schools	Pupils
Government Schools and Colleges	... 316	28,728	307	28,423
Grant-in-aid	... 1,779	85,563	1,677	83,281
Circle grant	.. 262	10,742	287	11,947
Primary grant	... 17,395	406,135	24,354	489,518
Unaided	... 6,466	110,232	6,653	114,538
Total	.. 26,218	641,400	33,278	727,707

The Director points out that the number of unaided primary schools which lie outside the Government organization has advanced from 6,084 with 86,200 pupils to 6,232 schools with 84,196 pupils. If these are separated from the other unaided schools, it appears that schools of organized instruction have attained an increase amounting in round numbers to 7,000 schools and 88,000 pupils, a far larger increase than in the previous year. It is clear that each year extends the operations of the primary system to schools of a humbler status than the year before. The closing of one army, six normal, and four vernacular schools accounts for the decrease in the number of Government schools. The reduction in aided schools is due to the fact that greater strictness has been exercised in renewing and continuing grants. Many new primary schools have been brought within the circle system with a total resulting gain of twenty-five. Greater caution has been used in aiding middle schools from the primary grant, but, on the other hand, there is an increase of 7,000 schools in primary schools proper.

5. Excluding colleges and schools of special instruction, the number of students in schools of all kinds, who are in the upper stage of instruction, is 7,413; of those in the middle stage 64,920; of those in the higher primary stage 264,448, and of those in the lower primary stage 385,178, making a total of 721,959. The upper stage includes pupils who have reached a standard equivalent to that of the first or second class of a school reading the University Entrance course; the middle stage all between these and the next following class; the primary stage scarcely goes beyond reading, writing, and arithmetic; it includes in its higher section those who can, and in its lower section those who cannot, read, write, and understand easy sentences in their mother-tongue. The statistics of the social position of the pupils cannot be compared with those furnished last year, owing to a change which has been introduced in the definition. It is observed, however, that of 571,202 pupils returned as belonging to the lower classes, 349,885 are children of cultivators and 65,423 are children of small traders.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that the modifications introduced into the organization of the Department by the Resolution dated the 29th July 1878 have on the whole worked well. The higher inspecting officers have been freely consulted by Magistrates on matters connected with the administration of the primary grant; in some cases references have been made to the Director; but in only one case has it been necessary to refer a question for the decision of Government. The transfer to the Circle Inspectors of the direct responsibility for secondary education has caused all grant-in-aid schools to be subjected to a stricter scrutiny than was possible under the old system. The results have been economy in the administration of the grant, and greater activity and efficiency in aided schools. The Director regrets that there is still some ambiguity in the position of Assistant Inspectors, and suggests that, if some of them be raised to the rank of Joint-Inspectors, they might be more useful advisers to Commissioners, without any prejudice to their due subordination to their departmental superiors. This proposal will be taken into consideration.

7. There appears to have been some misunderstanding on the part of Magistrates regarding the policy which Government wish to pursue with reference to the distribution of the primary grant. Doubtless, payments to primary schools proper should absorb the greater part of the grant, and care should be exercised that the character of a school is not changed without necessity. But there are many cases in which schools, though no longer primary, cannot be brought under the grant-in-aid rules, and it is desirable that Lower and even Middle Vernacular schools that have grown out of primary schools should in some instances be aided out of the primary grant. The laudable desire of district officers to extend primary education has also led them in some instances to require from Deputy Inspectors so unremitting an attention to it as to interfere with their inspection of secondary schools. The Lieutenant-Governor is unwilling to hamper the Magistrates in this matter by any fixed rule, but he thinks it well to remind all officers concerned in the management of primary instruction that properly the duties of Deputy Inspectors are (1) the immediate personal inspection of secondary schools, and (2) the general supervision of primary education through the agency of Sub-Inspectors.

8. The new graded system for the subordinate officers of the department, which was introduced during the year, will no doubt prove satisfactory. The number of officers admitted to the classes is 318, of whom six are in the first class on Rs. 400 rising to Rs. 500, ten in the second class on Rs. 300 rising to Rs. 400, twenty-five in the third from Rs. 200 to Rs. 300, forty in the fourth from Rs. 150 to Rs. 200, sixty-two in the fifth from Rs. 100 to Rs. 150, seventy-five in the sixth from Rs. 75 to Rs. 100, and one hundred in the seventh from Rs. 50 to Rs. 75. Promotion will now depend, not alone on the length of time for which each officer has served, but also on the character which he has earned for general ability and zeal. The future of each officer is thus very much in his own hands, and it may fairly be anticipated that increased efficiency will result.

9. The total number of Government colleges is twelve as in the previous year, but the abolition of the Rungpore second grade college has been decided on, and it will be carried out at the end of the present session. There are still six aided and three unaided colleges. The number of college-students has decreased in the year under report from 2,003 to 1,963. The Director shows that this is not due to any temporary decline in the demand for University education, but simply to the decrease in the number of successful candidates in the Entrance Examinations of 1876, 1877, and 1878, which has diminished the amount of "potential college material." The total cost of each student to the State, as calculated by the average daily attendance, has decreased from Rs. 395 to Rs. 376, after a decrease in the previous year to nearly the same amount. But if the fairer mode of reckoning by the average monthly roll number recently prescribed by the Government of India be applied to the year under report, it will be found to have decreased from Rs. 334 to Rs. 316. At Berhampore the cost has increased from Rs. 479 to Rs. 605 for each student—a rate which the Director justly characterizes as serious, and which renders it incumbent on the Lieutenant-Governor to consider whether its status as a college can any longer be maintained without some prospect of material improvement in its finances. On this subject the Director is requested to submit a separate report. The Director points out that the increase at Rungpore from Rs. 127 to Rs. 452 supplies a further argument for the abolition there of the college classes.

10. For the First Examination in Arts 759 candidates appeared, of whom 672 were students of colleges, and 87 were ex-students and teachers, and of these 208 passed. Of the candidates from Government schools 35 per cent. passed. Aided colleges produced 26 per cent., and private institutions 20 per cent. of successful candidates, but among independent candidates only 6 per cent. were successful. Of candidates from Government colleges, one in 11 was placed in the first division, of those from aided and private colleges 1 in 24. The Director points out that there is an increase this year in the number of successful Mahomedan candidates, and that three have passed in the first and three in the second division against none in the previous year. None of the Rungpore College students passed this examination.

Of nine candidates from the Cuttack College no less than eight were successful, and the new second grade college of Chittagong passed three candidates out of eight at its first competition. For the B A Examination 262 candidates appeared, of whom 213 were students of colleges and 71 passed. The Government colleges passed 37 per cent. of their candidates, aided colleges passed 16 per cent., and of private students 18 per cent. passed. The Cuttack College has again failed to pass any candidates for this examination. The Dacca College succeeded better in this than in the F A Examination, but it only passed six out of sixteen. The athletic pre-eminence of the Dacca students is scarcely sufficient compensation for their scholastic deficiencies.

For the M A degree with honours there were twenty-three candidates, of whom thirteen passed; for the ordinary degree there were nineteen candidates, of whom nine passed.

11. From the college reports it is evident that the Presidency College continues to show a satisfactory increase in the number of its regular students notwithstanding its high rate of fees. The decrease in the Hooghly College is due principally to the fact that the schools which feed it have been unsuccessful in the Entrance Examination. The Rajshahye, Midnapore, and Dacca Colleges show an increase in the number of their students. The athletic proclivities of the students of the Dacca College have been successfully encouraged by the present Officiating Principal, and he has organized a society in connection with the college, which has for its object to diffuse general knowledge by means of popular lectures and a reading room. There is a similar association at Patna College, which was founded by Dr. Roy, re-modelled by Dr. Watt, and is now in a flourishing condition. Among the aided colleges the General Assembly's College has far the largest number of students; on the other hand, the Free Church Institution attained considerable success in the M A Examination. In the General Assembly's College the cost of each student to Government is Rs. 18 only, in the Free Church Institution Rs. 63, in the Cathedral Mission College Rs. 86, in St. Xavier's College Rs. 51, in the London Mission College Rs. 60, in the Doveton College Rs. 176. The Doveton College, which receives a monthly grant of Rs. 250, has only passed six students at the First Arts Examination during the past five years, while no student has succeeded in attaining the degrees of B A or M A. It is apparent from the figures supplied that the aid received from Government is in more than one case entirely out of proportion to the usefulness of the institution.

12. The following table shows the distribution of the grant-in-aid allotment for the last two years, exclusive of special grants for building and other purposes:—

The reduction in expenditure is due to the reduction in the number of aided schools brought about by the great activity that has been shown during the past year in scrutinizing the character of the work done by them, an activity which has had for its result the withdrawal of grants from numerous inefficient schools. Remedial measures, such as a revision of establishment, the appointment of new teachers, or a new committee, the reduction of the class of the school, the change of its site, or the increase of local subscriptions, have been adopted in all the more hopeful cases; but in some cases all such measures have been found unavailing. The principal reductions have taken place in the Presidency Circle and in the districts of Jessore and Nuddea; but when the small number of schools in Orissa is taken into account, it will be seen that considerable activity has been displayed in that province also. In the district of Burdwan greater leniency has been shown in dealing with inefficient schools, as the prevalence of epidemic fever during the last few years sufficiently accounts for their decline. The system on which these grants-in-aid have been reduced or withdrawn for proved and long-continued inefficiency is explained in the report, and is clearly based on sound and equitable principles. Mr. Croft says—

“There still remain a large number of schools which, professing to belong to a given class, and receiving grants corresponding thereto, have nevertheless for years together either sent no candidates to the departmental examinations of the class, or failed to ensure their success. In other words, they have not fulfilled the conditions under which, whether expressly stated or not, grants were given them. That one or more pupils should pass each year by the standard which a school professes to teach is, if not the best criterion of efficiency throughout its classes, at any rate the only test which we can now apply. Inspectors have been urgently reminded that a grant-in-aid is not a benefice, to be held by a school irrespectively of its merits or success. The test of efficiency is not a severe one. In defining inefficient schools, those only have been regarded whose pupils have entirely failed at two or more out of the last three examinations. Further, those schools which, having failed at two, have succeeded at the third of these examinations are regarded as “improving” schools. Those again which have been newly established, or whose class has been newly raised, are reserved for special consideration. Hence, an inefficient school means, as regards the present question, an old-established school with a sufficient grant, whose pupils have either not appeared, or have altogether failed at the scholarship examinations of 1878, and of one or both of the two preceding years. With regard to each of these schools, of which detailed lists have been furnished, the Inspector has been requested to make a special investigation, and to report what are the causes of failure and what the prospects of success in each case.”

13. The number of Higher English Government schools in Bengal remains the same as last year, but there is an increase in the number of pupils. The number of aided schools increased from 84 to 85, while the number of pupils attending them declined from 9,383 to 8,894. In private English schools, however, there was a large increase. The number of schools of this class was 63, against 44 in the previous year, and the number of pupils attached to them 13,903 against 9,430. Government schools, as in the previous year, passed half their candidates in the Entrance Examination, and, as in the previous year, unaided schools attained a greater percentage of success than aided schools. The latter phenomenon is easily explained. Higher schools that ask for no grant-in-aid are maintained by some wealthy man who willingly pays for good teachers, or they are situated in populous localities where a large income is provided and the fees of the pupils, while many aided schools struggle on with difficulty in less advanced tracts. The comparative merit of higher English Government schools is roughly estimated by assigning one, two, and three marks for each boy passing in the third, second, or first division respectively. Applying this test, we find that among collegiate schools the Hindu and Hare Schools show results far beyond those of other institutions. The Dacca and Kishnaghur Schools follow at a long interval. The latter owes much to the exertions of Mr. Pope, the Officiating Principal of the Collego. From the Rajshahye Collegiate School four candidates passed in the first division. Zillah schools are divided into three classes—the first consisting of those whose pupils are over 300; the second of those whose pupils are between 175 and 300; the third of those whose pupils are below 175. Among first class schools the Uttarparah School has for the first time taken the highest place in the Entrance Examination. Its figure of merit is inferior only to those of the first four collegiate schools. The Beerbhoom School is second, boating the two great schools of Eastern Bengal at Mymensingh and Barisal. It is explained, however, that these two schools have really done better than in previous years, but Uttarparah and Beerbhoom have done better still. The Beerbhoom School is said to owe much of its success to the efficiency and high character of the present head-master. Among second class schools Bankoora stands first; the third class is headed by Purulia and Balasore.

14. The gain of one in aided schools is accounted for by the Contai School in Midnapore, the Jamalpore School in Bhagulpore, and four schools in Jessore having been raised from the middle to the higher class, while from five schools in the Presidency Division the grant has been withdrawn. The increase in the class of unaided schools which takes place in the advanced districts round Calcutta may be a subject of congratulation, as it is due to a genuine desire for higher English education. But it would appear that the rise of such schools in Orissa and Bohar is due principally to a spirit of restlessness and rivalry, and that this influence is, during the short lifetime of these ephemeral institutions, prejudicial to the cause of education, as it tends to substitute a lower for a higher standard of excellence.

15. Middle English schools have decreased from 572 with 31,618 pupils to 540 with 31,490 pupils. Government schools have decreased from seven with 1,037 pupils to six with 820 pupils, and aided schools from 453 with 24,906 pupils to 422 with 24,387 pupils. Private schools continued to be 112 in number, while the number of their pupils has advanced from 5,675 to 6,283. The loss of one Government school is due to the reduction to a lower class of the English school for the children of sepoys in the cantonments at Bhagulpore. The Director explains the loss of thirty-one aided schools thus:—"From nineteen the grants have been withdrawn, six have been raised to the higher class, and seventeen reduced to the class of vernacular schools, while eleven new grants have been sanctioned. In the Presidency Division there is a reduction of twenty-four middle English schools, of which fourteen have been converted into middle vernacular schools, and four raised to the higher class, leaving a net loss of six schools." The District Committee of Jessore have been especially vigorous. In conjunction with the Inspector they have carried out most systematically the orders of Government with regard to inefficient schools, and their reconstitution on a vernacular basis.

16. The policy of placing the course in middle English schools upon a vernacular basis has been discussed at considerable length in the Inspectors' reports, and, though some officers, notably in the Eastern Circle, regard the change with disfavour, the balance of opinion inclines to the view adopted by the Director that the measure was sound in principle, and that it will be productive of good results. Mr. Bellett, Inspector of the Rajshahye Circle, writes thus—"The measure was by no means a popular one, and its unpopularity was, I believe, almost without exception in proportion to the need which existed for it. The class of teachers which most hates to be obliged to teach in Bengali is the class in which the knowledge of English is the slightest; and not only is it the case that the pupils in middle English schools now learn their other lessons more satisfactorily by far than they could formerly, when they were taught in a tongue 'not understood of' either pupil or teacher; but I have noticed during the course of my tours this past year that there is less of that miserable parrot-work than there used to be in the teaching of English itself." Sir Stuart Bayley entirely concurs in the view expressed by Mr. Croft, and in the soundness of the arguments which he brings forward in support of it. Under the old system the boys obtained a superficial knowledge of English without any thorough grounding in the several subjects of study, and it is to be feared that the acquisition of this smattering too often unsettled them and led them to look beyond their proper station in life. Their education was sound neither in English nor in the Vernacular nor in the subjects studied through these media. The system resembled the often condemned plan employed in some European schools of compelling little boys to begin their study of Greek through ponderous grammars written in Latin. To the allegation that the new system provides an inferior preparatory course for the Higher English schools, Mr. Croft replies that the vast majority never go beyond the middle course, and that what is required for them is a sound middle-class education, complete as far as it goes. It appears that the proportion of students in the Middle English schools that proceed to higher schools is only one in 16, and Mr. Croft rightly urges that, "in determining the course of a school, we should regard the interests of the fifteen who finish their education therein, rather than of the one who goes to a higher school." But there is little chance of even this one suffering under the change of system. As might be expected from the greater thoroughness of the teaching they have received, Middle Vernacular scholarship-holders are notoriously more successful at the Entrance examination than holders of Middle English Scholarships. Turning, however, from scholars who are required by the conditions of their stipends to proceed to Higher English schools to the voluntary students in the latter, we find that they are drawn from Middle English schools, and Middle Vernacular schools, in the proportions of $5\frac{1}{2}$ and $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. respectively to the total number of pupils in those schools, while, if Vernacular schools aided from the primary grant, from which few pupils seek higher education, are excluded, the proportion of middle vernacular pupils who voluntarily attend higher class schools is still further increased. The Director points out that even in Calcutta the great middle schools are purely vernacular. Sir Steuart Bayley has no doubt that the change of system will be found beneficial to the true interests of the pupils. It is entirely in accordance with the recommendation of the Simla Text-book Committee that in the lower stages of instruction substantive knowledge should, if possible, be imparted in the vernacular, a recommendation based upon the rational principle that students who have had their minds trained and developed by the acquisition of ideas through their own mother-tongue are more likely to turn out clever men than those who have spent the best years of their childhood in the painful acquisition of foreign words to which they are unable to attach any ideas.

17. The Middle Vernacular Scholarship Examination of 1878 was the last under the old system. Out of 540 Middle English schools, 315 sent 1,002 candidates to the examination and 594 passed. In the previous year the total number of schools that sent candidates was 308 out of 572, the number of candidates was 934, and out of these 575 passed. The improvement in the general efficiency of the schools, which these results indicate, is most conspicuous in the Burdwan Division. In the Presidency and Patna Divisions the number of competing schools and of passed candidates shows a sensible decrease. This may be accounted for by the fact that in the Patna Division the Inspector with the full consent of the Director raised the standard of examination to the level of that of Burdwan. The teachers of the Behar schools and more especially the teachers of English, are in many cases incompetent and unacquainted with the language of the province. Qualified natives of Behar can command higher wages than middle schools can afford to pay to their head masters, and the consequence is that many schools are in charge of men who were unable to secure similar appointments in Bengal. It is to be hoped that the re-constitution of the Normal School at Patna will furnish the province of Behar with a better set of teachers. In the Presidency Division there is a decrease of thirteen competing schools with twenty-seven candidates, and of ten successful schools with twenty-four passed candidates. This decrease is most marked in Jessore, in which district there is a loss of eleven competing schools and of eighteen passed candidates. This is due to the reforms mentioned in a preceding paragraph. The Director remarks that the immediate loss of the few passed students which these schools have been able to furnish is more than counterbalanced by the gain of skilled teachers and a useful course of study.

18. In Middle Vernacular schools there is a loss of five Government schools with 1,712 pupils, and of forty-seven aided schools with 805 pupils, and a gain of twenty-six unaided schools with 890 pupils. The loss of forty-seven aided schools is made up of thirty-nine circle and primary grant schools and of eight grant-in-aid schools. Among the former, two circles with six schools were closed in Furrædpore, and sixteen circle schools in Dacca were reduced or closed, owing, as the Inspector alleges, to the withdrawal by the Magistrate of the allowance from the circle grant, though this grant is no longer under the control of the Magistrate. In Jessore the primary grant has for some years been exceeded, and in order to rectify this at once, it was decided, rather hastily perhaps, to withhold grants from 21 middle schools. In Midnapore 11 middle schools were similarly dealt with. The loss of eight grant-in-aid schools is explained by the withdrawal of grants from thirty-six, and the reduction of seven to lower vernacular schools, counterbalanced by the reduction into this class of fourteen Middle English schools and the sanctioning of twenty-one new grants. The orders constituting Middle English schools on a vernacular basis have facilitated the development of Middle Vernacular schools into Middle English schools. With the permission of the Circle Inspector, any Middle Vernacular school may at its own expense add an English class. Many schools have availed themselves of this privilege. As soon as the English classes in these schools reach the standard of the Middle Scholarship they will be placed on the same footing as Middle English schools. The Lieutenant-Governor quite concurs with the Director in his opinion that, if it is constantly recognized as the aim of the teaching that a sound vernacular standard is to be maintained, and that all subjects are to be taught through the medium of the vernacular, the extension of English teaching within proper limits is likely to be beneficial. In the Middle Vernacular Scholarship examination there is a loss under every head as compared with the previous year. The loss has taken place principally in the Presidency, Rajshahye and Patna Divisions; in the Eastern Circle, and in the divisions of Bhagulpore, Chota Nagpore, and Orissa, there is a gain both of successful schools and of successful pupils. Much of the loss in the Presidency Division is explained by the reduction of middle schools in Jessore. In the northern districts of the Rajshahye Division there is a difficulty in obtaining competent pundits, but this will be removed by the transfer of the Normal School from Rampore Bauleah to Rungpore. In this, as in the Middle English Scholarship examination, the results in the Patna Division were affected by the introduction of the Burdwan standard of examination.

The success of the schools in the Dacca Division is remarkable. It is ascribed by the Director to the excellence of the teachers trained in the Dacca Normal School, which had in former years a very high reputation. The Director says—"The villagers take the greatest interest and pride in their schools, and in the general competition for scholarships; and they display no anxiety whatever to convert a good vernacular into an indifferent English school." He points out also that the success of the numerous Dacca schools has been attained at little cost.

19. During the course of the year Pundit Mohesh Chandra Nyayaratna, Officiating Principal of the Sanskrit College, put forward a proposal to modify in several respects the course of study in Middle Vernacular schools which was fixed in 1875. His proposals were (1) to appoint some central authority to select text-books in Bengali in order to define the standard in language and literature at the Middle Scholarship Examination; (2) to omit mensuration from the course as involving a knowledge of the 3rd Book of Euclid, and to omit the alternative subjects of botany and chemistry as requiring practical appliances not existing in the schools, and scientific knowledge not possessed by the teachers, and as having no relation to the course in higher schools; (3) to substitute hygiene for these subjects; (4) to raise the marks assigned to the Bengali language as by far the most important subject of the course. These proposals were thoroughly discussed. It was agreed by all that the first proposal suggested a valuable reform which, under the orders of Government placing the selection of text-books for middle schools in the hands of Inspectors, can be carried into effect. The other proposals were rightly condemned as retrograde and unsound in principle. It is hoped that the scientific instruction in these schools will be gradually improved by the improved teaching of the Normal schools. The adoption by the Government of India of Dr. J. M. Cunningham's Sanitary Primer may to some extent facilitate the introduction of the subject of hygiene.

20. Lower Vernacular schools have diminished in number from 1,604 to 1,541. The loss has taken place principally in aided schools, for in the Government schools there is a gain of three schools, and the number of pupils has almost doubled itself. This loss is due to the fact that this class of schools has not been so liberally aided as formerly from the primary grant. The results of the Lower Vernacular Scholarship examination are on the whole satisfactory. The number of competing schools has largely increased, though the number of successful schools and pupils is less. The Director explains that this does not point to any decline in efficiency. Owing to the reduction of many schools of the previous year, a large number of the competing schools of 1877 were not in existence in 1878, while the new schools were scarcely strong enough to succeed at a first attempt. It is believed that in the Presidency Circle the standard of examination was raised.

21. A large increase is shown over the previous year in the number of organized primary schools, the total being 29,270 schools with 531,064 pupils, against 22,126 and 446,522 respectively. A remarkable extension of the circle of organized instruction has taken place in the Bhagulpore Division under the operation of the "chief guru" system. In Monghyr and Bhagulpore especially the results come up to the most sanguine anticipations. In these districts the class of unaided schools has, as was last year anticipated, totally disappeared under the influence of this system. In Monghyr the number of schools aided from the primary grant has risen from 153 with 5,355 pupils to 1,464 with 18,235 pupils, and in Bhagulpore from 180 with 4,037 pupils to 1,303 with 13,877 pupils. Moreover a remarkable increase has taken place in the number of candidates who passed the Primary Scholarship Examination. In Monghyr the number of successful candidates has risen from 443 to 647; in Bhagulpore from 69 to 193. The same system has produced a large increase of aided primaries and of successful primary scholarship candidates in the Patna Division, though the system is not pushed equally in all districts. In this system the patshalas of each district are grouped into circles, with one more efficient than the rest, under a stipendiary chief guru at the centre. The chief guru is charged with the duty of communicating with all the patshalas in his circle, of getting information from them, of teaching and inspecting them to some extent, and of paying them the rewards they may have earned at the examinations. The introduction of this system may seem to involve hardship at the outset, as it implies the withdrawal of regular monthly stipends from the gurus of the pathshalas surrounding the chief guru's pathsala, and the substitution of rewards according to the success of their pupils in examinations. On the whole, it appears to be a very successful form of the system of payment by results.

22. This system has been considerably extended during the past year with due modifications to adapt it to the needs of particular districts. In last year's report it was stated that Mr. Larminie had introduced into Burdwan the system of small stipends and large rewards which proved so successful in his hands in Bankoora. It has now been brought into full operation, and the results are highly encouraging. The system of payment by results has been more successful in the 24-Pergunnahs this year, as the gurus have come to understand that it does not imply the discontinuance of Government aid. It is proposed to substitute for the present system of quarterly local examinations the Midnapore system of yearly central examinations.

The Midnapore system, pure and simple, does not seem applicable to all districts. It cannot be carried out in its entirety in Backergunge on account of the district being "a network of khals." Here the method of administering the grant is a combination of payment by stipends and payment by results. Similar causes make it inapplicable to Rajshahiye. The system is to be tried there in certain thanas where the waters subside early. In Cuttack the system of payment by results is said by the Joint-Inspector to have advanced beyond the experimental stage. In Balasore, the form in vogue last year has been modified by the institution of inspecting abadhans who have improved the accuracy of the returns, and have done good service by inducing teachers from various parts of the district to attend the Normal schools, by introducing printed books and by assisting the Sub-Inspectors at the time of the pass and primary examinations. Balasore now stands at the head of the list of districts as regards the percentage of pupils to population in all schools coming under the cognizance of the Department. Midnapore, which last year headed the list, now stands second. In Hooghly no change has been made in the simplified form of payment by results described in last year's report. In Howrah a large increase in the number of aided pathshalas has been brought about by the introduction throughout the district of the Hooghly system of payment by results slightly modified. In Rungpore the system of payment by results failed last year. The form adopted was that of small fixed grants supplemented by rewards after quarterly examinations. It has now been considerably modified. New schools are no longer limited as before to the smallest rate of aid. The consequence is an increase of over 100 schools and about 2,000 pupils. The large increase in the number of aided schools in the district of Dacca is due to the orders authorizing payment to all gurus who sent in returns and the classing of their schools as aided. In both districts of the Chittagong Division the system of stipends is still in force. Mr. Cotton points out that in the district of Chittagong the Mahomedans do not care to send their children to our schools through dislike to the secular character of the instruction. He considers that our object should be to improve the existing maktabas in which the Koran is the principal subject taught, not to supplement them by pathshalas; and if his statement is correct that three out of four aided pathshalas in the district are artificial institutions where the Government grant is the mainstay of support and not merely supplementary to other sources of income, no doubt the maktabas, which are said to be six times more numerous, are also more deserving of support, if the teaching which they afford can be to some extent liberalized and enlarged. It is essential, however, that some secular subjects should be introduced into the course of teaching, so that the elements of expansion may not be wanting. The Director points out that the system which should govern all methods of primary instruction in Bengal is to endeavour by the help of Government support to introduce into the traditional course of study, whether religious or secular, in the indigenous schools, certain subjects of instruction which will bring it into accordance with the general system of education in the province. In these views the Lieutenant-Governor entirely concurs, and will be glad to see a commencement made of Mr. Cotton's scheme for assisting and improving the indigenous maktabas of the district. This may be done without interfering with the religious character of the instruction given. It is only necessary that secular instruction should be superadded.

23. In the Primary Scholarship Examination of the year under report, there has been an increase of 1,579 competing schools with 3,925 pupils, and of 945 successful schools with 2,318 pupils. The bulk of the increase is found in the divisions of Patna and Bhagulpore. In every division there is an increase, except in Rajshahye. The proportion of pupils in the higher section of the primary stage (i. e. those who can read, write, and understand easy sentences in their mother-tongue) has increased from 34.4 to 37.1 per cent.; the proportion of those in the lower section has decreased from 64.5 to 61.7 per cent. It is very satisfactory to observe that 73 per cent. of the primary scholarships were gained by boys of the lower classes.

24. There is a slight diminution in the number of Eurasian and European schools and of pupils under instruction. More than three-fourths of the whole number of pupils belong to Calcutta schools. The number of candidates from these institutions that passed the Entrance Examination is the same as last year, but only one scholarship has been gained this year against seven in the preceding year. St. Paul's School at Darjeeling has recovered from its temporary depression under the skilful management of the present head master Mr. Carter. Its numbers have doubled, and last year it passed two candidates at the Entrance Examination—one in the first division. The Jamalpore School is the best of the Railway schools; it has been admirably managed by Mr. and Mrs. Pegler, who have now been transferred to the Constantia School at Kurseong.

25. There has been an increase of pupils in all classes of girls' schools, and an addition of 1,612 to the number of girls reading in boys' schools. The latter is due to the increase in the number of girls attending primary grant pathshalas. There appears to be a slight falling off in the number of girls in the two upper stages of instruction, but it is doubtful if implicit reliance can be placed upon the figures. One very interesting incident in the educational history of the year was the success of Miss Kadambini Bose at the Entrance examination. This is the first instance of a Bengali lady passing an examination of the University. Miss Bose was graded in the second division, having failed by one mark only to obtain a place in the first division. A special Junior Scholarship was created for her by Sir Ashley Eden, and it is hoped that her distinguished success may stimulate her young fellow countrywomen to endeavour to follow her example. Three young ladies—whose names are Kamini Sen, Abala Das, and Suburna Prabha Bose, all like Miss Kadambini Bose pupils of the Bethune School—passed the Middle Scholarship Examination, two in English and the third in Vernacular. Five "Mary Carpenter" scholarships, instituted by the National Indian Association of London, have been competed for during the course of the year—three of Rs. 48 per annum by the Lower Vernacular, and two of Rs. 60 per annum by the Middle Vernacular standard. Forty-seven girls presented themselves for examination for the Utterparah Hitaishini Sabha scholarships. Of these twenty-six passed—ten by the first, twelve by the second, and four by the third standard.

26. Mrs. Monmohini Wheeler, Inspectress of Schools, examined during the year 1,059 out of the 1,639 pupils returned as under instruction in zenanas or zenana schools. The discrepancies between the returns made by her of the standards attained by the examinees and those made by the Superintendents of the zenana agencies are very striking. Thus Mrs. Wheeler places 82 per cent. of the pupils in the lowest stage, in which the attainments are limited to read.

ing small words, writing the alphabet and counting to 50; while the zenana agents claim that the proportion is only 30 per cent. It is not possible to reject the judgment of the Inspectress in favour of that of the Superintendents, nor is it possible to reconcile estimates which exhibit such wide differences. Mr. Croft justly observes that these discrepancies illustrate the difficulty of introducing any method of payment by standards. The Director also refers to the grave defects in the existing system of zenana teaching reported by Mrs. Wheeler. These defects are partly in the management, partly in the character of the teachers employed. The want of co-operation among the different agencies, an absence of any sustained effort to enforce the payment of fees, the multiplication of schools within a limited area, the attempt to teach elderly women who have received no previous training, are defects of the first kind. The incapacity of many, and untrustworthiness of some, of the Native Christian teachers are defects of the second kind. The supply of good teachers is decidedly insufficient, and perhaps really the most satisfactory solution of the existing difficulty would be a contraction of the work of the different agencies and an improvement of the average teaching staff. It might then be possible to bring a reasonable system of payment by standards into operation. On the other hand, it is gratifying to observe that Mrs. Wheeler speaks highly of the work done by the ladies of the Zenana Association at Barrackpore, who have been trained in the Free Church Orphanage and Normal School. This institution is remarkable for the admirable discipline enforced within its walls, and it has turned out a succession of able teachers. The Church Mission School and Orphanage at Agurpara is of the same excellent class.

27. The number of law students has diminished from 316 to 227. The Presidency College law class has a surplus of Rs. 1,710, the Patna College of Rs. 317. If the cost to Government of the Hooghly and Dacca classes is deducted, there remains a surplus on all the classes of Rs. 1,134. Both the Dacca and Hooghly law classes, the only two which are a source of expense to Government, do very badly in the University examinations. It has now been decided to limit the salary of the Professor of Law at Dacca to the amount of fees paid by the students, provided they do not exceed Rs. 200 a month.

28. The number of students in the Medical College has increased from 145 to 208, whereas that of pupils in vernacular medical schools has declined from 686 to 609. The increase in the Medical College is due partly to the fact that the hospital class has been nearly doubled, partly to the re-admission of old University students or of those that failed at the last examination, at which the number of failures was greater than in preceding years. The effective desire for medical degrees is measured by the number of new admissions; of these there were only twenty against thirty-five of the previous year. The reports of the Superintendents of the Vernacular Medical Schools are very encouraging. In accordance with the recommendation of the Superintendent of the Campbell Medical School, the number of admissions each year is henceforth to be limited to fifty, and more satisfactory guarantees of preliminary education are to be required. The admission of casual students to this school has recently been stopped. These persons, unable to procure the necessary certificates for admission as regular students, have been known to return to practice in their villages after a brief attendance in the casual class, and thus bring discredit on the European system of medicine. The Director has this year, for the first time, had the advantage of the comments made by the Surgeon-General upon the various reports of the medical schools and colleges. Dr. Irving speaks highly of the hospital assistants turned out from the Temple Medical School. The Cuttack Medical School has made very satisfactory progress. This year's operations amply justify the opinion expressed in the last Resolution that there can be no doubt about the ultimate success and permanent usefulness of these institutions.

29. In the Civil Engineering Department of the Presidency College the number of students has increased from eighty-seven to eighty-nine, while those in vernacular survey schools have advanced from 160 to 165. Technical schools number 149 pupils, an increase of one. Arrangements for the establishment of an Industrial School on the site of Bishop's College are in progress, and the Lieutenant-Governor has every confidence that this institution will prove of the utmost benefit to the youth of the province. It will give native boys of all classes the means of obtaining a thoroughly practical education, and enable them to leave the beaten track of clerical and ministerial service, for which alone they now care to qualify themselves; and it will open to them, as well as to the European and East Indian boys of the large cities, a large and useful professional career.

30. On the 31st of March there were seventy-six students on the roll of the School of Art, of whom sixty-nine were Hindus. Besides those seventy-six, fifty-one students had been in the school for longer or shorter periods, so that the total number who had received instruction during the year was 127. The Principal repeats with satisfaction his statement of last year, that continued improvement is taking place with regard to the length of time the students remain in the school. Out of the seventy-six students on the 31st March, forty had been in the school from two and a half to three years. He complains of the rawness of the students that come to him, and suggests that simple outline drawing should be made part of the instruction given in every school that receives Government aid. This suggestion is, the Lieutenant-Governor fears, impracticable. The progress made by the students continues to be most satisfactory. At the Fine Arts Exhibition held in Calcutta last cold weather, fourteen students and ex-students of the school contributed no fewer than sixty-six paintings and other studies from life, and 122 specimens of wood engraving and lithography, and they carried off four prizes and three certificates of honourable mention. Their success reflects great credit upon the Principal, Mr. H. H. Locke. Mr. H. H. Locke is also in immediate charge of the Art Gallery. The expenditure on the Gallery during the present year was Rs. 8,076 out of an annual grant of Rs. 10,000. Of this sum Rs. 3,280 was spent upon the purchase of four pictures which are regarded as very valuable additions to the Gallery.

31. In accordance with the policy followed in past years, six more Normal schools were closed during the year and two have been closed since the end of the year. Fifteen now remain, besides the boarding school at Rangamatti in the Hill Tracts of Chittagong, which is returned as a Normal school. Owing to the recent extension of primary education, it is found impossible to train more than a small fraction of the teachers of pathshalas. Third rate Normal schools have therefore been closed in all districts where secondary education is sufficiently widely spread to provide a fair supply of school-trained teachers to take employment in private schools. Such as remain are reported to do good service in fixing and maintaining a standard of efficiency that might otherwise suffer decline. In the Vernacular Master-ship Examination of this year, 224 candidates appeared, the same number as last year; but only 143 passed against 150. The Hooghly Normal School is again easily first, and that of Beaulah second. The Calcutta and Dacca schools again failed conspicuously. The continued ill-success of these institutions is said to be due rather to permanent adverse conditions than to any failure of duty on the part of the teachers. The Director justly remarks that the task now before the Department in connection with all Normal schools is not to provide better teachers, but to ensure an adequate and sustained supply of stipendiary students, qualified by their attainments and capacity to profit by their teaching.

32. The number of Mahomedans under instruction in Government aided and unaided schools has risen from 111,645 to 131,998. The policy of giving facilities for the study of English within the Madrasas whenever there is a genuine desire to learn that language, by the appointment of English-speaking Moulavis and by the allotment of Anglo-Persian scholarships chargeable to the Mohsin Fund, has been continued this year. A scholarship of Rs. 2,000 was granted in the course of the year to Syed Hossein, son of Moulavi Zainuddin Hossein, a well-known Mahomedan gentleman of Patna, to enable him to visit England for the purpose of prosecuting his studies there. Five Madrasas are supported from this Fund; the Calcutta Madrasa being the only one supported from General Revenues. In the general examination of the Madrasas, 112 candidates passed out of 167: forty-eight were placed in the first, twenty-eight in the second, and thirty-six in the third division. In the previous year, out of 161 candidates only eighty-six were successful. In the Calcutta Madrasa there is a steady increase of pupils from year to year. The Hooghly Madrasa is still weak, but it is expected that the Joraghat Branch Madrasa will soon be able to supply it with pupils. No changes of importance have taken place in the Dacca Madrasa. The results of the different annual examinations were satisfactory. There is a slight falling off in the Chittagong Madrasa. The establishment of a school as a feeder to it seems to be required.

33. In the early part of the year 1878, the Director proposed that, with a view to encourage the study of Sanskrit literature among private students, an examination should be held in the four subjects of literature, law, philosophy and the Vedas, and that certificates signed by the Director of Public Instruction and the Principal of the Sanskrit College should be given to successful candidates. Sanction having been given to the proposal, the first examination was held in April: fifty-two candidates appeared, and twenty-four certificates were granted. Each recipient of a certificate had a Sanskrit title bestowed on him, showing the branch in which he was proficient. The Principal of the Sanskrit College confidently anticipates that this examination will become one of the most popular institutions in the country.

34. In Bengal the supply of school books does not require any artificial stimulus. The work of selection is left to a Central Committee, which has for three or four years done very useful work. In the more backward province of Behar, the present Inspector has shown great energy in stimulating the compilation and translation from the Bengali of useful works. The Joint-Inspector of Orissa states that the patronage offered to authors by Government and the Maharajah of Dhenkanal has resulted in the production of a valuable series of school books: at the same time he points out that there is a want of Ooriya atlases and dictionaries.

35. No change of any importance has taken place in the educational policy of the Department during the past year. Superior instruction has been maintained at its former high level; great efforts have been made to secure the efficiency of secondary instruction, and the due application of the funds assigned to it, while the circle of organized primary instruction has been still further extended. The demand for education of all kinds is continually increasing, and the people show every year greater readiness to contribute towards its cost. Sir Steuart Bayley desires cordially to acknowledge the good work done by the officers of the Department, and the influence which their labours have exercised in stimulating the desire for knowledge among the people. The gentlemen who constitute the teaching and inspecting staff have earned a very high reputation for the educational body of Bengal. Mr. Croft directed the Department during the year with marked ability, and he has presented the results of the year's administration in a report which, for fulness and lucidity, leaves nothing to be desired.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE CHARITABLE HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1878.

MEDICAL

Darjeeling, the 23rd October 1879.

READ—

The Report by the Surgeon-General on the working of the Charitable Hospitals and Dispensaries in Bengal (excluding those in Calcutta and its Suburbs) for the year 1878.

Read again—

The Report for 1877, and the orders passed by Government thereon.

THE number of permanent dispensaries and hospitals at work in the interior of Bengal at the close of the year 1877 was 239. Eight new dispensaries were established during the year under review, and three, including a new dispensary, were closed. Thus 244 dispensaries remained open at the close of the year, and of these 166 were under the rules of 1872. Six temporary dispensaries, established in consequence of the outbreak of epidemics, were in existence in the Midnapore district for very short periods during the year, and one was opened in the Beerbhoom district on the 28th December. The present report does not show the statistics of the Synthia dispensary which was closed on the 1st June 1878, or of three newly established dispensaries which were not in full working order during the year. Of the 243 dispensaries from which returns were received by the Surgeon-General, 154, or 63·37 per cent., admitted both in and out-door patients, as compared with 62·2 per cent. in 1877; and the remaining 89, or 36·63 per cent., treated out-patients only.

2. Of the medical subordinates who had charge of dispensaries during 1878, 58 were Assistant Surgeons and 183 Civil Hospital Assistants. The Assistant Surgeons are reported to have generally done their work well, but many of the Hospital Assistants are, the Surgeon-General states, quite unfit for the posts they hold, being men without training and experience, who had to be thrust into independent charges in consequence of the sudden withdrawal of the Military-class Hospital Assistants for special famine duty in Madras and Mysore. Of the Civil Hospital Assistants attached to dispensaries, 78 drew extra pay in consequence of their knowledge of English, against 84 in 1877. Many others besides those who have passed the qualifying examination are reported to be able to write their returns and registers in English.

3. The total number of patients treated during 1877 in the mofussil dispensaries, including those omitted from the report for that year, was 874,264, of whom 23,853 were in-door and 850,411 out-door patients. The number of patients treated in the 243 dispensaries during the past year was 921,252, a higher number than in any previous year and 46,988 more than in 1877. Of those treated 27,720 were in-patients and 893,532 out-patients. Although the total number of in-door patients was thus greater by 3,867, and the number of out-door patients greater by 43,121 than in 1877, the average daily attendance of both in-patients and out-patients at each dispensary was lower in 1878 than in the previous year, being 7·75 and 33·72 as compared with 7·92 and 35·75 in 1877. The dispensaries which treated the largest number of patients were Dacca (19,305), Mozufferpore (16,491), Burdwan (15,738), Patna (14,730), and Midnapore (14,006). The total number of patients treated in the hospitals and dispensaries, permanent as well as temporary, both in Calcutta and in the interior of Bengal, was 1,245,776 against 1,225,852 in 1877. The proportion of the population treated in all the dispensaries and hospitals in the province was 2·05 per cent. against 2·02 per cent. in 1877. In the tabular statements in the report under review, the Surgeon-General should have entered the complete figures for 1877 instead of repeating the incomplete returns given in the previous reports.

4. Of the patients treated 60·46 per cent. were male adults, 19·57 per cent. female adults, and 19·96 per cent. children; 11 per cent. were Europeans, 39 per cent. Eurasians, 31·44 per cent. Mahomedans, 66·29 per cent. Hindus, and 1·76 per cent. persons of other races and religions. These proportions were nearly the same as in previous years.

5. Of the total number of in-door patients treated, 54·30 per cent. were cured, 11·07 per cent. were relieved, 20·22 per cent. died, and 14·4 per cent. are returned as otherwise accounted for. These results compare unfavourably with those of the previous year, when 55·03 per cent. were cured, 12·25 per cent. relieved, and 17·38 per cent. died. During 1878, the mortality was more than 30 per cent. in 22 dispensaries, and between 25 and 30 per cent. in 10 more. It was 50 per cent. at Bussirhat, 58·81 per cent. at Goalundo, 60·60 per cent. at Barrackpore, and 83·33 per cent. at Magoora. At Bussirhat and Magoora the average daily attendance of in-door patients was too small to render the high mortality of any significance.

6. As in 1877, the chief diseases treated in mofussil dispensaries were fever, goitre, diseases of the skin, diseases of the spleen, rheumatic affections, and ulcers. The patients suffering from these complaints were 22·88, 7·10, 6·70, 5·48, 4·83, and 4·73 per cent. respectively of the total number treated, as compared with 22·74, 6·66, 6·51, 6·59, 4·98, and 4·06 per cent. in the previous year. These figures show a decrease in the proportion of patients treated for diseases of the spleen and rheumatism, and a slight increase in the proportion of those suffering from the other diseases mentioned. There was a falling off in the number of fever cases treated in the dispensaries in the Burdwan Division from 84,509 in 1877 to 80,345 in 1878. The total number of cases of goitre treated in the past year was 65,401 against 55,480 in 1877. These cases were most numerous in the dispensaries in the districts of Mozufferpore (14,537), Sarun (13,245), Chumparun (10,044), Rungpore (10,520), Durbhunga (6,222), Purneah (2,735), Mymensing (2,113), Bhagulpore, (1,556), and Dacca (1,490), while in many of the adjoining districts there were scarcely any cases of the disease treated. With reference to the remarks made in the Resolution on the Report for 1877, on the subject of the prevalence of goitre in certain parts of Bengal and Behar, the Surgeon-General quotes a passage from the annual report of Dr. Mathew, Civil Surgeon of Mozufferpore, from which it appears that, while the disease may be very prevalent in one village, it may be almost unknown in others in the immediate vicinity. The Surgeon-General remarks that little or nothing is known as to the cause of the disease, though it is "variously ascribed to drinking snow water or water impregnated with calcareous or earthy particles, or to living in damp places imperfectly drained." Dr. Irving's suggestion for the deputation of a special officer to investigate the origin of the disease cannot at present be adopted, but the Sanitary Commissioner will be desired to make enquiries on the subject during his visits to districts in which the disease prevails.

7. Altogether 48,970 surgical operations are reported to have been performed in the mofussil dispensaries during the past year, and of these 2,791 are classified as major and 46,179 as minor operations. The number of major operations reported to have been performed during 1877 was 2,301, and of minor operations 37,908. As in 1877, the greatest number of major operations were performed in the dispensaries of Monghyr (416), Dacca (176), Mozufferpore (105), and Dinapore (95). Though the total number of major operations performed in 1878 was greater than in 1877, the number performed by Civil Surgeons themselves was less than in the preceding year. The Superintendents of the Hooghly, Rajshahye, Julpigoree, Patna, Bankipore, and Mozufferpore dispensaries performed no operations at all, and those of the Berhampore and Arrah dispensaries only one operation each. In the Resolution on the report for 1877, the Lieutenant-Governor drew attention to the neglect of practical surgery by several of the Civil Surgeons; and the Surgeon-General, in contrasting this year the number of operations performed in the dispensaries of the North-Western Provinces with those in Bengal, points out forcibly that, unless the Civil Surgeon takes an interest in the operations at the dispensaries in his charge, there is not likely to be any increase in the number of patients to be operated upon. Of the patients who underwent major operations 86·7 per cent. are shown to have been cured or relieved, against 83·4 per cent. in the previous year; while the mortality was 4·1 per cent. in 1878, against 4 per cent. in 1877, and 3 per cent. in 1876. These figures cannot, however, be accepted without qualification, as in a recent memorandum by the Committee on Medical Expenditure in Bengal it is shown that most of the so-called major operations performed in dispensaries are such as would be classified as minor operations, or not counted as operations at all at the Medical College Hospital. The present classification is in accordance with the form prescribed in the orders of the Government of India, No. 129 of the 21st February 1877; but it is clear that in many of the dispensaries the principle stated in the note to those orders is neglected, and operations which involve no danger to life or to an organ or limb are classed as major instead of minor operations. This principle also appears not to have been followed with regard to all the operations classified in the prescribed form, and if the Surgeon-General will prepare and submit a revised list of major operations, the Lieutenant-Governor will forward it to the Government of India, with a request that it may be adopted in substitution for the present form.

8. The total income of all the mofussil dispensaries for the past year, excluding the balance on the 1st January 1878, the cost of medicines, forms, and registers supplied by Government, and the sale proceeds of medicines, was Rs. 3,96,885. This is less than the receipts of 1877 by Rs. 3,275, but is greater than those of any previous year. The contributions from Government amounted to Rs. 1,18,945, or 29·97 per cent. of the whole income; Rs. 1,29,599 or 32·65 per cent. was contributed by native subscribers, and Rs. 22,412 or 5·64 per cent. by Europeans; the interest from invested capital amounted to Rs. 31,240 or 7·87 per cent. of the total income; municipalities and town committees contributed Rs. 30,918 or 7·79 per cent.; and Rs. 63,771 or 16·07 per cent. was derived from other local sources. Compared with the previous year, there was a slight increase in the proportion of income derived from private and municipal contributions, and from interest on invested capital, and a slight decrease in the proportion of receipts from Government and from local funds other than those of municipalities.

9. The total cost of European medicines supplied by Government free of charge to dispensaries in the interior appears from the returns furnished by Civil Surgeons to have been Rs. 18,842. It is, however, doubtful if this amount is correct, for the Surgeon-General has been unable yet to obtain accurate information from the Examiner of Medical Accounts. It was expected that the required information which was not available at the time the report was submitted would be forwarded to Government soon afterwards, but it has not yet been received. The Examiner of Medical Accounts will, it is understood, in future furnish the Accountant-General with quarterly statements of the cost of medical stores supplied to each institution in Bengal and the value of articles returned to store. If these statements are regularly and punctually forwarded, as the Lieutenant-Governor trusts they will be, there ought in future to be no difficulty in giving full and accurate information in the Annual Reports. In order to avoid the waste of expensive drugs, and the constant irregularities in the issue and custody of medicines under the present system by which European medical stores are supplied gratuitously by Government to dispensaries, it has been decided to adopt in Bengal the system in force in Madras and Bombay under which dispensaries pay for all medicines and instruments they receive from the Government stores. This measure was suggested by the Government of India in January last, and the Committee on Medical Expenditure, who were consulted on the subject, have recommended its adoption. The Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that it is the only system under which waste can be prevented, and dispensaries that cannot afford to pay for their own medical stores will be closed unless there are some very special circumstances to render their maintenance necessary. Enquiries have recently been made through the Commissioners to ascertain the exact financial condition of each dispensary, and the future status of each institution will now be definitely determined.

10. In 47 dispensaries, the actual receipts from local sources fell short of the guaranteed income, and the subscriptions promised to many of the dispensaries were not regularly paid. Appendix No. I to the report shows that 147 dispensaries had subscriptions in arrears on the 31st December 1878, and in several cases large sums were outstanding. The fact that Government have hitherto contributed so largely to these institutions appears in some instances to have produced the impression among the people that they are under no obligation to maintain the dispensaries themselves, and that any failure on their part to pay their promised subscriptions will be met by additional assistance from Government. From the remarks of the Civil Surgeon of Beerbhoom it would appear that the zemindars of that district have been demoralized by the establishment of numerous temporary dispensaries at the sole cost of Government. On the other hand, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to acknowledge the liberality of many of the Rajahs and zemindars of Bengal, but for whose contributions it would have been necessary to close several institutions that are now in a flourishing condition. The liberality of the Maharajah of Bettiah is specially noticed by the Surgeon-General.

11. The total expenditure during the year, excluding surplus funds invested, was Rs. 4,16,342 against Rs. 3,83,198 in 1877. In two dispensaries, viz. those at Rampore Hât and Doolye, the expenditure exceeded the income. The former showed a deficit also in the previous year, and the latter dispensary has now been closed. The accounts of 32 dispensaries showed no balance at the end of the year, while 21 dispensaries invested a portion of their income after the payment of all expenses. The total amount invested was Rs. 24,501 against Rs. 17,097 in 1877, and Rs. 16,342 in 1876. The surplus balance at the end of the year, including money invested, varied from thirteen annas at the Bussirhat dispensary to Rs. 1,71,649 to the credit of the Mitford Hospital at Dacca. The mean balance at the credit of each dispensary in the province was Rs. 2,906.

12. Out of 198 dispensaries outside the limits of civil stations, 179, or 90·4 per cent., were visited by Civil Surgeons, 64 being inspected once, 63 twice, 31 thrice, 7 four times, and 14 more than four times, while 19 dispensaries were not inspected at all. Notwithstanding the repeated orders of Government on the subject, the duty of inspecting mofussil dispensaries appears to be less and less attended to. The figures just given show that 42 per cent. of the dispensaries were during the past year not visited as often as the existing rules require. The number of inspections prescribed is only two annually, and the Lieutenant-Governor must insist on these inspections being made. The names of those Civil Surgeons who neglect this important portion of their duty should be submitted in future for the Lieutenant-Governor's information. In order to secure that the inspections when made are properly and thoroughly performed, the Surgeon-General prepared a form of inspection report at the close of the past year, and the form is now adopted by all Civil Surgeons. The inspections by Dr. Coates, the Sanitary Commissioner, and Dr. Harvey, the Officiating Sanitary Commissioner, are reported to have been especially thorough and useful.

13. The Dispensary Committees appear to have taken but little more interest in their work during the past year than in 1877, and the returns of meetings held are very unsatisfactory. The Committees of only 9·87 per cent. of the dispensaries met regularly once a month. In 2·05 per cent. of the dispensaries, the Committees assembled ten times; in 2·05 per cent. nine times; in 2·47 per cent. eight times; in 3·7 per cent. seven times; in 5·35 per cent. six times; in 2·88 per cent. five times; in 5·76 per cent. four times; in 9·46 per cent. three times; in 10·28 per cent. twice, and in 11·11 per cent. only once during the year. The Committees of 22·64 per cent. of the dispensaries either held no meeting at all during the year, or kept no record of their meeting. The continuance of the dispensaries will in future depend more than hitherto on the exertions of the Committees, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the increased responsibility devolving upon them will lead to their devoting more time and attention to the institutions in their charge.

14. The amount realized by the sale of medicines at dispensaries in the financial year 1878-79 was Rs. 3,509, against Rs. 11,989 in 1877-78 and Rs. 6,539 in 1876-77, the falling off being accounted for by the sale of sulphate of quinine being stopped and the substitution of the cheaper cinchona febrifuge manufactured at the Government plantation at Rungbee, of which 67 lbs. were sold to the public during the year. Having regard to the very small demand for other drugs, the Surgeon-General recommends that their sale by Government should be discontinued. There is no doubt considerable loss by the deterioration of the drugs kept in stock by Civil Surgeons, but some benefit must be caused by even the small sales that now take place, and the Lieutenant-Governor will await the results of another year before deciding whether the cinchona febrifuge shall alone be sold by Government. The extracts given from reports by medical officers as to the value of the mixed cinchona alkaloids are interesting, and the experiences of Dr. Harvey and Dr. Gopal Chunder Roy form a valuable addition to the overwhelming testimony as to the efficacy of the febrifuge. Dr. Harvey, who has not only prescribed the drug extensively but used it largely himself, considers it to be very little, if at all, inferior to quinine; and in the sudder dispensary at Beerbhoom 3,945 cases of fever were treated in three months, the febrifuge being supplemented by only 2½ oz. of sulphate of quinine. The observations of the Civil Medical Officer of Dinagepore certainly require to be tested by other observers before any importance can be attached to them. Sir Steuart Bayley finds it difficult to accept, without further explanation, Dr. Mookerjee's assertion that the febrifuge, "is useless in the constitution of a higher class native, while it is a very useful remedy for people of a lower stratum in society."

15. Orders have issued separately regarding the payment to be made by Magistrates in certain cases for the maintenance of persons sent to dispensaries by the police in consequence of injuries sustained under circumstances which form the subject of a criminal enquiry. The proposal made by the Surgeon-General that each Civil Hospital Assistant should be compelled to subscribe for a small half-yearly or annual medical periodical to be published in Bengali is now under consideration, and orders will be issued hereafter.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Surgeon-General for information and guidance, and to all Commissioners of Divisions for information and for communication to District Officers.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution, together with a copy of the Report, be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Jails for information, and to the Sanitary Commissioner for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution, together with a copy of the Report, be forwarded to each member of the Committee on Medical Expenditure for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution, together with a copy of the Report, be submitted to the Government of India in the Home, Revenue and Agricultural Department for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION FOR 1878-79.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 24th October 1879.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Chota Nagpore Division for 1878-79.

The Commissioner has dealt fully with most of the branches of the administration and other subjects regarding which information is desired in these reports. Mr. Mangles held charge of the division until the end of October 1878, when he was compelled by ill-health to take furlough. Mr. Hewitt, who succeeded him, has since been in charge.

2. Tours.—The Sudder and Sub-Divisional Offices of Hazareebagh were inspected by Mr. Mangles before his departure. Mr. Hewitt commenced his tour on the 3rd December, and, from that date until his return to head-quarters on the 20th February, he marched through Lohardugga, Palamow, the Tributary States, Singbhoom, and Manbhoom, doing the usual inspection at the different places visited by him. The tour of the Deputy Commissioner of Hazareebagh extended over four months, and was very usefully employed by him in the inspection of police stations, schools, and other departments. The Deputy Commissioner of Manbhoom was out for more than three months, during which period his attention was chiefly given to the organization of relief measures on a small scale in the western portion of the district, and the settlement of important matters affecting some of the large estates of the district. In Lohardugga the Deputy Commissioner having recently joined, and being new to the district, was unable to absent himself for any considerable time from head-quarters. In Singbhoom the cold-weather tour was interrupted by unavoidable changes of the district officer. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that in this district and Lohardugga the Deputy Commissioners will be able to give more time to their tours in the ensuing cold season. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Palamow spent the entire cold weather in camp, and enquired into the license tax assessments in no less than 400 villages, besides doing a good deal of other routine or special work.

3. Weather and crops.—The rainfall of the year was both scanty and badly distributed, contrasting very unfavourably with that of the previous year, which was itself deficient as compared with the rainfall of 1876-77. The rainfall in the past three years has been as follows:—

			1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79.
Hazareebagh	...	...	58·78	40·58	41·27
Lohardugga	...	...	67·64	53·83	46·74
Manbhoom	...	...	69·27	61·29	50·28
Singbhoom	...	...	70·35	60·51	37·54

The heat is reported to have been intense in Singbhoom for some weeks during May and June last year. The rainy season came to an early termination everywhere, and was followed by a winter of great severity in Hazareebagh and Lohardugga. Rice gave an outturn of 12 annas in Hazareebagh and the head-quarters sub-division of Lohardugga, but of only 6 or 7 annas in Palamow. In Manbhoom the harvest was fairly successful, the low land crops in a few pergunnahs being pronounced magnificent. The outturn for the whole district in Singbhoom was below the average. The bhadoi crops and Indian-corn did well in all districts, but the cold-weather crops and mohwa, which enters largely into the food consumption of the people, suffered generally from frost and unseasonable weather.

4. Public health and material condition of the people.—Manbhoom is the only district in which the public health is reported to have been good during the year. In Hazareebagh 12,467 deaths were registered against 8,565 in 1877-78. The district suffered from a cholera epidemic, which spread gradually from north to south over a considerable tract, and proved fatal to a large number of people. It was found expedient to stop the emigration of coolies from the 17th July to the 24th October. The Deputy Commissioner attributes the outbreak in some measure to the impoverished state of the people, who were compelled for a time to consume jungle produce, such as roots and tender bamboo shoots, for want of better food. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that the same cause has been assigned by the local officers for the unusual prevalence of sickness in parts of Orissa during the past year. The mortality registered in Lohardugga was also higher than in the preceding year. The prevailing disease was fever, to which 21,820 deaths out of the 28,694 registered were ascribed. Singbhoom suffered more than usual from its common diseases—fever and bowel-complaints. The bad condition of the water-supply in the interior of the district renders the people peculiarly prone to the latter disease.

The high range of prices combined with the poor outturn of some of the crops, especially mohwa, must have caused much suffering to a large section of the people during the last two years. Works were started last year in some localities in Hazareebagh and Lohardugga with the special object of affording relief to persons in distress. With regard to the general condition of the people, the Deputy Commissioner of Manbhoom states that the regular cultivators, who cultivate their own lands with their own ploughs, are fairly off, but that the non-cultivating classes lead a hand to mouth existence. The Deputy Commissioner of Singbhoom gives a more pleasing account of the people of his district. The Hos, who constitute the bulk of the population, are said to be prosperous and contented, although the poverty-stricken appearance of their habitations would convey an opposite impression to a stranger.

5. Emigration and Immigration.—The number of emigrants, inclusive of dependents, registered for the tea districts of Assam, Sylhet, and Cachar in the past two years was as follows:—

		1877-78.	1878-79.
Hazareebagh	...	6,953	4,698
Lohardugga	...	10,021	11,210
Manbhoom	...	11,153	9,296
Singbhoom	...	444	410
Total	...	28,571	25,614

The district officers should in future specify the number of dependents and emigrants separately. It is impossible to gather accurate information on the subject for every district from the present report. So far as can be ascertained, it appears that, of the total number of emigrants last year, 10,863 were dependents, 1,570 having been registered in the sudder sub division of Hazareebagh, 5,107 in Lohardugga, and 4,186 in Manbhoom. In 1877-78 the number of dependents registered in Lohardugga and Manbhoom was 8,239. No explanation of the falling off in emigration to the tea districts is offered in the report. Some malpractices on the part of sirdars and recruiters were discovered, but, on the whole, the operations in connection with emigration were carried on with less friction than formerly. This result appears to be chiefly due to the gradual substitution of garden sirdars for professional recruiters. The westward movement of the aboriginal population in Lohardugga, which was noticed last year, continues. The emigrants settle in the Tributary States of Gangpore, Jushpore and Sirgulah, to which they appear to be drawn by the easy terms on which land can be procured. There was no emigration to the colonies, and no immigration in the past year.

6. Prices of food and labour.—Food was dear throughout the division during the year. In Lohardugga the price of common rice rose to nearly double the rate in 1876-77, and 25 per cent. above the rate in 1877-78. Murwa, a grain much used by the poorer classes, and Indian-corn also advanced in price. In Manbhoom rice was at one time selling at 11 seers the rupee. In Singbhoom its price has doubled within the last few years. The rates of wages remain unchanged everywhere, although a tendency to rise might have been expected not only from the increase in the prices of food-grains, but also from the drain which emigration makes on the supply of labour. The emigrants from Lohardugga in the past year amounted to a percentage of 1.26 of the whole population of Chota Nagpore proper. The system of payment in kind which exists in most parts of the division fortunately protects the labourer against the effects of a rise in the cost of the principal articles of food.

7. Manufactures and Mines.—With the exception of tussar silk, a small quantity of which is exported from Manbhoom, the manufactures of the division are confined to articles required for local consumption. They consist chiefly of brass and pewter utensils, ornaments, and coarse cloth. The use of the small hand sugar-mill patented by Messrs Thomson and Mylne of Beheea is extending among growers of sugarcane in the Palamow sub-division, and thirty of these machines were sold during the year. A similar machine for oil-pressing would doubtless be much appreciated. The richness of Chota Nagpore in coal is well known. Five mines in Hazareebagh, two in Manbhoom, and one in Palamow were working in the past year, as appears from statistics recently collected. The most important mines are found in the Hazareebagh district. They are stated in the report to have employed 8,000 labourers during the year, the output being 381,173 tons, or 81,772 tons more than in 1877-78. Small quantities of coal were also extracted from the mines in Manbhoom and Palamow. The coal-fields of these tracts remain practically untouched, owing to the absence of easy means of communication with the rest of Bengal. Pergunnahs Jheria and Nowagurh in Manbhoom comprise a vast coal-field, the area of which has been estimated by geologists at 200 square miles. The copper mines of Singhboom are yet unworked, and the Mica mines on the Gowan Estate in Hazareebagh would appear to be worked on a very small scale. The tea industry is alluded to very briefly and in the most general way in the report. In the Resolution issued last year, the Lieutenant-Governor especially desired that this subject should be noticed at length in future reports, and he must now reiterate his wish on this point.

8. Trade and Commerce.—The principal exports of the division are rice, oil-seeds, pulses, and molasses, and the principal imports salt, cotton, piece-goods, and spices. The exportation of rice from Manbhoom, the most important rice-producing district of the division, was smaller than usual in the past year, but oil-seeds and molasses were largely exported from the Govindpore sub-division to Beerbhoom and Raneegunge. In Hazareebagh a large trade in imports and exports is carried on at the large marts of Chattra and Hazareebagh. The trade in country produce was brisk during the cold season in Lohardugga. Almost the whole trade of the most important of the Tributary States passes through the district, borne on pack-bullocks. Looking to the immense resources of Palamow and the Tributary States of Sirgujah and Oodeypore in minerals and forests, the Commissioner has no doubt that in a few years a railway passing through these regions to unite with the Nagpore line at Raipore will be considered one of the best routes on which Government money can be expended.

9. State of public feeling.—The division possesses no press and is yet too backward for the existence of anything like public opinion among the people. Measures of local interest are, however, sometimes keenly discussed by the classes whom they specially affect. The license tax is disliked, but it has apparently excited less discussion than in other parts of Bengal.

10. Administrative changes.—Several important changes were effected in the past year. In Hazareebagh the areas of several thanas were readjusted, and three new thanas created, and the outposts were more carefully distributed. By these arrangements the police jurisdictions have been made compact, and, as far as practicable, brought to the same size. The changes were completed by a re-distribution of the moonsifec jurisdictions. They are said to have been a great boon to the people. The new Rural Police Act (VIII of 1878) for Hazareebagh and Lohardugga is being introduced in those districts. The position of the "Digwars" will be much improved under the Act, and it is hoped that highway robberies will be effectually checked. The Deputy Commissioner of Hazareebagh thus explains the patrol system adopted for his district:—"The Digwars are to patrol the roads from sunrise to sunset on either side of the road-posts, and raised platforms are erected in the centre of the beats, where they remain during the day. At night they return to their road-posts to sleep, as travellers do not travel about this jungly district at night." Since the close of the year the thanas of Raipore and Khattra, which were found to be inconveniently situated in regard to Purulia, the sudder station of Manbhoom, have been transferred from that district to Bankoora.

11. Police and Crime.—The Commissioner rightly remarks that the regular police have to contend with considerable difficulties in this division, owing to the wild nature of the country and the fact that the criminal classes are distributed over the country instead of being collected in well-known centres. The force appears to be efficient in all districts of the division save Manbhoom. In Lohardugga it contains a large number of old military men, who, though deficient in detective ability, must in other respects make very useful policemen. The police of Manbhoom has been allowed to fall into a state of general laxity. The Commissioner reports that cases were too often very carelessly enquired into during the past year, the whole object of the police apparently being to get the case off their file without caring whether the crime was brought home to the real criminals or not. A marked improvement is said to have occurred of late, but the Lieutenant-Governor expects that the efforts of the local officers will not be relaxed until a thorough change for the better is accomplished. The condition of the force must be specially noticed in next year's report. In Singbhoom the regular police are employed only in pergunnahs Dhalbhoom and Porahat. In the Government Kolhan the village headmen discharge all police functions under the control of the District Superintendent, and in the States of Seraikela and Kharsawan the Chiefs maintain their own police. The rural police, consisting of chowkidars and ghatwals, are reported to be very useful.

12. An increase of crime is observed in the returns of every district, a result which is in the main accounted for by the high prices of the year. In Hazareebagh there were 2,303 cases of all kinds against 2,248 in the previous year; in Lohardugga 1,857 cases against 1,581; and in Singbhoom 428 cases against 298. Figures for only the principal heads of crime are supplied for Manbhoom, and they show a very large increase in the number of offences under these heads within the last three years. The increase in cases of dacoity, lurking house-trespass, cattle-theft and ordinary theft is most marked, and fully bears out the Commissioner's strictures on the state of the police.

13. Civil Justice.—The treatment of this subject in the report is still defective. The number of suits instituted and disposed of is stated, but no attempt is made to review the course of civil litigation during the year. The suits instituted and disposed of were as follow:—

			Instituted.	Disposed of
Hazareebagh	...	...	1,100	968
Lohardugga	...	...	936	850
Manbhoom	...	...	3,219	2,802
Singbhoom	...	...	1,031	875
		Total	6,286	5,495

The figures for Hazareebagh and Manbhoom include 127 and 501 suits respectively pending from the previous year. In addition to the above, there was a large number of miscellaneous cases for disposal. The amount of civil litigation in the whole division cannot be deemed excessive.

14. Land Revenue and matters connected with the land.—Chota Nagpore contains 395 revenue-paying estates, bearing an aggregate current demand of Rs. 3,64,200. In the past year the total demand, including arrears, amounted to Rs. 3,80,128, of which sum Rs. 3,59,110 were collected, Rs. 900 remitted, and Rs. 20,118 remained unrealized at the close of the year. The unrealized balance was very heavy in Lohardugga, the collections having, it is said, been affected by failure of crops and high prices. The Deputy Commissioner of this district notices an increase in alienations of estates by sale and mortgage, indicating that the money-lending class is gradually supplanting the old landowners. A large number of estates belonging to influential indigenous families have, however, been already placed under the protection of the Encumbered Estates Act, and others can be protected hereafter should they have a fair claim to the benefit of the Act.

15. Several important settlements were in progress during the year. Operations were nearly completed on the Government Burkagurh estate and the minor estates of Puttia and Silum. Sixty-four square miles of boundary and cadastral survey were accomplished on these estates in the course of the year. In Manbhoom the pergunnahs of Mahta and Koelapal were placed under settlement, and nearly the whole of the latter was measured before the end of the year. The re-settlement of the Porahat estate in Singbhoom was also commenced, and 84 out of 336 villages were measured. The cadastral survey of the Chota Nagpore Estate was discontinued, the expense attending it having been found to be quite disproportionate to the real requirement of the estate and the value of the results to be obtained. The Lieutenant-Governor will give full consideration to any proposals for a less expensive system of measurement which the Commissioner may submit.

16. Excise.—The failure of the mohwa crop led to a reduction in distillation and a consequent decrease in the revenue from country spirits in Hazareebagh, Lohardugga, and Manbhoom. The total excise receipts in Hazareebagh were Rs. 1,15,094 against Rs. 1,47,633 in the preceding year. In Lohardugga there was an increase from Rs. 1,67,190 to Rs. 1,69,513, due to the confiscation of deposits on surrender of licenses within the year. In Manbhoom the revenue fell off by Rs. 119, while in Singbhoom it rose to Rs. 16,685, as compared with Rs. 15,899 in 1877-78. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the result of the enquiries which the Deputy Commissioner of Lohardugga has been directed to make with regard to alleged smuggling across the Gya border may be reported.

17. License Tax.—It is clear from the following figures that the assessments were very carelessly made in the first instance:—

		Assessed. Rs.	Remitted. Rs.
Hazareebagh	...	65,698	23,087
Lohardugga	...	59,678	13,795
Singbhoom	...	18,780	4,809

In Lohardugga there were assessments pending revision at the end of the year in which large remissions were likely to be made. The remissions in Manbhoom are not reported. The total assessment of Rs. 14,195 returned for the district would, however, show that it has been lightly assessed.

18. Monetary arrangements.—There has been a further increase in the use of copper coins in Lohardugga, the amount received into the treasury being Rs. 1,52,620 and that paid out Rs. 1,06,934. Transactions in currency notes appear to have been also active in all the districts. Savings Banks are not more popular than in other districts of Bengal. The deposits are small and remain nearly the same from year to year. The total amount paid on money-orders in Hazareebagh increased from Rs. 8,969 to Rs. 12,072, owing to the general use of this mode of remittance by emigrants serving in the tea districts.

19. Communications.—The three roads from Hazareebagh to Burhee, Bagodur and Band Kheta respectively, and the road from Doomri to Giridih, are reported to be in excellent order and fit for any kind of traffic. Several village roads were repaired during the year, and the municipal roads are said to be in good condition. In Lohardugga communications are still very defective. The Deputy Commissioner's recommendation that the roads from Ranchee to Raneegunge via Purulia, and from Ranchee to Hazareebagh via Ramgurh, should be made over to the Road Cess Committees of the districts concerned will be referred to the Public Works Department, with which the Commissioner should communicate. In Manbhoom Rs 39,065 were spent on the roads during the year. The completion of the Chyebassa road is an expensive work which will take some years. The Road Cess Act is not in force in Singbhoom, and the roads are maintained by an allotment from the Grant-in-aid Fund.

20. Schools.—The division is backward in education, but progress is being gradually made, particularly in the district of Manbhoom, where there is a large Bengali element in the population. The system of payment by results has been introduced of late with good effect in Hazareebagh. The number of schools in this district was 253, and of pupils 5,274, in the past year, as compared with 233 schools and 4,881 pupils in the previous year. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Deputy Commissioner that the practice of allotting stipends to the gurus of primary schools according to the number of their pupils, hitherto followed in Lohardugga, is open to abuse, and he is glad to learn that the Committee intend to adopt the sounder principle of gauging the claims of the gurus by the general results of their teaching as shown in the inspection reports. There has been a satisfactory increase in the number of schools and pupils in Manbhoom, and the proposed substitution of payment by results for the present system of grants will, no doubt, cause a further expansion of education. Eight boys from the district passed the University Entrance examination. Singbhoom has 83 schools attended by 3,704 pupils. Out of 2,133 pupils at the primary schools, 1,639 or 76 per cent. are Hos.

21. Vaccination.—The number of operations performed in Hazareebagh was 37,462, of which 35,859 were successful. In Lohardugga there were 28,072 operations with 25,043 successful cases. In Manbhoom 52,298 operations were reported, but only half the number was verified during the year. The number in Singbhoom was 18,497, of which 16,964 cases were successful. The vaccinators are either retained and paid by Government or licensed and permitted to charge fees. There were 43 in Hazareebagh, 37 in Lohardugga, 35 in Manbhoom, and 22 in Singbhoom, 75 of the whole number being ex-inoculators.

22. Conduct of zemindars.—The majority of the zemindars of Hazareebagh are deeply involved in debt and unable to contribute much to objects of public utility. The Tekait of Kurhurbari and the Zemindars of Serampore and Palgunge are, however, again favourably mentioned—the first two for the interest which they have taken in education, and the last for his great moderation and consideration in dealing with his Sonthal ryots. In Lohardugga Hanuman Sing, Baya of Beroo, is regarded as a model landlord by the people, a character which he has borne for many years. The Maharance of Pandra and the Zemindar of Jheria in Manbhoom are well spoken of.

23. Court of Wards and Attached Estates.—The Court of Wards had under its management ten estates, with a total rent-roll of Rs. 4,99,121, and a total revenue and rent charge of Rs. 36,593. The largest of the estates are those of Chota Nagpore and Deogun in Lohardugga, Dhunwar and Gowan in Hazareebagh, and Dhalbhoom in Singbhoom. The Chota Nagpore estate, which comprises the whole of the Sudder sub-division of Lohardugga, was relieved from protracted litigation during the year by the dismissal of an appeal preferred to the Privy Council by a claimant who had contested the minor's title. It has a rent-roll of Rs. 2,81,556, and pays a Government revenue of Rs. 14,364. Debts amounting to nearly six lakhs of rupees had been paid by the end of the past year, and the estate is now solvent. It will now be possible to incur expenditure for the general improvement of the property. The Deogun, Gowan, and Dhunwar estates are also solvent, the first two having large sums invested in Government securities. The Dhalbhoom estate covers an area of 1,188 square miles, inhabited by a population of 1,12,902 souls, and has a rent demand of Rs. 44,000. The minor proprietor is receiving instruction from a private tutor. The Attached Estates under the Political Department have been released since the introduction of the Encumbered Estates Act. Twenty-six of them have been brought under the new Act.

24. The Commissioner's remarks on the officers subordinate to him will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Resolution of this Department, dated 30th March 1878, reviewing the estimates for the year 1878-79.

Endorsement from the Accountant-General, Nos. 1531-32, dated 6th October, forwarding the final consolidated abstract of receipts and disbursements for the month of March 1879, and for the year 1878-79.

Resolution of this Department, dated 9th September 1879, reclassifying the budget estimates for 1879-80.

The statement of the receipts and disbursements of the past year is due from the Accountant-General on the 15th August, but has not been received on this occasion till the 6th October. It is understood that the delay in making up the accounts is mainly due to the departments over which the Accountant-General has no control, but the latest account was, it appears, received from the Marine Accountant on the 20th August, and the delay between that date and the 6th October is unexplained.

2. The following statements show the actuals for the year 1878-79, both Actuals for 1878-79 as shown by receipts and disbursements, as compared with the Accountant-General. budget estimates and regular estimates for the year.

The regular estimates have been reclassified in accordance with the orders of the Government of India of the 31st March last, to enable them to be correctly compared with the receipts and disbursements under the same heads :—

Grand Total	3,99,91,000	4,11,39,546				4,04,95,583

The deductions exceed the additions by Rs 71,000, being the regular estimate of disbursements for the Wards' Fund.

3. The above figures are given as received from the Accountant-General, and at first sight they would indicate that the Bengal Government, instead of closing the year with a surplus of Rs. 45,40,750, had in fact a surplus of only Rs. 15,51,883, or nearly 30 lakhs below the regular estimate.

4. This, however, is due to very serious mistakes which have been admitted into the accounts, and which are marked (a), (b), and (c). As regards (a) it will be seen that according to the returns of the State Railway receipts and disbursements, the former were Rs. 6,72,509 and the latter Rs. 7,42,837 below the regular estimate. It is evident that there has been much confusion in these accounts, disbursements having been set off against receipts. If this has been done systematically, and the accounts sent to the Accountant-General show net receipts and net disbursements, the ultimate balance will not be affected; but the latest figures furnished to this department direct by the Railway Department gave Rs. 18,11,192 as receipts and Rs 14,07,636 as disbursements, a result which is Rs. 1,16,528 better than the figures given by the Accountant-General. The State Railways' Examiners should clear up the matter in correspondence with the Accountant-General. As regards (b), the Accountant-General has credited the Government of India with the gross instead of the net collections from the license tax, and thereby imposed upon the provincial revenues the costs of collection amounting to Rs. 2,79,340. To this extent therefore the closing balance has been incorrectly reduced.

5. The worst mistake of all, however, is that marked (c), whereby the whole of the capital expenditure on productive public works has been brought into the ordinary revenue account of the year, and thereby the regular estimate exceeded by Rs. 25,43,808. It has been ascertained that this capital expenditure amounted to Rs. 24,49,850, and to this extent the closing balance has been wrongly decreased.

Correct closing balance determined. 6. The correct closing balance should therefore be—

			Rs.
As shown by the Accountant-General	...	...	15,51,825
Add charges for collecting license tax	.	...	2,79,340
„ capital expenditure on canals	...	...	24,49,850
„ on account of State Railways as shown by that Department	...	...	1,16,528

which is Rs. 1,53,247 below the regular estimate. The last item, however, may possibly be liable to further modification.

7. As regards the mistakes marked (a) and (c), it seems to Sir Steuart Bayley the system must be seriously and dangerously incorrect which could have admitted them into these important accounts which set forth the final liabilities for the year of the provincial Government. The Accountant-General, it is understood, urges that it is only his duty to take the figures as given him by the Examiners of the Public Works Department, and throws the blame of the errors committed upon them. The Lieutenant-Governor is not in a position to determine with whom the fault lies; but clearly it is the duty of the account department, as a whole, to send in correct accounts, and in the case of complete failure to do so, as in the present instance, there must be gross errors of system somewhere. Moreover, it must have been clear to the Accountant-General that something was wrong when the railway receipts that were fixed for the regular estimate at Rs. 16,59,000 only amounted to Rs. 9,86,491, while at the same time the expenditure that had been estimated at Rs. 14,42,300 only amounted to Rs. 6,99,463; and when, as regards irrigation, the regular estimate of that department for disbursements was fixed at Rs. 10,32,661, while the results came out at Rs. 35,76,469; and with these facts before him the Accountant-General might surely have taken steps to rectify the mistakes in demi-official correspondence instead of submitting obviously incorrect account.

8. As regards the mistake (b), the orders of the Government of India on the subject of the license tax contribution, which are conveyed in the resolution of the 14th February 1878, are—"The contract amounts to be guaranteed by the several local Governments in respect to the taxes imposed in 1878 will be settled hereafter. Whatever amount may be in any case thus settled, the Imperial Government will limit its demands to the amount actually collected." By this the Government of India intended to take the net amount actually collected after defraying costs of collection, but the Accountant-General has understood it to mean the gross collections, leaving the local Government to bear the costs of collection. As therefore the Government of India entered in the regular estimates the sum of Rs. 21,15,000 as the amount of contribution, and the total collections only amounted to Rs. 20,19,027, this whole amount has been transferred by the Accountant-General to the Government of India, and the costs of collections treated as a charge on the provincial revenues.

9. The Accountant-General informed this Government that he had done so in his No. 578 of the 1st September, and was in reply directed to rectify the error, but the reply which was despatched on the 19th September reached him, it appears, too late to enable him to obtain the consent of the Comptroller-General to make the correction before sending in the statement.

10. The correct interpretation of the intentions of the Government of India is to be found in paragraph 9 of the resolution of this department, dated 19th February. In that paragraph, while estimating the gross receipts at 24 lakhs, and the net revenue at 21 to 21½ lakhs, it is stated. "This sum falls short of the 30 lakhs which the Government of India expected to receive from the Government of Bengal out of the proceeds of this tax. The modifications introduced into the Bill under the instructions of the Supreme Government have made it a much less productive measure than was anticipated, but the Lieutenant-Governor understands that the Government of India will be content to accept whatever the net proceeds of the tax may be within the limits originally laid down."

11. A copy of this was sent to the Accountant-General as usual, and also to the Government of India, with reference to their resolution of the 14th February, quoted above. And besides this, the above view was incorporated in section 37* of the License Tax Act, was approved by the Governor-General, and received formal legislative sanction, so that the action of the Accountant-General in crediting the Government of India with the gross collections is not merely mistaken, but also contrary to the law.

12. Moreover, his own budget estimates are amply sufficient to satisfy the Accountant-General that his interpretation was wrong. - The Government of India, which, as above referred to, originally expected to get 30 lakhs from the license tax, eventually entered Rs. 21,15,000 in the budget. It was obvious that the receipts being estimated at Rs. 23,50,000, and the disbursements estimated at Rs. 2,35,000, this amount of Rs. 21,15,000 was equal to the estimated net collections, and therefore that it was the intention of the Government of India to take the net and not the gross receipts.

13. The case is so clear, both as regards these costs of collections and the capital expenditure on canals, that the Lieutenant-Governor has no hesitation in taking credit for the additions to the balance thereby obtained in this resolution. Further information must be awaited before it can be finally determined what sum should be added for State Railways; but as the figures sent in by the Accountant-General are manifestly wrong, it is best to take the figures sent to this department by the Railway Department as provisionally correct.

14. Comparing the actuals with the reclassified regular estimate, it will be found that the opening balance has increased by Rs. 44,160. This is due to the amalgamation of the Wards Rate Fund and the Encamping Ground Grazing Fund with the provincial accounts, the former with a balance of Rs. 43,840 and the latter with a balance of Rs. 320. Rectifying the items marked (a), (b), and (c) in the manner indicated in the preceding paragraphs, the total receipts of the year, including the opening balance, amounted to Rs. 4,13,20,289 and the total disbursements to Rs. 3,69,22,746. Thus the receipts have exceeded the budget estimates by Rs. 13,29,289, or, allowing for the decrease in the opening balance, by Rs. 15,37,743, and exceeded the regular estimates by Rs. 1,77,743, or Rs. 1,37,583 if the addition of Rs. 44,160 to the opening balance be allowed for. The disbursements similarly fell short of the budget estimates by Rs. 4,66,254 and exceeded the regular estimates by Rs. 3,23,950.

15. The last two columns shew the extent of the surplus or deficit under each head of account; but as the second year after the extension of the decentralization scheme has now elapsed, the Lieutenant-Governor deems it expedient to review these accounts not merely with reference to the regular estimates for the year as shown in the above statements, but also with reference to the estimates and allotments that were made under each head at the time of the transfer of the charges to this Government, and thus to indicate the heads of revenue and the departments that have conduced to the financial prosperity of the Bengal Government, as well as those that have proved a loss to it. The separate financial responsibility of this Government dates from the year 1871-72, when the decentralization scheme was first introduced; but, for the purposes of the present review, it will suffice, in continuation of the Resolution of the 30th March 1878, to take the estimates for the year 1877-78 as they stood at the time when a considerable increase was made to the direct financial responsibility of the local Government.

16. The budget estimates for the year 1877-78 originally embraced the provincial receipts and expenditure of the Departments of Jails, Registration, Police, Education, Medical, Printing, Miscellaneous, and Public Works; and also certain expenditure incurred under the heads of Minor Establishments, Petty Construction and Repairs, and Rents, Rates, and Taxes. In addition to these heads of account the estimates of the local Government included certain special funds which made up the Provincial Reserve, the surplus of which was at the disposal of the Lieutenant-Governor for general purposes. These Accounts for the year compared with the estimates on which the provincial contract was revised in 1877

* Section 37.—From the net amount of all fees and penalties paid or recovered under this Act after deducting the expense of collection, so much as the Governor-General in Council from time to time directs shall be applied in such manner as the Governor-General in Council thinks fit, for the purpose of increasing the revenues available for defraying expenditure incurred or to be incurred for the relief and prevention of famine in the territories administered by the local Government, or if the Governor-General in Council so directs in any other part of British India. The residue (if any) of such net amount shall be carried to the credit of the local Government.

have subsequently been amalgamated with the general provincial fund. The provincial estimates as first framed for that year show—

	Rs.
Total receipts	25,18,000
To which were added receipts from Provincial Reserve	17,66,000
And allotments from the Government of India ...	1,10,59,000
Making a total of ...	1,53,43,000
Against this income the estimates of disbursements were	1,36,84,000
And from Provincial Reserve	15,09,000
	1,51,93,000
Showing a slight estimated surplus of	1,50,000
In addition to an opening balance then estimated at ...	1,51,000

17. By the orders of the Government of India extending the decentralization scheme, certain further branches of revenue and expenditure, estimated for the year 1877-78 at Rs. 1,91,07,000 receipts, and Rs. 1,34,70,000 disbursements, were transferred to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor, so that, to maintain the equilibrium, the previous allotment of Rs. 1,10,59,000 should have been reduced by Rs. 56,37,000. But as the Government of India imposed upon this Government the obligation of effecting savings to the extent of Rs. 5,90,000, the allotment was still further reduced by this amount, and was therefore originally fixed at Rs. 48,32,000.

18. Besides this deduction of Rs. 5,90,000 the Bengal Government was already liable to an additional burden of Rs. 21,000 for rents of public offices in Calcutta, without any corresponding revenue or assets. In 1873 the capitalised value of these rents was, at the request of Sir George Campbell, made over to the local Government, amounting in all to Rs. 4,66,670, to enable better accommodation to be provided for the Government offices. Before, however, this money could be spent, the Behar famine of 1874 occurred, in the relief of which the whole of this capital was swallowed up. Since that time therefore the Bengal Government has been meeting these rents from its savings under other heads, and this sum is included in the estimated surplus of Rs. 1,50,000 referred to in paragraph 16, which otherwise would have been Rs. 1,71,000.

19. Combining therefore the additions made in 1877-78 with the previous estimates, it will be seen that the modified estimates of the year 1877-78 of the Bengal Government under all heads aggregated Rs. 2,82,23,000 receipts against Rs. 2,86,63,000 disbursements, and hence the deficit, which had to be made good before any surplus could be obtained, either by enhanced receipts or by savings in expenditure, was reduced from Rs. 5,90,000 to Rs. 4,40,000.

20. Moreover, besides the above estimates, this Government was called upon to make good the interest on the capital expended in Bengal on Canals and State Railways. Additional obligations imposed on the local Government To meet this, the Provincial Public Works Cess was imposed; while more recently the License Tax also was introduced in order to meet the contribution of this Government towards famine insurance.

21. Hence in order to test the success of the Financial Administration of the Bengal Government since the extension of the decentralization system in 1878, the actuals have to be analyzed under three distinct heads:—

Manner in which the actuals of the year 1878-79 can best be compared with the estimates for 1877-78.

(a).—The actual receipts and disbursement of all the services made over in 1871, combined with those subsequently made over in 1877, have to be compared with the estimates on the basis of which the contract was made, and the Lieutenant-Governor left with an estimated deficit of Rs. 4,40,400.

(b).—The receipts from the Public Works Cess, plus the receipts from Irrigation and State Railways, have to be compared with the interest for which the Bengal Government was made liable.

added to the costs of collecting the Public Works Cess, plus the ordinary revenue expenditure on Irrigation and State Railways.

- (c.)—The license tax will yield the local Government a profit if the receipts cover the expenditure incurred in collection, plus the contribution fixed by the Government of India, but not otherwise. In no case, however, should it involve this Government in any loss.

22. By far the most important comparison of the three is that to be made between the estimates and allotments as framed for the year 1877-78, and the actual receipts and expenditure as now ascertained for the year 1878-79, under the same heads as were then transferred, in order to see in what departments financial success has been mainly attained. But before this comparison can be correctly instituted, some further adjustments have to be made.

(a.) Comparison of the estimates on which the provincial contract was revised in 1877 with the actuals under those heads of account.

23. The Government of India have on various occasions made certain small additions to the expenditure to be incurred by the local Government, the largest being the charges on account of Government Estates, against which an allotment of Rs. 1,40,000 was given for the year under review. In this way, in all Rs. 3,20,000 have been added to the Imperial allotment, and the corresponding burden imposed upon the local Government of meeting expenditure estimated to amount in the aggregate to an equivalent sum. On the other hand, the Police Clothing Fund has been wound up, and the Darjeeling Improvement and Chittagong Port Funds which, together with the Police Clothing Fund, were included in the Provincial Reserve in 1877-78, are no longer incorporated with the Provincial accounts; more recently the Court of Wards' Rate Fund has been also closed as a separate fund, and its balance has been incorporated with the Provincial balance.

24. Making the necessary additions and subtractions, the receipts and disbursements as estimated for 1877-78, modified so as to be compared with the corresponding actuals of 1878-79, will be—

			Receipts.	Disbursements.
			Rs.	Rs.
			2,82,23,000	2,86,63,000
Add—
Subsequent additions	...	...	3,20,000	3,20,000

			2,84,58,000	2,88,81,000

25. Owing, however, to the changes of classification introduced by the letter of the Government of India of the 31st March last, which have been adopted by the Accountant-General in making up the actuals for 1878-79, these estimates cannot be correctly compared, head by head, with the actuals until they have been reclassified so as to make each head include the same sub-heads as it does now in the accounts submitted by the Accountant-General. This adjustment has accordingly been made, and the figures in column 2 of the statement below show the total amounts given in the last paragraph recast so as to admit of correct comparison with the actuals of the year 1878-79:—

III.—RECEIPTS.

26. It will thus be seen that instead of the estimated income of Rs. 2,84,58,000, the receipts made over to the local Government yielded Rs. 3,03,74,633 for the year 1878-79, or an excess of Rs. 19,16,633. The figures of the year 1877-78 are also given for purposes of comparison: they, too, have been reclassified, but the comparison with them cannot be correct in every detail, as only Rs. 22,000 out of the Rs. 3,20,000 subsequently transferred had by that time been made over, and the expenditure subsequently transferred against an additional allotment of Rs. 2,98,000* will not be found among the disbursements. It would therefore be incorrect to modify the allotment as has been done in column 2 for the grants of 1877-78: the account for that year does not, moreover, include the Court of Wards Rate Fund, for which a separate account was kept.

Actual disbursements under (a).

28. Thus, under head (a), the actuals for the past years instead of yielding a surplus obtained for the ten years a deficit of Rs. 4,40,000, or Rs. 4,23,000 to which it is reduced when the Court of Wards Rate Fund is amalgamated with the accounts, yielded a surplus of Rs. 18,02,472 for the year 1877-78 and Rs. 12,34,949 for the year 1878-79, and thus under this head the local Government has derived a profit during the two years of Rs. 30,37,421 after making good the initial deficit in the estimates.

29. It remains to add the similar results under heads (b) and (c). Under head (b) there is nothing to be gained by comparing the actuals with any estimates for the year 1877-78. No such estimates were framed or taken into consideration in revising the provincial contract in 1877, but these heads were transferred with an undoubtedly large deficit on account of interest, which the local Government had to make up in some way or other, and which it actually met by imposing the public works cess:—

Receipts.				1877-78	1878-79.

State Railways		* 6,26,028	14,07,636
Total	...	33,39,155	57,64,021

It will be seen that in 1877-78 the provincial revenues suffered a slight loss of Rs. 7,535 under this head, but in 1878-79 they derived a profit of Rs. 4,72,898.

30. This section of the receipts and disbursements is of special interest as it shows the extent to which the Bengal Government can continue to borrow for the construction of Public Works without loss. The account for 1877-78 is more or less arbitrary, as the Government of India did not press its full claim for interest, owing to the public works cess being only recoverable for three-fourths of the year; but during the year 1878-79 the full interest has been taken and the full cess collected, and it is satisfactory to find that there was a surplus of nearly $4\frac{3}{4}$ lakhs still available. If the expenditure proves really productive, this surplus will remain, as the increased surplus income to be derived from these works will balance the growth of interest. But, if the works do not prove really reproductive to the extent of $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., the Bengal Government will not begin to be an absolute loser till the excess of interest over increased receipts mounts up to about $4\frac{1}{4}$ lakhs more. The surplus available for further loans is over $4\frac{1}{4}$ lakhs, as the collection of the Public Works Cess will in future cost nearly half a lakh.

31. The head (c) does not affect the accounts for the present year, and it had no existence in 1877-78. The receipts were so small for 1878-79 that the Government of India takes the entire net collections.

32. From these three heads combined it is easy to make up the figures showing how the Provincial balance of Rs. 43,97,543 at the end of the year under review has been attained. It is stated in paragraph 16 that the estimated opening balance of 1877-78 was Rs. 1,51,000, but when the finals for 1876-77 were made up, it was found that the actual balance was nearly seven lakhs better than the estimate, viz., Rs. 8,50,594, which was the correct amount with which the local Government²² started under its enlarged responsibilities.

* Of this Rs. 56,715 was capital expenditure, but disbursed from provincial funds.

Thus—

which differs only by Rs. 5 from the balance given in paragraph 6, due to neglecting fractions of a rupee and other insignificant sums.

33. It remains to examine the several heads of account separately in order to point out where the results have been satisfactory and where the provincial revenues have lost.

34. On the receipt side of the account, the improvements have been for the most part under two large heads—Excise and Stamps; stamps alone showing an increase of Rs. 9,64,517 in 1877-78 and Rs. 9,34,690 in 1878-79. The sum of 2½ lakhs was the estimated increase under this head in conjunction with Law and Justice; it will be seen that not only has it fulfilled the anticipations of the Government of India in this respect, but has also by itself alone in each year covered the entire retrenchment of Rs. 5,90,000 that had to be made good under all heads.

While the revenue under this head has increased thus largely, there has been a slight increase in charges from Rs. 2,38,000 to Rs. 2,47,727 in 1877-78 and Rs. 2,50,849 in 1878-79, which represents less than the increased discount to licensed vendors. The charges for superintendence have actually decreased.

35. Excise, in lieu of the anticipated increase of one lakh, has shown during the last year an increase of Rs. 6,28,763 as compared with the original estimate; the collection of this branch of the revenue has been ably supervised by the Board of Revenue at a cost less by Rs. 6,000 than that estimated for 1877-78. The following figures will show the sub-heads under which the increase has been attained :—

	Sanctioned grant, 1877-78. Rs.	Actuals, 1878-79. Rs.
License and distillery fees and duties for the sale of liquors and drugs ...	51,98,500	56,84,655
Sale proceeds of excise opium ...	12,00,000	13,34,652
Fines, confiscation, and miscellaneous ...	1,500	8,956
Total ...	64,00,000	70,28,263

These sub-heads are not such as to throw any light on the details of the excise revenue; but as the Lieutenant-Governor separately reviews this department year by year, it is not necessary to comment on it at greater length.

36. Under this head the actual receipts show an improvement of Rs. 3,23,014. The estimates given for 1877-78 have been altered, so as to include the Pleadership

Examination fees, which have been classified by the Government of India under this head. The increase is distributed over the following sub-heads:—

	Sanctioned estimate, 1877-78.	Actuals, 1878-79.
	Rs.	Rs.
Sale proceeds of unclaimed and escheated property	34,000	47,984
Court fees realized in cash	21,000	28,265
Pledgership Examination fees	4,000	16,318
General fees, fines, and forfeitures	6,65,000	9,33,274
Miscellaneous	5,000	26,173
Total	7,29,000	10,52,014

37. Thus these three heads of Excise, Stamps, and Law and Justice, under which an annual increase of Rs. 3,75,000 was anticipated and a corresponding reduction made on that account in the imperial allotment, actually yielded during 1878-79 an excess over the original estimate of Rs. 18,86,467, a rate of increase quite unexpected. However, the real unforeseen increase was rather in the year 1877-78 than in 1878-79. The following figures will show how much was due to the actual increase in 1878-79, and how much to the under-estimate made of the probable receipts for 1877-78:—

	Estimate, 1877-78.	Actuals, 1877-78.	Actuals, 1878-79.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Excise	64,00,000	68,67,888	70,28,263
Stamps	98,50,000	1,08,14,517	1,07,84,690
Law and Justice	7,29,000	8,20,072	10,52,014
Total	1,69,79,000	1,85,02,477	1,88,64,967

38. Prima facie it would appear from these figures that the actual increase in 1878-79 over 1877-78 was Rs. 3,62,490, or within a few thousands of the estimated increment. But this has been entirely obtained from Excise and Law and Justice; Stamps shew a slight falling off. The cause of this, however, lies on the surface; probably not less than six lakhs of the stamp revenue in 1877-78 were derived from the operation of the Land Registration Act, and not more than two lakhs in 1878-79. These figures, which cannot be far from correct, leave a satisfactory increment for 1878-79. The stamp revenue still continues to yield an increasing income.

39. Certain minor receipts of a miscellaneous character were made over to the provincial revenues under the heads of Customs and Salt. The increase under Sea Customs is entirely due to the head Miscellaneous, under which Rs. 87,180 were realized, against the estimate of Rs. 29,200. From warehouse and wharf-rents Rs. 2,647 were only realized against Rs. 7,000.

40. Salt on the contrary exhibits a considerable falling off. The provincial receipts under this head were mainly composed of rents from warehouses which only realized Rs. 77,875, against the original estimate of Rs. 1,80,000. It is believed that the decline is due to the low rate of freights which prevailed during the year, so that many ships preferred to keep their salt in ballast instead of as usual in warehouses. The other item—Fines, Forfeitures, and Miscellaneous—realized Rs. 46,402 against Rs. 40,000. Under the head of Salt, therefore, the local Government has incurred a loss of nearly a lakh of rupees from circumstances in no way under its control.

41. The head Minor Departments only includes receipts from Cinchona Plantations and Botanical Gardens. The increase of Rs. 80,513 is due to the success which has attended the manufacture of cinchona and the working of the plantations.

42. The receipts from Jails in 1877-78 were estimated at Rs. 8,38,000, whereas they only realized Rs. 5,94,008. Part of the decrease, however, is due to the exclusion from both sides of the account of certain items of manufacture consumed in the jails which were formerly shewn as receipts and disbursements. It is necessary therefore to take the receipts and disbursements together, in order to ascertain the correct financial working of this department. The expenditure was Rs. 18,56,011, against Rs. 16,05,000 the estimate for 1877-78. Combined together, the total loss in the actuals of this department, as compared with the estimate of 1877-78, amounts to Rs. 4,95,003—a loss which it is very important to take steps to obviate in future.

During the last four years the actual expenditure has been as follows:—

		Rs.			Rs.
1875-76	...	17,83,000		1877-78	16,13,238
1876-77	...	16,41,000		1878-79	18,56,011

43. The expenditure therefore during the past year has been in excess of the three preceding years. What, however, chiefly affects the present review is the excess of expenditure over the estimates of 1877-78, which form the basis on which the Imperial allotment is calculated. The details of this are as follow:—

	Estimate, 1877-78.	Actuals, 1878-79.
	Rs.	Rs.
Inspection and General Superintendence	45,700	57,181
Presidency Jail	74,200	78,188
Central Jails	3,09,500	3,62,513
District Jails	4,85,800	5,05,010
Lock-ups	67,100	86,083
Jail Manufactures and School of Industry	6,23,000	7,66,976
Total	16,05,300	18,56,011

44. It will thus be seen that the increase of expenditure is distributed among all sub-heads, but is largest under the sub-head "Manufactures" as under this head a large increase of expenditure is combined with diminished receipts. The receipts from Manufactures have fallen from an estimate of Rs. 8,31,000 to Rs. 5,91,396; sanguine estimates, however, appear to have been habitually made as regards jail manufactures. In 1875-76 the budget-estimate was Rs. 9,57,000; the actuals, however, reached only Rs. 7,91,000. In 1876-77 the estimate was Rs. 9,06,000, and the actuals reached Rs. 7,16,000. The estimate for 1877-78 was therefore by no means sanguine as compared with the estimate for the preceding two years. The actuals, however, were again disappointing, and only amounted to Rs. 6,88,744. The original estimate for the year 1878-79 showed a further decrease, and was computed at Rs. 7,31,000. The actuals, however, are more disappointing than heretofore, being nearly 1½ lakh less than the original estimate. It will also be seen that, leaving estimates out of consideration, the actuals have shown a progressive falling-off as below:—

Rs.				Rs.
1875-76	...	...	7,91,000		1877-78	...	6,88,744
1876-77	...	..	7,16,000		1878-79	...	5,91,396

It is probable that these unsatisfactory results admit of explanation. Much outlay, of the form of capital expenditure, has been incurred in the purchase of expensive machinery, and the high prices of food have necessarily kept up the expenditure. The Lieutenant-Governor will consider, in the Judicial Department, whether the serious financial loss which the provincial revenues have incurred from Jails is satisfactorily accounted for.

44. The original estimate of receipts for 1877-78 was Rs. 7,18,000.

This included revenue from Record-room receipts and Copying fees, amounting to Rs. 67,000, which are now classified under Miscellaneous. The estimated receipts therefore for comparison with the actuals of 1878-79 are Rs. 6,51,000, and therefore there is under this head a gain of Rs. 2,18,834. As regards expenditure, the original estimate was Rs. 5,76,000. Similar reductions, amounting to Rs. 57,000, have to be made for charges now classified under "Miscellaneous." This reduces the figures to Rs. 5,19,000, which, compared with the actuals of 1878-79, Rs. 4,89,309, show an improvement of Rs. 29,691. In all, therefore, the provincial funds have benefited to the extent of Rs. 2,49,000 under the head of "Registration."

45. The receipts under the head of "Police" were only estimated for 1877-78 at Rs. 70,000 ; but, under the orders of the Government of India, the receipts from "Pounds" and "Steam-boiler inspection fees" are now classified under this head. This raises the total to Rs. 3,57,000, while the actuals of 1878-79 amounted to Rs. 4,27,000, thereby giving an increase of Rs. 70,000.

Distributed under the sub-heads the figures are—

	Sanctioned grants, 1877-78.	Actuals, 1878-79.
	Rs.	Rs.
Police supplied to railways and private persons	14,000	25,383
Fees, fines, and forfeitures	1,000	570
Pounds	2,76,000	3,32,017
Steam-boiler inspection fees	12,000	9,970
Superannuation receipts	14,000	18,210
Miscellaneous	40,000	43,379
	3,57,000	4,29,529

The increase therefore is mainly under the head of Pounds, and there is also a considerable proportionate increase under the head of "Police supplied to Railways and private persons."

46. The original estimate of expenditure for Police was Rs. 40,86,000, and, after making adjustments similar to those under the head of "Receipts" and excluding Rs. 16,000 transferred by the Government of India to "Printing and Stationery," the total is raised to Rs. 42,34,000. The actual expenditure has only reached Rs. 40,21,683, thereby indicating that the working of this department has been economically supervised. The estimates of expenditure under the different sub-heads are as follow :—

	Grants, 1877-78.	Actuals, 1878-79.
	Rs.	Rs.
Presidency Police	2,49,000	2,46,388
Superintendence	1,19,000	1,23,138
District Executive Force	34,67,000	32,70,973
Railway Police	31,000	29,634
Pounds	1,52,000	1,21,897
Municipal Police	38,000	35,656
Steam-boiler Inspection	12,000	10,765
Special Police	1,66,000	1,80,235
Total	42,34,000	40,21,683

It will be seen that the reduction is mainly under the principal head "District Executive Force." Pounds also show a perceptible decrease, which, combined with the large increase under "Receipts," reflects credit on the administration of the local officers.

47. Under the Financial Resolution No. 1899, dated the 29th March 1877, certain marine receipts were surrendered to the local Government for an annual payment of Rs. 10,84,000. But they have yielded in 1878-79 a revenue of Rs. 11,76,486. The details by sub-heads are as follow :—

	Grants, 1877-78.	Actuals, 1878-79.
	Rs.	Rs.
Pilotage receipts	7,93,000	8,62,716
Registration and other fees	22,000	24,535
Miscellaneous	2,69,000	2,89,235
Total	10,84,000	11,76,486

The gain is mainly due to increase under the head of "Pilotage Receipts." As regards expenditure, the original grant was Rs. 10,98,979, to which Rs. 46,000 have been added on account of the salary, establishment, and contingencies of the Port Officer. The actual expenditure has only amounted to Rs. 9,62,794, showing a considerable saving.

The reduction is chiefly due to pilotage, which cost Rs. 5,86,752, against an estimate of Rs. 6,50,000, and building and repair of ships Rs. 168, against Rs. 1,35,236! It would be well if the Marine Department satisfied itself under this last head that no expenditure has been left out of the accounts or otherwise wrongly shown.

48. Education under the head of "Receipts" shows a slight increase, Rs. 5,24,763 as against Rs. 4,74,000, the estimate for 1877-78. While the receipts from college fees have exceeded the estimate of the preceding year by Rs. 40,980, school fees show a falling-off from Rs. 2,61,000 to Rs. 2,44,675.

As regards the expenditure, the actuals of the last year were Rs. 24,88,089, against the estimate for 1877-78 of Rs. 25,04,000, showing an improvement of Rs. 15,911.

49. The receipts under the head of "Medical" were estimated at Rs. 1,63,000; but they realized Rs. 1,95,714 in 1878-79, showing an increase of Rs. 30,000. Under the head of "Expenditure" the estimated disbursements were Rs. 13,53,000 and the actuals Rs. 12,30,980, thereby showing a considerable saving, which has been distributed among the several sub-heads as follows:—

	Grants, 1877-78.	Actuals, 1878-79.
	Rs.	Rs.
Medical Establishment ...	84,000	80,706
Vaccination ...	1,18,000	1,10,447
Medical Schools and Colleges ...	2,54,000	2,48,350
Hospitals and Dispensaries ..	5,74,000	4,82,435
Lunatic Asylums ...	1,85,000	1,71,326
Sanitary Commissioner ...	27,000	24,951
Chemical Examiner ...	2,000	3,469
Grants for medical purposes ...	1,05,000	1,09,297
Total ...	13,49,000	12,30,980

The chief reduction is under the head of "Hospitals and Dispensaries," and is due in great measure to the labour of the Medical Committee and the greater economy which has resulted in the management of the Medical, General, and Campbell Hospitals. It will be remembered that the medical expenditure only amounted to nine lakhs in 1871-72, and rose to 13½ lakhs in 1875-76. All that has been done therefore is to reduce a portion of the additional expenditure which grew up in the first five years of the decentralization scheme.

50. The receipts under the head of Stationery and Printing show an increase of Rs. 46,948. The increase is due to miscellaneous press receipts and to stationery sold to local funds. Under the head of "Disbursements" there is a slight decrease from Rs. 3,75,000 to Rs. 3,56,472.

51. Before considering the receipts and disbursements under the various branches of Public Works, it remains to analyse the disbursements of certain grants which have not been included in the above review, viz. "Land Revenue," "Law and Justice," "Administration," "Minor Departments," "Refunds," "Stationery from Central Stores."

52. Under Land Revenue—

	Rs.
Land revenue. The original estimate for 1877-78 was	22,62,000
To this have been added for charges
on account of Government estates ...	1,40,000
Diet of revenue defaulters and released prisoners ...	7,000
Half the cost of sub-divisional establishments transferred from Minor Departments ..	1,08,000
Record room charges transferred from the head of "Registration" ...	57,000
	25,74,000
From this head has to be deducted for "Stationery" ...	17,000
Total ...	25,57,000

53. The actuals amounted to Rs. 26,52,000, showing an increase of Rs. 95,000. Distributing this amount among the several sub-heads, the figures are as follow :—

	Grants, 1877-78. Rs.	Actuals, 1878-79. Rs.
Collectors' and Deputy Commissioners' establishments ...	22,45,000	22,51,123
Charges on account of Government estates ...	1,40,000	1,78,735
Charges on account of land revenue collections ...	2,000	3,411
Sub-divisional establishments... ..	1,08,000	1,06,388
Revenue record-room charges... ..	57,000	63,191
Rents, rates, and taxes	2,000	2,230
Petty construction and repairs	3,000	1,434
Land registration charges		42,781
Total	25,57,000	26,49,292

54. It will be seen that the only serious increases are under the sub-heads of "Charges on account of Government Estates" and "Land Registration charges." The former is due to a misunderstanding under which this Government laboured as regards the nature of the charge at the time when it was transferred. It was supposed that the term "Government Estates" only included the estates the proprietary right of which was vested in Government. It now appears, however, that it is customary to class under this head all temporary settled and other estates taken under the direct management of revenue officers. As there are one or two large estates of this description, the expenditure considerably exceeds the estimated sum of Rs. 1,40,000, and the Government of India has been asked to increase the allotment proportionately, and has sanctioned its increase to Rs. 1,80,000 from the commencement of the current year,—Government of India, No. 1628 of 18th July 1879.

55. As regards land registration expenses, due to the introduction of the Land Registration Act, VII (B.C.) of 1876, there is a set-off on account of land registration fees handed over by the Government of India to meet those charges. These receipts, which are shown under the head of "Miscellaneous," aggregated in 1878-79 Rs. 29,000. Virtually therefore the loss by the addition of this sub-head has been reduced to Rs. 14,000, against which there has been the receipt of perhaps two lakhs of rupees under the head of stamps.

56. Law and Justice—

		Rs.
Law and justice.	The original estimate was ...	63,97,000
	To which it has been necessary to add for pleaders' examination expenses ...	3,000
	And half the cost of sub-divisional establishments ...	1,09,000
	Total ...	65,09,000
	Deduct on account of "Stationery" ...	58,000
	The modified estimate therefore amounts to ...	64,51,000
	And the actual expenditure incurred in 1878-79 ...	64,63,003
	Difference ...	12,003

The difference is divided among the several sub-heads, thus—

	Grants. Rs.	Actuals. Rs.
High Court Judges	6,00,000	5,97,590
Ditto, Appellate Branch	2,92,000	2,80,653
Ditto, Original Branch... ..	2,02,000	1,92,298
Coroner's Court	12,000	12,965
Justices of the Peace	54,000	48,931
Civil and Sessions Courts	30,48,000	31,11,015
Pleadership Examination	3,000	4,088
Courts of Small Causes	2,85,000	2,74,097
Criminal Courts	18,46,000	18,33,013
Sub-divisional establishments	1,09,000	1,06,561
Rents, rates, and taxes		1,881
Total	64,51,000	64,63,003

The only substantial increase has been under the head of "Civil and Sessions Courts," and is partly due to the cost of the 23 Additional Moonsifs sanctioned during the year.

	Rs.
Administration.
57. The grant for administration in 1877-78 was ...	12,61,000
But to this has to be added under the new classification
circuit house charges ...	5,000
Cost of provincial establishments in Imperial offices ...	29,000
Cost of certain minor establishments in Board's and Commissioners' offices, previously shown as minor establishments ...	17,000
Certain establishments in Commissioners' offices, previously charged under the head of "Education" ...	7,000
Court of Wards Rate Fund ...	43,000
This raises the grant to ...	13,62,000
Against which the expenditure in the past year has been ...	15,02,591

The sub-heads of this grant are as follow :—

	Grants, 1877-78. Rs.	Actuals, 1878-79. Rs.
Salary of the Lieutenant-Governor ...	96,000	1,09,022
Staff and household of ditto ...	30,000	39,963
Tour expenses ...	27,000	45,663
Legislative Council ...	25,600	24,205
Civil Secretariat ...	3,78,200	4,02,183
Board of Revenue ...	2,71,800	2,60,892
Commissioners ...	4,61,400	5,23,427
Provincial establishments in Imperial offices ...	29,000	28,809
Wards Rate Fund ...	43,000	68,428
Total ...	13,62,000	15,02,591

58. It will be seen that there has been a considerable increase in the expenditure under this head which is more directly under the control of Government than any other, and it is necessary to examine it carefully. The salary of the Lieutenant-Governor shows an increase of Rs. 13,022. This is due to a Chief Commissioner having drawn his salary in Calcutta for some time during the cold weather. It is contended by the Accountant-General that, under the operation of Rule VI* of the rules for the extension of the decentralization scheme, the Bengal Government is bound to bear this expenditure whenever such salaries are drawn in Calcutta. In the present case, even under the strict wording of the rule, there is much doubt if the obligation exists, as the salaries of the Chief Commissioners are part of a head of service which was divided, one portion being made Provincial and the other portion retained as Imperial, and as no allotment was made to Bengal on account of the salaries of Chief Commissioners, it is not clear that the charge is correct. A reference has been made to the Government of India on the subject, the reply to which has not yet been received.

59. The increase in the Lieutenant-Governor's staff is due to the fact of a senior officer having been appointed Private Secretary. The tour expenses have been systematically under-estimated, the actuals almost always being in excess of Rs. 27,000. For the current year the estimate has been raised to Rs. 50,000. Under the head of "Civil Secretariat," the increase is partly due to the creation of a Financial Secretary and an Assistant Secretary in lieu of the Junior Secretary, whose appointment has been

* VI.—A Local Government must accept, without remonstrance, any charge which would, under the system in force before 1871-72, have been recorded, under any of the transferred heads of account, in the accounts of its Presidency or Province; and must not raise objections on such grounds as that the charge has originated outside the Presidency or Province, or that the Presidency or Province is not interested in it, or the like; if any doubt arises at any time, whether any charge should or should not be entered under any particular head in the accounts of any Presidency or Province, such doubt must be solved by one test only, viz.: "How would it have been entered if it had occurred before 1871-72, when the powers and responsibilities of Local Governments were first enlarged?" Thus, for example, the pay or leave allowances of an officer belonging to another Administration on duty or on leave in the North-Western Provinces, and drawn there, must be charged in the accounts of the North-Western Provinces: the Governor-General in Council did not intend by the measure of 1870, and does not now intend, to introduce or authorize any change of practice in such matters, or any inter-provincial, inter-presidential or inter-departmental adjustments not theretofore allowed; in regard to all such transactions, the arrangements made with the Local Governments are calculated upon the basis of the system which existed before the year 1871-72.

abolished ; but, in addition to this, the estimate of the current year, Rs. 3,94,000, has been exceeded by Rs. 8,183. Part of this increase is due to excess expenditure in the purchase of books, Rs. 8,747, against an estimate of Rs. 1,000 only. For the present year the estimate is again Rs. 1,000 only, and it would appear that this item is generally under-estimated.

60. In addition to this, under the same sub-head of Civil Secretariat, Rs. 2,253 were paid as salary of one of the Secretaries to the Government of India. This is another instance of the peculiar operation of Rule VI. This officer happened to find it convenient to draw his salary from the 24-Pergunnahs treasury, and as a consequence it is debited to Bengal. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that the anomalies resulting from this rule may easily become such as to render some modification of it necessary. If seven or eight of the High Court Judges were to travel in the North-Western Provinces and Punjab during the Dusserah vacation and draw their salaries for two months from treasuries in those provinces, Bengal would save over half a lakh of rupees at the expense of the North-Western Provinces. Similarly, if the Governor-General were to summon several officers serving under other local Governments, Members of the Board of Revenue, Commissioners, and Heads of Departments to a conference at Calcutta for a week, and during that week a month terminated and these officers drew their salaries in Calcutta, this conference might easily cost the Bengal Government, who had no voice in it whatsoever, and perhaps even no concern in it, Rs. 20,000 or Rs. 30,000. Or, again, if the Secretaries and Under-Secretaries of the Government of India were to find it convenient to draw their pay from the 24-Pergunnahs treasury during the cold weather, from December to April inclusive, the Bengal Government would be called upon to pay over Rs. 1,00,000 with a corresponding saving to Imperial. This sort of lottery cannot but have a bad effect on economy of administration. All interest in saving a few thousand, not to say a few hundred, rupees by judicious economy under any particular head or grant is gone, if ten times the amount is liable to be gained or lost by the mere chance windfall of a highly-paid officer drawing his salary in one treasury or another.

61. The Lieutenant-Governor admits that much inconvenience would result from the constant transfer of charges from one treasury to another, and one province to another ; but it does not appear that any practical inconvenience would follow from allowing each local Government, once for all at the close of the year, to send in a list of any special items of expenditure with which it had been debited on account of other Governments, and to allow an addition or reduction to be made accordingly in the Imperial allotments for the ensuing year. The onus of finding out these charges would thus be thrown upon the Government or Administration injuriously affected by them, and it is evident that only a few large amounts would be brought to light, such as those referred to in the above paragraphs, which defeat the anticipations of budget grants ; and all the numerous minor charges which would give trouble would be debited as at present. It might indeed be prescribed that only items in excess of Rs. 1,000 would be liable to rectification.

62. The decrease under the head Board of Revenue is mainly due to the reduction in the salary of the Junior Secretary from Rs. 28,000 to Rs. 21,600. Under "Commissioners' Establishments" there is a very large increase, viz. from the original grant in 1877-78 of Rs. 4,56,400 (including circuit houses,) and the budget estimate of 1878-79 of Rs. 4,58,000 to the actuals of Rs. 5,23,427. It has been ascertained from the detailed accounts of the Accountant-General that the increase is due (1) to Commissioners' salaries having exceeded the budget estimate by Rs. 25,353 owing to the absence of Commissioners on privilege leave, (2) to the budget grant for office expenses and contingencies having been exceeded by Rs. 10,471, and (3) above all to the hire of the Teesta steamer for the Commissioner of Chittagong at a cost of Rs. 31,969. It was designed that this steamer should pay her expenses (vide General Department's letter No. 139 of the 3rd February 1879), but as a fact the receipts have only amounted to Rs. 4,100. The attention of the General Department will be drawn to the question whether this steamer ought to be retained.

63. The estimate in 1877-78, as modified to suit the recent classification, shows a total of Rs. 2,94,000, against the actual expenditure in 1878-79 of Rs. 2,45,356.

The following are the details :—

		Rs.	Rs.
Provincial Museums	..	12,000	9,859
Registration of traffic	...	32,000	17,554
Provincial statistics	...	6,000	2,694
Model farms	...	10,000	20
Examination charges	..	1,000	495
Emigration	...	23,000	25,390
Botanical and other Gardens	...	59,600	86,034
Cinchona Plantations	...	1,31,400	90,804
Donations to Charitable Societies	...	9,000	9,200
Miscellaneous	...	10,000	3,306
Total	...	2,94,000	2,45,356

It will be seen that the largest decrease is under the head of "Cinchona," regarding which it was remarked by the Government of India, when fixing the allotment at Rs. 1,31,000, that it was exceptionally large. Some reductions have also been made under the heads "Registration of traffic," "Provincial statistics," and "Miscellaneous," while all the model farms have been closed.

64. Refunds and drawbacks show an increase of Rs. 93,040 as compared with the budget estimate for 1878-79, and of Rs. 1,33,040 as compared with the grant made by India in 1877-78; while stationery from central stores shows similar increases of Rs. 72,303 and Rs. 89,303 respectively. Under these two heads therefore the local Government has lost heavily. The expenditure under refunds does not admit of much administrative control, but as regards the expenditure on stationery, the Lieutenant-Governor has issued orders in a resolution on the report of the Superintendent of Stationery, which will he hopes enable the local Government to discover where excessive expenditure is incurred as an indispensable step towards its reduction. The contributions to local funds are almost entirely composed of allotments to District Committees for Roads and Communications. Formerly such expenditure was incurred from the funds that made up the Provincial Reserve. Hence no separate allotment was made for this purpose in 1877-78, nor in the original budget estimates for 1878-79.

65. Coming now to the several departments of Public Works it appears that the receipts under the head of Public Works ordinary were estimated at Rs. 93,000; but according to the classification introduced this year, the receipts from ferries and road tolls, and also from Strand Bank rents and staging bungalows, have been added. Under these items there is a falling-off of Rs. 89,000, which is entirely due to ferries and road tolls, the actuals of which amounted to Rs. 4,21,672, as against the estimate for 1877-78 of Rs. 5,45,000. Under the other heads the increase has been considerable, and is due mainly to receipts that had not been anticipated in the budget. Thus it appears from a letter from the Examiner of Public Works Department, No. 6998, dated 8th August last, that Rs. 50,961 were derived from the sale of buildings and lands, Rs. 13,283 from the sale of old materials, and that the profits of the Hastings and Akra workshops amounted to Rs. 90,779.

66. The disbursements in the Public Works ordinary eventually reached Rs. 34,82,802, against the estimate of Rs. 30,99,000 in 1877-78. The sanctioned estimate for the year 1878-79 was Rs. 47,13,000, and hence there was a saving under this head of Rs. 12,30,198. It is deserving of notice that two-thirds of the entire surplus of the year would have been lost had the Public Works ordinary worked up to its budget grant.

67. The sub-head Navigation, which has been newly added this year, includes the "Calcutta Canals" and "Nuddea Rivers." Under this sub-head there has been a decrease both as regards receipts and expenditure: the receipts have only reached Rs. 6,75,565, against an estimate of Rs. 7,20,000 for 1877-78. This is due to the falling off in the demand for rice at Madras, and hence to a reduced importation of grain into Calcutta by country boats. The disbursements, however, have declined from Rs. 6,20,000 to Rs. 3,93,382; but certain expensive works, which have been sanctioned for the past year, could not be carried out within the year, and consequently an increase of expenditure is anticipated in the current year.

68. The Irrigation Department presents a complete contrast to the ordinary Public Works Department in this that its estimates usually prove sanguine and the actual results fall short of the anticipations. The budget estimate from receipts was Rs. 9,72,000, which was reduced in the regular estimate to Rs. 8,52,000, and, eventually, Rs. 8,51,153 were actually realized. The budget estimate from disbursements was only Rs. 6,74,000. This was subsequently raised to Rs. 10,33,000, the chief addition being from the Sarun scheme; but the actuals have reached Rs. 11,26,619, or Rs. 93,000 in excess even of the regular estimate.

69. Under the head of State Railways, taking the figures furnished by the department, the receipts were Rs. 18,11,192, against an original estimate for the year 1878-79 of Rs. 16,18,000, showing an improvement of Rs. 1,93,192. The expenditure debitable to the ordinary expenditure of the year was Rs. 14,07,636, against an original grant of Rs. 11,27,000, or Rs. 2,80,636. There was therefore a net loss of Rs. 87,444, as compared with the original estimate.

70. The rapidity and ease with which the provincial balance has increased from Rs. 8,50,594 to Rs. 43,97,543 at first sight seems to indicate that the financial position of this Government is perfectly secured; but while a large balance has been accumulated, and so far the finances are most prosperous, it is far from certain that the present system affords any adequate guarantee for the continued equilibrium of receipts and expenditure.

71. It is true that for the year 1878-79 the budget estimates were drawn up on the assumption that the balance was to be allowed to decrease by Rs. 2,53,000, and that, instead of this deficit, there has been a surplus of Rs. 17,07,847, and that apparently therefore, if budget equilibrium is provided for, the actuals can be relied on to produce a considerable surplus; but when this surplus is examined, it will be found that it is due to exceptional and peculiar circumstances that may not recur, and that, with a balanced budget to begin with, the Bengal Government might well find itself with a considerable deficit at the end of a year. Of the total improvement of 20 lakhs on the original estimates, as is the approximate amount including the increment of Rs. 44,160 to the opening balance, it may be said that omitting license tax, which does not in the present year affect the provincial finances, the receipts are about 17½ lakhs better than the estimates, and the disbursements also better, i.e. less by about 2½ lakhs.

As regards receipts and taking round numbers, it appears that of those 17½ lakhs—

1½ lakhs are due to Excise.
6½ lakhs to Stamps
3 lakhs to Law and Justice.
1 lakh to Marine.
1½ lakhs to Miscellaneous.
2 lakhs to Public Works Ordinary.
1½ lakhs to State Railways.
1½ lakhs to Imperial Allotment.
21 lakhs.

While there was a loss of—

1 lakh under Salt.
1½ „ Jails.
1 „ Irrigation.
3½

as they have usually done hitherto, there is no guarantee whatsoever that the actuals of the year 1879-80 will much, if at all, exceed the estimated amount of Rs. 4,35,68,000.

73. On the other hand, the disbursements are still less promising. Comparing the actuals with the budget estimates, a general tendency for the former to outrun the latter is traceable, the exceptions being in the departments of Excise, Law and Justice, Marine, Education, and Minor Departments. With these exceptions, omitting the Public Works Department ordinary, the grants have been almost invariably exceeded, while in the case of Jails and Irrigation the excess was nearly eight lakhs. The final result is that, had it not been for a saving of over 16 lakhs in the Public Works Department ordinary, including Navigation which is under that Department, there would have been an excess of expenditure over budget estimates of over 13 lakhs. It is to be feared that the current year may exhibit the same tendency towards exceeding the budget grants, without the corrective element of so large a saving under the head of Public Works ordinary.

74. On the whole, the budget estimates of the grants for Land Revenue, Excise, Customs, Stamps, Administration, Law and Justice, Registration, Police, Education, and Medical Services are prepared in a trustworthy manner, and are either not much exceeded, or exceeded under circumstances which are sufficiently explained and do not interfere with financial control. The receipts budget for State Railways seems to be drawn up with a proper margin for contingencies, but the expenditure was during each of the last two years considerably under-estimated at the outset. The estimates for Minor Departments, Marine, and Public Works ordinary do not appear to be very reliable, but they appear to be as a rule full and complete, so that they are not likely to be exceeded. The budgets for Jails and Irrigation appear, as already said, to be usually drawn up on a defective and over-sanguine system, the receipts invariably falling short of the estimate and the disbursements exceeding it. It is to be hoped that in the budgets now under preparation an ample allowance will be made for all eventualities. There are already reasons for apprehending that the current year will prove very different from those that have preceded it, and that if the actuals do not show a deficit they will show a comparatively small profit.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be submitted to the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce; also that copy be forwarded to the Accountant-General, to the Public Works Department of this Government, to the Public Works Department (Railway Branch), to the Public Works Department (Irrigation Branch), of this Government, to the General, Judicial, Revenue, and Political (Jails) Departments of this office, and to all Heads of Departments.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The month of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o overcast, g gloomy, f fog, w dew.

42 & 43 VIC., CHAPTER 32.

An Act to bring into force the Army Discipline and Regulation Act, 1879, and for other purposes [24th July 1879].

WHEREAS the raising or keeping a standing army within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in time of peace, unless it be with the consent of Parliament, is against law :

And whereas it is adjudged necessary by Her Majesty and this present Parliament that a body of forces should be continued for the safety of the United Kingdom, and the defence of the possessions of Her Majesty's Crown, and that the whole number of such forces should consist of one hundred and thirty-five thousand six hundred and twenty-five men, including those to be employed at the depôts in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for the training of recruits for service at home and abroad, but exclusive of the numbers actually serving within Her Majesty's Indian possessions :

And whereas it is also judged necessary for the safety of the United Kingdom, and the defence of the possessions of this realm, that a body of Royal Marine forces should be employed in Her Majesty's fleet and naval service, under the direction of the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, or the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral as aforesaid :

And whereas the said marine forces may frequently be quartered or be on shore, or sent to do duty or be on board transport ships or merchant ships or vessels, or ships or vessels of Her Majesty, or other ships or vessels, or they may be under other circumstances in which they will not be subject to the laws relating to the Government of Her Majesty's forces by sea :

And whereas no man can be forejudged of life or limb, or subjected in time of peace to any kind of punishment within this realm by martial law, or in any other manner than by the judgment of his peers and according to the known and established laws of this realm, yet nevertheless it being requisite, for the retaining all the beforementioned forces, and other persons subject to military law, in their duty that an exact discipline be observed, and that persons belonging to the said forces who mutiny or stir up sedition, or desert Her Majesty's service, or are guilty of crimes and offences to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, be brought to a more exemplary and speedy punishment than the usual forms of the law will allow :

And whereas a Bill has been brought into Parliament, intituled the Army Discipline and Regulation Act, 1879, and the object of such Bill is to provide for the discipline and regulation of Her Majesty's forces, including the said Royal Marine forces :

And whereas it is provided by the said Bill that, when passed into an Act, it shall not come into force except in pursuance of an annual Act of Parliament to be thereafter passed bringing the same into force, and shall continue in force only for such time, and subject to such provisions, as may be specified in such last-mentioned Act :

And whereas it is expedient to provide for the bringing into force and for the continuance in force of the said Bill so intituled as aforesaid, in the event of the same becoming an Act :

Proceedings for Enlistment.

77. Every person authorised to enlist recruits in the regular forces (in this Act referred to as the "recruiter") shall give to every person offering to enlist a notice in the form for the time being authorised by a Secretary of State, stating the general requirements of attestation and the general conditions of the contract to be entered into by the recruit, and directing such person to appear before a justice of the peace at the time and place therein mentioned.

Upon the appearance before a justice of the peace of a person offering to enlist, the justice shall ask him whether he assents to be enlisted, and shall not proceed with the enlistment if he considers the recruit under the influence of liquor.

If he does not appear before a justice, or on appearing, does not assent to be enlisted, no further proceedings shall be taken.

If he assents to be enlisted—

(1) The justice, after cautioning such person that if he makes any false answer to the questions read to him, he will be liable to be punished as provided by this Act, shall read or cause to be read to him the questions set forth in the attestation paper for the time being authorised by a Secretary of State, and shall take care that such person understands each question so read, and after ascertaining that the answer of such person to each question has been duly recorded opposite the same in the attestation paper, shall require him to make and sign the declaration as to the truth of those answers set forth in the said paper, and shall then administer to him the oath of allegiance contained in the said paper:

* The date at which the recruit signs the declaration and takes the oath in this section in that behalf mentioned shall be deemed to be the date of the attestation of such recruit.

The competent military authority, if satisfied that there is any error in the attestation paper of a recruit, may cause the recruit to attend before some justice of the peace, and that justice, if satisfied that such error exists, and is not so material as to render it just that the recruit should be discharged, may amend the error in the attestation paper, and the paper as amended shall thereupon be deemed as valid as if the matter of the amendment had formed part of the original matter of such paper.

that may be offered in defence, if it seem just, punish such witness in like manner as if he had committed such offence in a proceeding in that court.

Where a person not subject to military law when examined on oath or solemn declaration before a court-martial wilfully gives false evidence, he shall be liable on indictment or information to be convicted of and punished for the offence of perjury, or the offence by whatever name called in the part of Her Majesty's dominions in which the offence is tried which, if committed in England, would be perjury.

Where a person not subject to military law is guilty of any contempt towards a court-martial, by using insulting or threatening language, or by causing any interruption or disturbance in its proceedings, or by printing observations or using words calculated to influence the members of or witnesses before such court, or to bring such court into disrepute, the President of the court-martial may certify the offence of such person under his hand to any court of law in the part of Her Majesty's dominions where the offence is committed which has power to commit for contempt, and that court may thereupon enquire into such alleged offence, and after hearing any witnesses that may be produced against or on behalf of the person so accused, and after hearing any statement that may be offered in defence, punish or take steps for the punishment of such person in like manner as if he had been guilty of contempt of that court.

124. A court-martial under this Act shall not, as respects the conduct of its proceedings, or the reception or rejection of evidence, or as respects any other matter or thing whatsoever, be subject to the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, or to any Act, law, or ordinance of any legislature whatsoever other than the Parliament of the United Kingdom.

125. The rules of evidence to be adopted in proceedings before courts-martial shall be the same as those which are followed in civil courts; and no person shall be required to answer any question or to produce any document which he could not be required to answer or produce in similar proceedings before a civil court.

126. Where it appears on the trial by court-martial of a person charged with an offence that such person is by reason of insanity unfit to take his trial, the court shall find specially that fact; and such person shall be kept in custody in the prescribed manner until the directions of Her Majesty thereon are known, or until any earlier time at which such person is fit to take his trial.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Public Works Department, are republished for general information:—

NOTIFICATIONS.—CIVIL WORKS.

TELEGRAPH.

Simla, the 29th October 1879.

No. 431.—The following rules for Foreign Messages, based on the London International Telegraph Convention of 1879, and approved by the Governor-General in Council, will come into force on the 1st April 1880, and are hereby published for general information:—

GENERAL.

Rule 1.—Messages to Europe, Asia, or Africa are accepted subject to the regulations of the International Telegraph Convention for the time being in force. Messages to America are accepted subject to the same conditions as far as regards their transit to the European termini of the cables.

Foreign messages are accepted for transmission under these rules at all such Telegraph stations of the following Railway Companies at which no Government Telegraph Office exists:—

Great Indian Peninsula, East Indian, South Indian, Eastern Bengal, and the following stations of the Madras Railway:—

Arconum, Cuddapa, Gooty, Raichur, Jolarapet, Palghat, Bey pore, Coimbatore, Salem.

Rule 2.—The Government of India accepts no responsibility whatsoever in respect of Foreign telegrams.

ACCEPTANCE OF MESSAGES.

Rule 3.—Foreign telegrams are classified as follows:—

(1st).—State messages; those which emanate from the Chief of the State, Ministers, Commanders-in-Chief of Land or Sea forces, and Diplomatic or Consular Agents of the Contracting Governments; also the replies to these messages.

Messages from Consular Agents who are engaged in commerce are not considered as State messages, except when they are addressed to a Government official and relate to the Government service.

N.B.—The new rules affecting Codes are not to be enforced till July.

(2nd).—Service messages; those which emanate from the Telegraph Departments of the Contracting States, and which relate either to the service of the International Telegraphs, or to objects of public interest determined upon by common accord by the said Departments.

(3rd).—Private messages

Rule 4.—Messages may be written in ordinary language, in code language, or in figure cipher.

Rule 5.—Messages in ordinary language must offer an intelligible sense throughout in one of the languages admitted for international telegraphic correspondence by the States which are parties to the Convention, or in Latin.

Rule 6.—Messages in code language (i.e., those not offering an intelligible sense throughout) must consist of recognized words of the German, English, Spanish, French, Italian, Dutch, Portuguese, and Latin languages. Proper names of every description are inadmissible in a code sense.

Rule 7.—Cipher messages may be either entirely in cipher, or partly in cipher and partly in ordinary language; in the latter case, the cipher portions (which must be composed exclusively of Arabic figures*) must be placed between parentheses.

Rule 8.—State and service messages may be sent in ordinary language or in code or cipher without any reservation.

* Groups of letters, not forming words, cannot be sent.

Rule 9.—Messages must be legibly written in characters which have their equivalent in the official code of telegraph signals, and which are in use in the country where the message is presented.

The body of the message must be preceded by the address, which can be written in code or abbreviated form; but in such case the delivery of the telegram is contingent on a previous arrangement between the addressee and the local Telegraph Office.

The signature can similarly be in code or abbreviated form, or may be omitted. If inserted, it should be placed after the body of the message. If not inserted, the last word of the message replaces it.

The sender of a private message can always be called upon to prove that the signature attached to it is genuine.

Every interlineation, reference, erasure, or addition of words must be authenticated by the sender of the message, or his representative.

Rule 10.—The address must contain all the information necessary to insure the delivery of the message at its destination. Such information should be written either in French or in the language of the country to which the message is addressed.

The address of private messages should always be such that delivery can be effected without difficulty or the necessity of making enquiries.

For large towns it should comprise the name of the street and the number of the house, or, in default of these particulars, the profession of the addressee, or some such information.

For small towns the name of the addressee ought, if possible, to be accompanied by information sufficient to guide the office of delivery in case of any alteration in the addressee's name.

It is essential that the name of the country of destination be mentioned whenever any doubt on the subject is possible.

Messages, the addresses of which do not contain these particulars, are nevertheless transmitted, but in all cases the sender must bear the consequences of insufficiency of address.

The address of a message to be conveyed beyond the telegraph lines is written as in the following example:—

M. Muller, Johanniethal express (or post) Berlin.

the name of the terminal Telegraph Station being always written last.

The address of a message for a ship at sea should contain, in addition to the ordinary directions, the name or official number of the vessel and its nationality.

Rule 11.—The sender must write immediately before the address of his message any instructions he wishes to give relative to its delivery, acknowledgment, collation, prepaid reply, being caused "to follow," &c. Such instructions, if written in abbreviated form, as under, will be counted each as one word:—

Postage prepaid (poste payée)	...	...	...	PP.
Express charges prepaid (express payée)	...	...	...	XP.
Acknowledgment prepaid (accuser réception)	...	...	...	CR.
Collation prepaid (telegramme collationné)	...	...	...	TC.
Reply prepaid (réponse payée)	...	...	...	RP.
To follow (faire suivre)	...	...	...	FS.

When such instructions are given in unabbreviated form, they should be written in French.

Rule 12.—The sender can prescribe the route he wishes his message to follow by writing the same on the message form in the place provided for the purpose. The Administrations are not bound to conform to printed instructions regarding the route.

When the sender prescribes the route to be followed, his wishes are complied with, unless the route indicated be interrupted, in which case no objection can be raised to the selection of an alternative route.

When no route is specified, the message is sent by the least expensive one.

Rule 13.—Any sender can, on proving his identity, stop, if in time, the transmission of his message.

When the sender withdraws or stops his message before transmission has been commenced, the charges are returned to him after deducting a fixed sum of 4 annas, the fee of the original sending station.

If the message has been already transmitted, the sender's only means of cancelling it is by a paid (private) telegram addressed to the terminal station.

The sender must pay also for a reply, if he desires to be informed by telegraph in what manner his request has been acted upon.

A station which receives a message, requesting the suppression of another message previously received, informs the original sending station by post in what manner the request has been acted upon, unless the sender has prepaid a reply by telegraph.

Delivery of Messages.

Rule 14.—Messages may be addressed either to the place of residence of the addressee or poste restante (to be kept at the Post Office till called for), or bureau restant (to be kept at the Telegraph Office till called for).

Messages which have to be sent to their destination by post, or which are addressed poste restante, are immediately sent by the office of destination to the Post Office and treated as registered letters, without charge either to sender or addressee. (See Rule 35.)

Rule 15.—A message taken to the place of residence of the addressee may be delivered either to the addressee, to the adult members of his family, to his employés, lodgers, or guests, or to the porter of the hotel or house in which he resides, unless the addressee has designated in writing a special person to receive it, or the sender has instructed that the message be delivered to the addressee only. This last demand, if made, should be mentioned in the address of the message, and is written on the envelope by the station of delivery.

When a message is addressed bureau restant, it is delivered only to the addressee himself or to a person duly appointed by him.

Rule 16.—When the message cannot be delivered, the terminal station intimates the fact by a Service telegram to the station of origin, which verifies the correctness of the address, and immediately rectifies any error. If the address has been correctly transmitted, the sender is informed of the non-delivery, but he can only supplement the address by a fresh private message. (See Rule 33.)

Rule 17.—If, in consequence of inaccuracy or insufficiency of address, or the absence or refusal of the addressee, the expenses of a special messenger are not paid on arrival, the costs incurred are specified in the advice of non-delivery or refusal, and ARE RECOVERABLE FROM THE SENDER.

CONTROL.

Rule 18.—The Government of India reserves to itself the right of stopping any private message which may appear dangerous to the security of the State, or which may be contrary to the laws of the country, to public order, or decency; and any intermediate administration may stop the transmission of such a message on condition of immediately advising the Administration to which the original sending station belongs.

This control is exercised by the terminal or intermediate offices subject to recourse to the central Administration, which decides without appeal.

RECORDS.

Rule 19.—The originals and copies of messages, and the slips containing the signals or similar papers, are preserved for a period of 18 months after date, with all necessary precautions to ensure their secrecy.

Rule 20.—The originals or copies of messages can only be communicated to the sender or to the addressee after proving his identity, or to the authorized attorney of either.

The sender and addressee, or the authorized attorney of either, have a right to be furnished with certified true copies of the messages sent or received by them. This right ceases after the expiration of 18 months from the date of the message, and is contingent on the exact date and description of the message to which the request refers being mentioned.

For every such copy, a fee of 4 annas per 100 words, or fraction of 100 words, is payable.

SPECIAL MESSAGES.

Rule 21.—The sender of a message can prepay the reply which he requests his correspondent to send. The amount deposited for the reply must not exceed the cost of an ordinary telegram of 30 words by the same route.

In this case he must write before the address of the message and pay for the instruction "Réponse payée, or R P" Should the number of words for which a reply is prepaid be greater or less than ten, the sender must add to the instruction the number of words, thus—

"R.P. 15" (two words), or "Réponse payée 15" (three words).

When a reply is prepaid the station of delivery either pays to the addressee the amount deposited for the reply, in money, or in stamps, or furnishes him with an order, current for six weeks only, authorizing the free despatch of a message to any destination up to the amount prepaid.

In India the amount is always paid to the addressee in cash or telegraph stamps, and the reply, when tendered, is considered and treated as any other message.

If the original message cannot be delivered within 8 days, or if the receiver formally refuses the money, stamps, or order for the reply, the station of delivery informs the sender of it by a telegram, which indicates the cause of non-delivery and takes the place of the reply.

Rule 22.—The sender of any message can, by writing the word "Collationné" (or "T.C.") immediately before the address, ensure its being repeated. In this case the different officers concerned in its transmission collate it integrally (i.e., it is repeated back from office to office to ensure its correctness).

The charge for collation is equal to half the charge for the message.

Rule 23.—The sender of a message can, by adding the words "accuser réception," or "C.R.," immediately before the address, ensure that a notice shall be telegraphed to him of the hour of its delivery.

If the message cannot be delivered, the terminal station intimates the fact and the reason by a Service telegram. (See Rule 16.) The return message paid for by the sender is afterwards transmitted, either on delivery of the telegram, should that be found possible, or at the expiration of 24 hours in the contrary event.

The charge for an "acknowledgment" is that for a simple message of 10 words by the same route as that followed by the original message.

Rule 24.—The sender of a message can, by writing the words "Faire suivre," or "F.S.," immediately before the address, ensure its following the addressee to different Addressee, if necessary, within the limits of Europe.

When a message bears the notice "Faire suivre," the terminal station, after presenting it at the address given, transmits it immediately, if requisite, to any new address supplied at the residence of the addressee. If no new address is supplied, the message is kept in the office and its non-delivery reported. (See Rule 16.) If the message is re-transmitted, and the second station cannot find the addressee, the message is retained by that station.

If the notice "Faire suivre" is accompanied by successive addresses, the message is successively transmitted to each, if necessary, and the last Office treats it in accordance with the regulations of the preceding paragraph.

The charge for a message "Faire suivre" to be levied from the sender is simply the charge to the first terminal station, all the addresses entering into the number of words charged for. The supplementary charge is recovered from the addressee.

Rule 25—Any person, by explaining the necessity, can request that messages which may arrive at a Telegraph Office to be delivered to him, within the radius of delivery of that office, be re-transmitted, in conformity with the conditions of the preceding paragraphs, to the address which he furnishes; this request must be made in writing.

Rule 26.—Telegraphic messages may be addressed—

I—to several persons in the same place;

II—to the same person at several residences in the same place.

In the first case, each copy of the message bears only its own address, unless the sender requests the contrary, in which case the request must be entered after the address, and will be charged for.

A message addressed to several persons in the same locality, or to one person at several places of residence in the same locality (whether with or without transmission by post), is charged for as a single message; but a copying fee of 4 annas per 100 words, plus 4 annas for the excess, is charged for each destination after the first.

Rule 27.—In applying the preceding Rules, the facilities given to the public for prepayment of replies or acknowledgments, collation of messages, messages to follow, multiple messages, or messages for transmission beyond the limits of the Telegraph lines, can be combined, subject to the conditions of Rule 11.

APPLICATION OF CHARGES.

Rule 28.—The minimum charge is for a single word not exceeding ten letters, or for a group of figures not exceeding three.

Rule 29.—All that the sender writes in his message to be transmitted is included in reckoning the cost, except as stated in paragraph 7 of Rule 30 and paragraph 2 of Rule 34.

Words, numbers, or signs added by the Office in the interest of the service are not charged for.

Rule 30.—In ordinary and code messages the maximum length of a word is fixed at ten letters: every ten letters (or fraction of ten letters) in excess is counted as a word.

Words joined by a hyphen are counted as so many separate words.

Words separated by an apostrophe are counted as so many separate words.

Combinations of words contrary to the usage of the language to which they belong are not admitted, but proper names of towns and persons, names of places, squares, streets, &c., titles, Christian names, particles, and qualifications, as well as numbers written in words, are counted for the number of words (not exceeding ten letters) employed by the sender to express them. Abbreviations and misspelt words are inadmissible.

Numbers expressed in figures are counted at the rate of three figures to a word, plus one word for any excess.

Every isolated character, whether letter or figure, is counted as a word. The same applies to an underline.

Signs of punctuation, hypens, apostrophes, inverted commas, parentheses, fresh paragraphs, are not counted or signalled, but decimal points, commas, and bars of division used with figures are each counted as a figure and signalled.

Letters added to figures to form ordinal numbers are each counted as a figure.

444,55 (8 " ")	... 2 "	Emvteh (letter cipher)	... } Inadmis-
444,55 (2 groups)	... 2 "	Tmlrz (" ")	... } sible.

Rule 31.—In messages which contain cipher, the words in ordinary language or in code are counted according to paragraphs 1 to 4, and groups of figures according to paragraphs 5 to 8 of the preceding rule.

Words in a language not admissible under Rules 5 and 6 cannot be sent.

Rule 32.—The name of the original sending station, and the date, hour, and minute (Madras time) of deposit of the messages, are added free, and entered in the copy of the message delivered to the addressee.

Rule 33.—Every rectifying or completing message, and generally every communication made to a Telegraph Office relative to a message already transmitted, or in course of transmission, is classed as a private telegram and charged for, but if such communication shall have been necessitated by an error of the Service, the cost of a demand for repetition and of the repetition itself will be refunded on application to the Check Office, Government Telegraph Department, Calcutta.

Rule 34.—The charge on a message is calculated according to the least expensive route from the starting point of the message to its destination, unless that route is interrupted or the sender selects another.

The indication of the route is transmitted in the Official Instructions, and is not charged for.

SPECIAL CHARGES.

Rule 35.—Every message which has to be transmitted to its destination by post, or deposited poste restante, is posted as a registered letter by the Office of delivery, without extra charge either to the sender or addressee, except in the two following cases:—

(a).—Messages which have to be transmitted to destination by Sea post, either in consequence of interruption to a sub-marine line, or by reason of being addressed to a country not connected with the International Telegraph system, are subject to a charge for postage of 12 annas, payable by the sender†.

(b).—Messages transmitted to an Office situated near a frontier, to be delivered by post in the neighbouring territory, are posted as unpaid letters, and the postage is payable by the addressee.

PAYMENT.

Rule 36.—The charges on messages are prepaid by the sender. The following are, however, exceptions, and are recovered from the receiver:—

1st.—The charge for messages sent from sea by semaphore.

2nd.—The supplementary charge for onward transmission of messages "To follow" (Faire suivre).

3rd.—The expense of transport beyond the telegraph lines by quicker means than the post in States where such Service is organised.

In every case where charges are to be made on arrival, the message is not delivered till payment of the amount due is received.

Rule 37.—Insufficient charges received in error, or charges not recovered through refusal of the addressee to defray them in full, or through his not being found at the address given, MUST BE MADE GOOD BY THE SENDER.

Excess charges made in error are returned, but the value of telegraph stamps attached to a message in excess of the correct charge by the sender, can only be recovered by application to the Check Office. (See Rule 40.)

FREE MESSAGES.

Rule 38.—Messages relating to the traffic requirements of the International Telegraph Service are transmitted free.

REFUNDS.

Rule 39.—The whole cost of any message which has suffered a serious delay in transmission, which has not been delivered through the fault of the Telegraph Service, is refunded to the sender by the Administration which received it.

† "ch" counted as one letter.

† On messages from India addressed to places out of India, and which are to be posted from a seaport to destination, the sender also prepays a postage and registration fee of 12 annas.

In case of delay, the claim for re-imbursement is absolute if the message did not reach its destination sooner than it would have done by post, or if the delay exceeds six days.

No refund is given for errors in uncollated messages, but the whole cost of a collated message is returned to the sender, if, in consequence of errors in transmission, it has manifestly failed to fulfil its object.

In the case of interruption on a sub-marine line, the sender of any message has a right to a refund of the portion of the charge belonging to the distance not traversed, deduction being made, if necessary, of the expense incurred in sending the message by any other mode of transport.

These rules do not apply to messages which pass over the lines of a non-adhering administration which would not on its side make similar refunds.

Rule 40.—Every claim for re-imbursement of charges ought to be made to the CHECK OFFICE, GOVERNMENT TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT, CALCUTTA, and be supported as follows: In case of non-delivery, by a written statement from the terminal station or addressee; in case of mutilation or delay, by the copy actually delivered to the addressee, and by a certificate stating that, in consequence of the errors complained of, the message failed to fulfil its object. The particular errors which led to this result should also be specially mentioned. A complaint regarding a received message may, if the addressee chooses, be addressed to the CHECK OFFICE, which, if possible, disposes of it, otherwise it is returned to be presented at the Office of Origin.

If the sender does not reside in the country where he deposited his message for transmission, he can have his claim forwarded to the original Administration through the medium of another Administration. In this case, if it becomes evident on investigation that the claim is well founded, the latter is deputed to make the refund.

When a claim to refund is admitted to be well founded by the administration in fault, the refund is made to the sender by the CHECK OFFICE.

Complaints are not forwarded when the fault complained of does not give the sender a claim to refund, or has resulted from an omission or irregularity on his part.

Rule 41.—The charges on messages stopped in transit under operation of Rule 18 are returned to the sender.

Rule 42.—The refund rules apply only to the cost of the actual messages lost, delayed, or mutilated, and not to the cost of any further correspondence caused or rendered useless by such loss, delay, or mutilation, except in the case of the exception mentioned in Rule 33.

Rule 43.—Every claim should be made, under penalty of rejection, within six months of the date of the message.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL CUSTOMS REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE FOR 1878-79.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MIS. REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 5th November 1879.

RESOLUTION.

Read—

The Annual Customs Report of the Board of Revenue for 1878-79.

In the Resolution on the reports for 1877-78 the Lieutenant-Governor was constrained to remark that, although the Collector had furnished a complete review of the trading operations of the year, the Board had failed to do more than submit a covering letter, in which no proper review even of the trade of the outports was attempted. Sir Stuart Bayley is glad to acknowledge that the reports of the Board and the Collector for 1878-79, now under consideration, are very full and complete. The Board have so fully reviewed the returns for the different ports under each head that it is unnecessary for the Lieutenant-Governor to place on record any detailed examination of the trade of the year. The following paragraphs will recapitulate briefly the leading statistics. The issue of this resolution has unavoidably been delayed by the necessity of checking the figures supplied by the Board with the trade and navigation returns.

2. The returns of customs revenue naturally show a very considerable falling off. The general dulness of trade, the removal of such special stimulating causes as operated during the Russo-Turkish war, the revision of the tariff, and the reduction in the duty on salt, all tended to cause the receipts for 1878-79 to compare unfavourably with those for previous years. The Board justly remark, however, that in consequence of the various alterations which have taken place in the import and export tariff, the revenue statistics of the different years afford no accurate gauge of their relative commercial activity. The gross amount of import and export duty realized in each of the past five years was :—

	1874-75	1875-76	1876-77.	1877-78	1878-79
	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs
Import duty (excluding duty on salt) ...	88,83,721	86,02,446	80,20,800	98,48,063	76,81,798
Import duty on salt	2,56,03,075	2,44,38,993	2,47,55,004	2,56,60,202	2,44,04,388
Export duty	20,00,583	21,25,578	21,01,722	23,64,330	21,99,326
Total gross duty ...	3,03,87,977	3,51,67,017	3,48,08,126	3,74,54,264	3,22,76,013

To the difference (Rs. 51,78,252) between the amounts of duty levied in 1877-78 and 1878-79 the reduction in salt contributed Rs. 32,64,874. The modification in the rates of duty on piece-goods caused the greater part of the decrease in the amount of general import duty levied. The decrease under exports was not serious. The amount realized was only a fraction less than that received in 1876-77, and was considerably greater than the collections of 1874-75 and 1875-76. The decrease, such as it was, occurred chiefly under the head of indigo. Turning to the returns for the different ports, the Lieutenant-Governor remarks that, while the net revenue in Calcutta showed a decrease of 14 per cent. on the previous year, there was an increase of 12 per cent. in Chittagong and of no less than 24½ per cent. in Cuttack. The gross duty levied at the Cuttack ports amounted to Rs. 55,893, against Rs. 20,634 in 1877-78. In Balasore there was a decrease, but this was the necessary result of an exceptional import of salt in 1877-78. The export trade from this port in 1878-79 showed a satisfactory increase, which will be further noticed below.

3. The gross value of trade of the province during the past five years, exclusive of Government transactions, was :—

	1874-75	1875-76	1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79
	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs.
IMPORTS . . . { Foreign	20,25,70,825	18,84,77,107	10,31,92,793	24,31,89,416	18,43,31,959
{ Coasting	3,41,05,166	2,44,13,294	2,82,79,180	3,75,39,428	3,60,63,198
Total	23,66,75,991	21,28,90,401	2,14,71,982	28,10,27,874	22,03,95,157
EXPORTS { Foreign	22,77,19,338	24,49,30,024	26,69,98,402	31,28,75,236	29,85,00,339
{ Coasting	6,78,95,045	6,78,48,910	11,70,89,379	16,73,46,925	6,71,82,449
Total	29,56,15,283	30,27,78,834	38,40,87,771	47,00,02,162	36,56,82,788
Total Trade	53,23,91,274	51,56,69,235	60,55,59,853	75,10,30,036	58,60,67,945

Thus the total value of the trade of the province, exclusive of Government transactions, though, considerably less than in 1877-78, and something less than in 1876-77, shows an excess of seven crores of rupees over 1875-76 and of nearly 5½ crores over 1874-75. The diminution in comparison with 1877-78 was mainly in the coasting trade owing to the cessation of the large demand for grain in Southern India. The value of the foreign export trade was in round numbers 29¼ crores, against 22¼ in 1874-75, 24½ in 1875-76, and 26¾ in 1876-77.

4. One very satisfactory feature in the returns is the steady decrease in the value of stores imported by Government. The figures for the past three years are :—

1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79.
Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
64,20,772	44,70,790	24,17,960

Of certain articles of course Government must continue to procure supplies from Europe. Among these may be mentioned railway materials. There was an increase of $1\frac{1}{4}$ lakh in 1878-79 in the value of materials imported for the construction of State Railways. But the year shows a decrease of nearly 8 lakhs in the imports of boots and shoes, of $4\frac{3}{4}$ lakhs under malt liquors, of the same amount under woollen piece-goods, and of $1\frac{1}{4}$ lakh under metals. It is the desire of Government that the requirements of the public service should, as far as possible, be supplied in this country, and to the furtherance of this policy the most earnest endeavours are being addressed.

5. Compared with those of 1877-78, the foreign imports of 1878-79 show a decrease of Rs. 5,91,98,380. There was an increase in imports of free merchandize of Rs. 1,09,26,623, or more than 100 per cent. Under the head of dutiable merchandize there was a decrease of Rs. 3,87,04,449, and under the head of treasure a decrease of Rs. 3,14,20,554. The increase in free imports is of course the result of the exceptions granted in March 1878. The general decline in imports of merchandize is observable chiefly under the heads of cotton and woollen goods, coal, liquors, copper, and tin. The falling off in these was to some extent counteracted by increased activity in salt, railway materials, betelnuts, and iron. Compared with 1876-77, however, the imports of merchandize show only a very trifling decrease. The falling off in the imports of treasure is explained by the quite exceptional nature of the operations of 1877-78. In that year the cessation of the Secretary of State's drafts altered materially the course of exchange with Europe, and a large quantity of silver was rendered available for export to India.

6. In exports of merchandize to foreign countries there was a falling off compared with 1877-78 and a corresponding increase compared with 1876-77. The figures for five years are:—

1874-76.	1875-76.	1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79.
Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
21,69,98,237.	23,55,74,690.	26,45,34,814.	30,99,69,984.	28,80,64,311.

A stronger reaction might have been looked for after the great advance taken in 1877-78, but the decrease in wheat, seeds, indigo, sugar, and silk has been accompanied by an increase in raw-cotton, rice, opium, jute, raw and manufactured, castor oil, tea, and silk piece-goods. In round numbers the foreign trade of Calcutta is distributed among the different countries in the following proportions:—United Kingdom, 60 per cent; China, $15\frac{1}{4}$ per cent.; United States and Ceylon, each $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.; Straits Settlements, 4 per cent.; France, 3 per cent.; Mauritius, $1\frac{3}{4}$ per cent.; Australia and Italy, each $1\frac{1}{4}$ per cent.; other countries, 4 per cent. The share of the United Kingdom fell from $65\frac{1}{2}$ to 60 per cent., owing chiefly to the comparative slackness of trade in piece-goods, wheat, and seeds. The trade with France was affected by the falling off in the import of piece-goods on the one hand and the export of indigo on the other. With the United States, on the other hand, there was a satisfactory increase; the total value of the trade being Rs. 2,15,39,210, against Rs. 1,95,18,314 in 1876-77 and Rs. 2,06,09,629 in 1877-78. There was a large increase in the exports of jute, raw and manufactured, indigo, shell lac, saltpetre, and ginger, and the special advantages enjoyed by articles imported directly into the United States from the country of production appear to promise a further expansion of the immediate trade between India and America. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that much activity is being shown during the current season, and that there has been a remarkable rise in American freights. The export trade with Australia shows a considerable increase under rice, tea, gunny-bags, and castor oil.

7. The first item in the import list requiring special notice is coal. There was a very large reduction in the quantity imported, from 77,375 tons in 1876-77 and 80,703 in 1877-78 to 34,341 in 1878-79. The Board justly remark that this is only partially explained by the low rates of freight ruling during the year. It is no doubt the case that, where high freights are obtainable, vessels will come in search of employment with coal or other low-paying cargo rather than with ballast. But the evidence of the increasing demand for country coal forbids the acceptance of the condition of the freight market as the sole cause of the decrease in the imports of the English staple. It is shown that the quantity of country coal taken as stores by sea-going steamers increased from 90,000 tons in 1877-78 to 126,000 tons in 1878-79. It is estimated that the output of the Rancegunge mines was 523,007 tons in 1878-79, against 467,924 tons, the average of the three previous years, and it appears reasonable to suppose that the English article will be gradually superseded by the produce of the Indian mines.

8. Some interesting information is given regarding the peculiarities of the coral trade, a department of commerce which appears to be liable to very remarkable fluctuations. It appears that the Nepalese, the people of the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab, and the people of Eastern Bengal, all affect different sorts of coral, and that scarcity of one description does not promote the sale of another. The value of the Calcutta trade ranges from five to six lakhs of rupees, and it is believed that the demand considerably exceeds the supply.

9. There was a large falling off in the imports of cotton twist and yarn and piece-goods from England, as the following figures show:—

	1874-75.	1875-76.	1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Twist and yarn	1,10,30,703	1,04,43,699	1,05,55,859	1,17,65,668	1,05,71,886
Piece-goods	10,37,93,728	10,34,01,521	9,33,74,448	11,42,74,160	8,55,28,860

It was remarked in the resolution on the last report that there was reason to suppose that the large importations in 1877-78 were stimulated by an increased demand resulting from the high prices of agricultural produce as well as by overtrading. The Government of India questioned the correctness of this view chiefly on the ground that Northern India as well as Bengal draws the bulk of its supplies of cotton goods from Calcutta, and that in the Upper Provinces there was considerable distress among the agricultural population. With reference to this question the Board point out that the quantities of cotton goods supplied to Upper India from Bombay has considerably increased of late with the extension of railway communication and the special efforts made to foster the trade. The Lieutenant-Governor would invite attention to the following statistics of the movements of English piece-goods by rail from Bombay during the last quarter of 1877-78:—

			Ind. Maunds.
To Stations on the East Indian Railway	...	...	31,710
" " Holkar State Railway	...	...	25,436
			57,146

The quantity of piece-goods imported into Calcutta by sea during each of the past four years was—

	1875-76.	1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79.
	Yds.	Yds.	Yds.	Yds.

The increase in the importations of Bombay goods is remarkable, and there can be little doubt that the market is to some extent being forced by them. But, looking to all the circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the Board have correctly inferred that the large importations in 1877-78 were to some extent due to the exceptional prosperity of Bengal during that year.

10. Under malt liquors, spirits, and wines, there is a decrease. The falling off is most marked under the first head, and this is rightly attributed in some measure to the competition of the produce of the breweries in the hills. The Board have carefully examined the figures under the different heads, and have advanced good reasons for thinking that the fluctuations are normal.

11. The imports of unwrought iron fell from 3,484 tons in 1877-78 to 1,214 tons in 1878-79. In connection with this, it is interesting to learn that the Bengal Iron Company manufactured 7,800 tons during the year; and it may reasonably be hoped that the time is not distant when Indian wrought iron may also displace to some extent the imported article. In tea there was some increase in quantity, but a falling off in price. The average declared value was only 8 annas a pound, against 10 annas in 1877-78. This cheap tea is imported to provide for the increasing local consumption. The decrease in the quantity of cigars imported, shown in the following figures, points unmistakably to the increasing popularity of Indian cigars :—

Further reference will be made to this subject under the head of exports

12. The trade in raw cotton displayed a considerable recovery during the year, and the exports reached the highest quantity attained since the very favourable year 1872-73. In 1877-78 the trade was injuriously affected by the large crop in America, the failure of the crop in the North-Western Provinces, and the famine in China. During the past year the large crop in India induced low prices, and the export to the United Kingdom rose from 23,068 cwts. to 173,157 cwts. The exports to Austria amounted to 19,355 cwts. as against 1,099 cwts., while the trade with China was more than doubled. There are indications of a prosperous trade in this staple during the current year. There is a brisk demand, and prices are said to have lately risen in London from 3½d. to 4½d. per pound, while the supply is reported to be large. In indigo there was a large falling off, only 74,747 cwt. being exported against 99,402 in the previous year. The price, however, was kept down owing to the increased production of inferior indigo. There was a falling off in the exports to France, but only in comparison with 1877-78, when the shipments were exceptionally large. Some increase was looked for in the trade with America owing to the failure of the crop in Guatemala, and the Board appear to apprehend correctly that the demand must have been indirectly supplied.

13. The exports of husked rice have risen uninterruptedly from 2,724,232 cwts. in 1874-75 to 5,701,035 cwts. in 1878-79. The exports to Ceylon advanced in 1876-77 from less than half a million to more than two million cwts., and they have averaged nearly 2½ million cwts. during the past two years. Direct communication was opened during the year with Natal, and this colony took 100,000 cwts. The price of exported rice has risen from about Rs. 3-12 in 1876-77 to about Rs. 5-5 in 1878-79, and the gross value of the exports in the latter year was over three crores of rupees. The exports to the United Kingdom have not yet reached the point arrived at in 1875-76, but they show an increase of 86,000 cwt. over the previous year, and altogether the Board appear to be justified in taking a sanguine view of the prospects of the trade in this staple. The remarkable expansion of the trade during the past five years shows the wisdom of retaining the small export duty on rice, which now produces nearly a lakh of rupees a year paid by the consumers.

14. The wheat trade was stimulated in 1876-77 and 1877-78 by special circumstances. Short crops in America, the practical exclusion of the produce of Southern Russia from the markets of Europe, and an abundant outturn in this country, all operated to make the exports exceptionally brisk. There has now been a reaction after this period of prosperity. The large demand during the two previous years is believed to have led to considerable reduction of reserve stocks, while production in America has been undertaken on a very large scale, and the conclusion of the war in South-Eastern Europe has re-opened the trade of the Black Sea ports. The Indian wheat trade, though reduced in bulk through the removal of exceptional advantages, is still prosperous. The following are the quantities exported in each of the past six years :—

				Cwts.
1873-74	...	...	...	489,443
1874-75	...	...	...	279,280
1875-76	...	...	...	1,330,821
1876-77	...	...	...	3,882,218
1877-78	...	...	...	4,544,392
1878-79	...	...	...	889,869

The price advanced from about Rs. 3-2 a cwt. in 1876-77 to about Rs. 4-11 in 1878-79. There has recently been a considerable rise in price in England owing to the bad harvest, and the exports of the current year are likely to show a considerable advance on those of last season.

15. The mortality among the Madras cattle during the scarcity caused a large supply of hides from that Presidency to be thrown on the market, and the Calcutta trade suffered. There has now been a considerable recovery, as the following figures of the exports of raw hides and skins show :—

1874-75.	1876-77.	1878-79.
No.	No.	No.
9,628,296	6,751,246	8,666,262

The opening of the Northern Bengal Railway has increased the supply of small fine skins known in the trade as "Dacca hides." The Board have reason to believe that the demand from America, which declined during the year owing to a crisis in the boot trade, is likely to revive. In dressed hides and skins the trade still maintains the advance made in 1876-77.

16. The exports of raw jute reached the highest point yet attained since 1872-73, when they exceeded 7 millions of cwts. Between that year and 1876-77 there was a decline to $4\frac{1}{2}$ millions. Notwithstanding the large demand for the supply of the local mills, which has only been fully developed during the past four or five years, the exports in 1878-79 amounted to 5,701,346 cwts. (within 15 tons of the quantity of rice exported), and the value of the trade was more than $3\frac{1}{2}$ crores of rupees. It is important, moreover, to note that the year witnessed a great increase in the foreign exports of jute from Chittagong. A valuable trade in this staple is being established, the jute being conveyed to Chittagong down the Megna from Naraingunge. The English price of jute has lately risen one-seventh, and considerable shipments are being made to Europe and America. The trade with countries other than the United Kingdom shows a satisfactory advance. The exports of 1876-77 and 1878-79 were—

			1876-77.	1878-79.
			Cwts.	Cwts.
Austria	...	..	53,460	81,372
United States	...	...	881,312	1,102,191
Australia	...	...	13,341	20,298
Other countries	...	...	7,219	134,855

In manufactured jute the trade continues to advance with rapid strides, and there appears to be a probability that a further increase will be shown during the current year. The Board apprehend that the market is being unduly forced in order to carry off the large outturn of the local mills, and it is certainly doubtful if the trade can be maintained on its present scale. The exports, however, to America and to Hong-Kong, whence the greater part is transhipped for San Francisco, have shown a wonderful expansion. They were less than a million bags in 1874-75: in 1878-79 they were $18\frac{1}{2}$ millions. To Australia the number exported in 1874-75 was less than $1\frac{1}{2}$ million. For the last two years it has been $8\frac{1}{2}$ millions. The mill-owners are making every effort to improve the quantity of their fabrics, and, with cheap labour and the raw material at hand, they may reasonably hope to secure the supremacy in the manufacture of jute.

17. In oil-seeds there has been a considerable falling off. The decline in the trade with the United States in linseed is attributed to the extension of home cultivation; but the Lieutenant-Governor understands that large shipments are now being made. The export of seeds to Europe during the previous two years had been stimulated by the restriction of Russian commerce and the general briskness of trade. The trade with the United Kingdom in linseed is, however, still considerably more than twice as large as it was in 1873-74, while in rapeseed there has been a vast increase, which is steadily maintained. There has lately been an advance of one-seventh in the price of linseed and of one-eleventh in the price of rapeseed in the home market.

The figures compare thus:—

			Linseed.	Rape seed.
			Cwts.	Cwts.
1873-74	...	...	962,412	100,239
1874-75	...	...	1,088,435	437,244

1876-77	...	...	2,748,694	983,044
1877-78	...	...	4,383,233	1,633,453
1878-79	...	...	2,401,122	1,275,706

18. In raw silk there was some falling off, owing chiefly to the large crop in Italy. In the current year the outturn in Europe will be smaller, and an improvement in the exports from India is anticipated. The Board correctly observe that it is clear that Indian silk can only hope to supplement the produce of the south of Europe.

19. The trade in sugar was inflated in 1876-77 and 1877-78 by shortness of supply in Europe and by unsound speculation. The exports to the United States have collapsed, and the sugar has been found unsuited to the American market. Under ordinary circumstances, the local demand is able to absorb the supply, and only high prices will induce any large external trade. It is noticeable that the exports to Madras and Bombay also decreased largely during the year, and that sugar to the value of 2½ lakhs was actually imported from Bombay.

20. The exports of tea still increase, though the advance has been moderate compared with the progress in previous years. The quantity has nearly doubled during the past seven years, the exports of 1872-73 being 17,628,901lb compared with 34,089,038lb in 1878-79. There has been an improvement in quality and a consequent increase in price; and the Board draw attention to the further very satisfactory circumstance that the exports to Australia and "other countries" have been much larger than in any previous year. Australia will no doubt in time prove a very valuable outlet for Indian tea.

29,669,248	18,885,400	9,403,997	9,276,622	10,062,010

The trade with Gibraltar, which reached nearly five millions of pounds in 1874-75, disappeared during the past year, chiefly, it is believed, in consequence of the vigorous preventive measures adopted by the Spanish authorities. The trade with France shows a considerable recovery on the two previous years, while the trade with Italy, always fluctuating, shows a decline. There was an increase, however, in 1878-79 of more than two millions of pounds to "other countries," chiefly Holland. In considering the prospects of this trade it is necessary to bear in mind that there has been a falling off of more than 20 per cent. in the imports of cigars, Indian taking to this extent the place of foreign cigars in the local consumption. The high prices of agricultural produce, by raising the standard of living among the people, have also doubtless led to increased consumption of unmanufactured tobacco. The main circumstance, however, that retards the expansion of the trade is the imperfect system of curing. The improvement of this has now been undertaken in earnest by European enterprise. Messrs. Begg, Dunlop and Co., who were granted a lease of the Government lands at Poosa for this purpose in 1877, are proceeding energetically with the work, and there is every reason to anticipate a successful issue of their undertaking. The Lieutenant-Governor quite concurs in the favourable view which the Board take of the prospects of Bengal tobacco.

Coasting trade.

22. The value of the coasting trade of Calcutta during the past two years was:—

			1877-78.	1878-79.
			Rs.	Rs.
Imports	...	...	2,01,76,500	2,13,73,250
Exports	...	...	11,98,78,925	5,23,02,139
Total	...	...	14,00,55,425	7,36,75,389

The imports from Bombay show an increase from Rs. 88,34,713 to Rs. 93,80,254, and the exports a decrease from Rs. 2,18,39,403 to Rs. 99,10,693. Of the imports, raw cotton contributed an increase of 2½ lakhs. There was a slight increase in piece-goods, and a falling off in Indian twist and yarn of 6¼ lakhs, the operations of the previous year having apparently been on a scale exceeding the requirements of the market. The cessation of the scarcity led to a decrease of 81½ lakhs in the exports of rice. There was also a large falling off in sugar, gunny bags, and jute.

The trade with Madras showed an increase in imports from Rs. 35,96,285 to Rs. 38,73,633, and a decrease in exports from Rs. 5,87,26,774 to Rs. 1,42,18,974. The glut in hides and skins in the Madras market led to increased exports to Bengal, and there was some advance in raw cotton, castor seed, and betelnuts. The import trade, however, is still suffering from the effects of the famine in Southern India, and it has still to show a considerable improvement before it regains the position of 1876-77, when the value was Rs. 53,88,532. Of the falling off in the export trade food stuffs contributed 3 crores and 90 lakhs. Raw silk shows a decrease of 17 lakhs, and teel seed a decrease of 7 lakhs.

There was an increase from Rs. 46,90,107 to Rs. 51,81,141 in the imports from British Burmah, chiefly in teak timber, forest produce, and mineral oil. The value of the exports was Rs. 2,10,32,365, against Rs. 3,06,59,650 in 1877-78. Foreign piece-goods shew a decrease of 20 lakhs, hardware and cutlery 18 lakhs, Indian twist and yarn 14 lakhs, and gunny bags and silk piece-goods nine lakhs each. The decline in the trade is reasonably attributed to the disturbed state of affairs in Upper Burmah.

23. The trade of this port shows a very satisfactory increase. The value of the foreign exports was Rs. 37,44,455, against Rs. 6,07,247 in 1876-77 and Rs. 16,63,278 in 1877-78. As has already been noted, a brisk trade in jute for foreign export has been established with Naraingunge. There were also large increases in the shipments of tea to the United Kingdom and of rice to Mauritius. The interport trade was 48 lakhs, as in the previous year, against 45 in 1876-77 and 42 in 1875-76.

24. The following statement shows the progress of the sea-borne trade of Orissa during the past seven years:—

		Balasore.	Pooree.	Cuttack.	Total.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1872-73	...	3,06,525	2,49,074	2,28,536	7,84,135

1874-75	...	2,86,349	3,05,580	9,54,242	15,46,171
1875-76	...	37,67,053	3,19,446	26,50,181	67,36,680
1876-77	...	74,50,101	8,33,846	40,94,178	1,23,78,125
1877-78	...	1,11,99,790	6,25,527	72,77,039	1,91,02,356
1878-79	...	85,25,425	5,26,097	47,14,602	1,37,66,124

The trade of Balasore and Cuttack was of course much stimulated by the demand for grain in Southern India in 1876-77 and 1877-78. The awakening of the province to commercial activity had, however, already taken place when this call was made on its resources, and, though this special cause of increase has been removed, the trade of 1878-79 shows a considerable advance even on that of 1876-77. With improved communications between the interior and the sea-board further steady development may be confidently expected.

25. The Lieutenant-Governor cordially endorses the commendation which the Board have bestowed on Mr. Maclean, the Collector of Customs, for his excellent report. The names of the other officers, who have been selected for favourable mention, will be duly noted.

Errata.—In the abstract for June last, the per-centage and resultant of the wind should be 87 S 46° W.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

JOHN ELIOT,

Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and other things being equal, reads therefore '003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature of October apparently about 2 5° lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0 6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA, the 10th November 1879.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway for four weeks ending 27th September 1879

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY, TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPORE, THE 17TH OCTOBER 1879.

Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway for four weeks ending 27th September 1879.

THE approximate figures for the period are—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1879	823,908	6,73,708	40,47,983	17,70,783	24,44,491
1878	823,887	6,35,815	38,95,197	15,53,094	21,88,909
Increase	219	37,893	1,52,786	2,17,689	2,53,558
Decrease

showing a satisfactory increase of over 11½ per cent in the total earnings.

The increase in coaching traffic is owing to despatches of Government camels and cattle to the Afghan war, and to the running of a few special trains for Native Chiefs.

Mechandize Traffic.

The noticeable fluctuations are as follow—

Increases.
Coal.	Gunny.		Railway material, foreign.
Grain and pulses	Iron.		Sugar and jaggree.
Decreases.
Ghee and oil.	Piece-goods.		Seeds.
Increases.
		Mds.	Rs.
Coal, up	...	+2,65,000	1,47,200
" down	...	—1,11,600	12,600
	Nett	+1,53,400	1,34,600

This increase in up-coal is due to the demand from foreign Railways, viz, Seinde, Punjab and Delhi, and the Punjab Northern State, Oudh and Rohilkund (vid Benares), and the Kohilkund State Railway (vid Agra).

Grain and pulses Mds. 22,100 Rs. 43,800

These figures are arrived at thus—

	Increases.		Decreases.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.
Wheat	1,27,500	93,000
Other grain and pulses ...			1,03,400	49,200
Total	1,27,500	93,000	1,03,400	49,200
Net increase	...	...	Mds. 22,100	Rs. 43,800

There is brisk demand for wheat for export owing to the continued unfavorable account of the English harvest and the consequent advance in prices at home.

The decrease in other food-grain is principally in the despatches from the North-Western Provinces to the Bombay Presidency, owing no doubt to the unusually heavy rains.

Gunny Mds. 7,800 Rs. 8,900

This is mainly in the despatches from Calcutta to Cawnpore and Patna for bagging grain seeds and other produce.

Iron Mds. 3,500 Rs. 7 200

Iron pipes for the Simla water-works and iron sockets for the Government telegraph to Jheelum, despatched this month, account for the increase.

Railway material, foreign Mds. 88,100 Rs. 1,23,200

This increase is attributable to despatches of Public Works material for the Sukkur and Furrakabad State Railways, wagon frames for the Oudh and Rohilkund to Benares, and a few wagons for the Gya line to Bankipore.

Sugar and jaggree Mds. 26,800 Rs. 12,900

As remarked in last month's report, this increase is owing to continued demand from Rajputana and the Central Provinces and plentiful supplies.

Decreases.

Ghee and oil Mds. 14,900 Rs. 22,400

Owing to increased local consumption and limited supplies the prices in the Behar and Cawnpore districts have been unfavorable to exporters.

Piece-goods Mds. 39,300 Rs. 59,600

This noticeable decrease is to be accounted for by the heavy rains we have had; the flooded state of the country rendering the roads impassable.

The rush prior to the Doorga Poojah also was earlier last year and will compare with October of this year.

Seeds Mds. 1,26,600 Rs. 79,500

The principal decrease is in despatches from Cawnpore, owing to scarcity in the market and the demand being small.

The train mileage for the period is—

				Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
1879	...	...	...	184,426	318,973	503,399
1878	...	...	...	183,876	291,439	479,314

The decrease in firewood traffic is due to less import owing to wood-cutters being engaged in cultivation or otherwise.

The increase in straw is insignificant.

The decrease in hay and wooloo is due to less demand in selling markets.

The increase in paddy is due to a favourable market at selling stations.

The decrease in building materials is due to less work in rice mills.

The decrease in rice is due to cultivators not selling it owing to prospect of the crop being bad.

The increase in sundries is due to greater demand of sundry articles at rice mills.

The increase in brass and bell-metal ware is due to greater import to a favorable market.

The decrease in coal is due to larger import in March 1879, and its taking other route.

The increase in edible grains is due to greater import to a favorable market in the neighbourhood of Azimgunge, owing to failure of early crops on account of early floods of the Padma river and owing to destruction of crops by later flood.

The increase in piece-goods is due to larger import on account of Doorga Poojah holidays.

The increase in sugar is due to greater import to a favorable market.

The increase in seeds is due to greater import to a favorable market.

The increase in shoes is trifling.

The increase in silk is due to greater export to a favorable market.

The increase in sundries is due to greater import to a favorable market.

I.—LANDS AVAILABLE FOR LEASE.

1. The "waste lands" to which these rules apply include all ungranted and unoccupied land at the disposal of Government in the Sundarbans of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, and Backergunge, which has not been declared reserved forest under the Forest Act VII of 1878.

2. In respect of the granting of leases for such lands the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall exercise all the powers of a Collector of Land Revenue under Act XXIII of 1863, provided that, before acting on an application for the lease of any land, the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall refer the application to the Conservator of Forests and ascertain that there is no objection in his department to the application being granted. If the Commissioner is unable from any cause to accept the Conservator's objection, the matter shall be referred through the Board of Revenue for the decision of the Local Government.

3. The Government reserves to itself the right of withholding any land from being leased by special order made at any time before the lease is finally given by the Sundarban Commissioner; in such cases all expenses deposited by the applicant for demarcation, survey, and advertisement under the following rules shall be refunded to him, together with the reasonable expenses of clearing any lines and erecting any temporary boundaries which he may have incurred with the permission of the Sundarban Commissioner, as provided in Rule 10.

3(a). The Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals on the lands which may be leased together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals. It also retains its proprietary rights in the lands, and will only confer on the lessee an occupancy right which shall be hereditary and transferable.

II.—APPLICATION AND PROCEDURE BEFORE ADVERTISEMENT.

A form of application marked A is annexed to these rules.

5. All applications shall be entered at once in a register, of which the form shall be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

5(a). If the land touches a navigable river, the river frontage must not exceed one half the depth of the lot; but for special reasons the Board of Revenue may relax this condition.

7. No greater area of land than 5,000 standard beeghas will be included in one lease except under special orders of Government.

Limitation of area of each lot. nor will a smaller area than 200 beeghas be leased unless the lot has distinct water boundaries on all sides. The sanction of the Board of Revenue shall be necessary to the lease of more than one lot to one applicant, or to the lease of a second lot to an applicant who already holds one. The Board may at its discretion allow such further leases to be given on being satisfied that the applicant is in a position to begin clearing and cultivating at once, and that he bond fide means to do so, provided that each application shall comprise no more than the prescribed maximum area.

8. On receipt of an application, the Sundarban Commissioner shall satisfy himself that it complies with all requirements of these rules, and that the land is such as can properly be leased. Should he find that the lands are not available for lease, or that for any reason they ought not to be leased, or that the application does not fulfil the requirements of the rules, he shall reject the application, or in the latter case, allow it to be amended. In no case shall any application be admitted without special sanction of the Board of Revenue for any land which any persons are found to be occupying or using.

9. When no objection is known to exist against the lease being made, the Sundarban Commissioner shall determine whether a survey of the lands is required, or whether the maps and records of previous surveys available in his office are sufficient for the ready identification and demarcation of the boundaries on the ground.

10. If no survey is required, and it is only necessary to demarcate the boundaries on the ground, the Sundarban Commissioner shall estimate the cost of such demarcation as well as the cost of clearing the lines and erecting temporary boundary marks, and shall call upon the applicant to deposit the same before a certain day, which shall be fixed with reference to the time at which the demarcation can conveniently be made. Provided, however, that it shall be optional with the said Commissioner to allow the applicant himself to clear the jungle and construct such temporary boundary marks as may be considered sufficient for the ready identification of the land, until the permanent marks prescribed by article XIII of the "Terms of lease" shall be erected. If the applicant is allowed to clear the jungle and erect temporary landmarks, he shall enter into an agreement to do so within such reasonable time as shall be fixed by the Sundarban Commissioner.

11. Should the Sundarban Commissioner decide that a survey of the land is necessary, he shall call upon the applicant to deposit, before a day fixed for that purpose, the cost of survey in addition to the cost of demarcation, &c., as provided in the preceding rule. The cost of survey shall be calculated at the rate of four annas an acre on the area estimated in the application, or at such higher rate as may for special reasons be fixed in any case. The sum payable for survey shall be adjusted at the rate fixed per acre according to the actual area which may be ascertained by survey, a further payment being made by the applicant, or a refund being made to him, as may be necessary for adjustment.

12. In addition to the cost of survey, demarcation, &c., the applicant shall be required to deposit a sum of Rs. 16 to cover the cost of issuing the notice prescribed by Rule 17.

13. Should the applicant fail to deposit any amount required by the foregoing rules before the date fixed for that purpose, or should he fail to clear the lines or to demarcate the boundaries by the date fixed under Rule 10, the application shall be struck off the file; an application so struck off may be re-admitted, but in that case the application shall be considered to have been made on the date of the application for such re-admission, and not on the date of the original application.

14. After the deposit of fees, if for any reason the application should be struck off, or the survey abandoned, the applicant shall not be entitled to a refund of the sum deposited, except when lands are withheld from lease under Rule 3. Refund may, however, be made at the discretion of the Sundarban Commissioner of any balance remaining in deposit after meeting all expenses incurred on the objects for which the deposit was made.

15. Surveys shall ordinarily be made by Government surveyors; if made by other agency temporarily employed for the purpose, they shall be tested by Government officers.

16. Surveys need not be more minute or detailed than is necessary to ensure approximate ascertainment of area, but the boundaries must be very accurately and clearly defined.

III.—ISSUE OF NOTICE OF LEASE.

17. When the land has been surveyed and demarcated, and the Sundarban Commissioner is satisfied that it may be leased, he shall issue a notice in the form B annexed to these rules, announcing that an application has been made, and calling upon all persons who may have objections to make to appear before a date to be specified, which date shall not be less than three months from the date of the notice as provided in section I, Act XXIII of 1863.

18. The notice shall be published at the office of the Sundarban Commissioner, the office of the Board of Revenue, the office of the Collector of the District, at the Court of the District Judge, at the Sub-divisional Office, at the Moonsiff's Court, and at the Police Station within the limits of which the lands are situate. A copy shall also be published in the Government Gazettes in English and in Bengali.

19. In framing the notice the Sundarban Commissioner must be careful to state, as precisely as possible, all rights which will be reserved, such as waterways and the strips of land along the banks of rivers and nullahs for towing-paths (vide article XI of the annexed terms of lease), which will be held available for the use of Government and the public use.

20. If, after the issue of the notice and before the lease has been sold, any claim be preferred or objection taken, the Sundarban Commissioner must proceed as directed in Act XXIII of 1863.

21. If the Sundarban Commissioner shall consider that any claim or objection is established, he shall stay his proceedings for selling the lease as directed by section IV, Act XXIII of 1863, and make a special report to the Board of Revenue.

22. If the objection be such as can be got over by an arrangement without proceeding to formal trial under section VI of the Act, the Sundarban Commissioner may, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, order the arrangement to be made, and in such case, or in case the claim or objection is eventually withdrawn or pronounced invalid, the Sundarban Commissioner may proceed, on the date specified in the notice, to sell the lease of the land.

IV.—SALE IN CASE OF MORE THAN ONE APPLICATION.

22(a). If there is but one applicant for the lease of the land, it shall be sold to him at the upset price of one rupee an acre.

23. Should there be more than one application for the lease of the same lands before the survey or demarcation fees have been deposited, and should the second application comprise the whole of the lands contained in the first, the Sundarban Commissioner shall put the lease up to auction on the day named in the notice, and shall sell it to the highest bidder; but no person shall be allowed to bid who has not made such application; and no bid shall be accepted which is not bond fide on behalf of such person. If the second application comprise a portion only of the land contained in the first, it shall be rejected.

24. The lease, whether sold to the only applicant or by auction, shall be sold subject to the conditions contained in the terms of lease annexed to these rules and to those contained in the notice issued in form R.

25. The purchaser of the lease shall be required to pay down at once a sum of 500 rupees, or the full amount bid for the lease, if such amount be less than 500 rupees. In default of immediate payment the lease may be put up to resale at once, or may be reserved for future sale.

26. The purchaser shall be required to pay in the balance of the purchase money, if any, together with all fees for demarcation, survey, and advertisement which may be demanded by the Sundarban Commissioner, within one month of the day of sale. If he fail to do so, the sale shall be cancelled by authority of the Sundarban Commissioner, and the amount deposited under rules 11 and 12 shall be forfeited, and the land shall be available for lease to any other applicant.

Cancelment of sale in case of default of full payment of purchase-money.

27. After the conditions of this sale are fulfilled, the Sundarban Commissioner shall grant a lease of the lands in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue. He shall forward the lease for registration in the office of the Board, and will also cause it and its counterpart to be duly registered by the Registrar of Assurances.

28. All leases of waste lands shall be recorded in a register to be kept in such form as the Board of Revenue may prescribe.

29. The Board of Revenue shall as soon as possible after the publication of these rules—

I.—Prescribe forms of the register of applications as required by Rule 5, and for the register of leases as required by Rule 28.

II.—Issue a schedule specifying the rates of assessments subject to which the different lots of land available for lease in the Sundarbans shall be leased, as provided in article II of the terms of lease.

III.—Prescribe forms for leases.

30. The Board may issue any further subsidiary instructions for giving effect to these rules.

31. As the present policy of Government is not to allow the redemption of assessments on the land except in the case of very minute estates, no future application for the redemption of the assessments payable on account of leases of waste lands in the Sundarbans, either under the rules of 1853 or under any other rules, will be entertained.

Redemption of assessments not to be allowed.

TERMS OF LEASE.

I.—One-fourth on the entire area leased shall be for ever exempted from assessment as an estimated allowance for unassessable area, such as that occupied by water-courses, creeks, tanks, roads, the space required for the construction of the lessee's embankments, dams, tow-paths, &c., and for irreclaimable waste land.

At any time after the expiration of the said year, the Sundarban Commissioner or any person authorized by him may enter upon the land and cause it to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether this condition has been fulfilled.

IV.—On failure to comply with the above clearing condition the lessee shall forfeit all rights in the land under his existing lease, and the Government shall have the right of immediate re-entry. Provided that, if the lessee shall give up the said lease to the Sundarban Commissioner within one month of the date on which notice of such forfeiture shall be given to him, and shall demand a fresh lease, such fresh lease shall be given to him on the following conditions, namely, that the lessee shall forfeit all claim to continued possession of the land free of assessment, and shall at once pay the assessment at the lowest rate fixed in the original lease, and shall continue to pay it at such rate for the remaining free term of the lease, and shall also pay the assessment at a rate 20 per centum higher than that which was fixed in the original lease for each period up to the termination of the settlement.

VIII.—After the expiration of 40 years, reckoning from the date of the original lease, the lot shall be open to resettlement for a period of 30 years on such terms as the Government shall think fit, provided that the assessment shall not be fixed higher than the rate which would be paid by cultivating ryots in the neighbourhood for land growing the ordinary crops of the country, less 30 per centum to be allowed to the lessee to cover the risks and cost of collection, and to represent his profits. The above assessment shall be calculated on the area of the entire area leased, less the one-fourth which is exempted from assessment under article I of these rules.

VIII(a).—The land shall be subject to any cesses—such as the District Road cess, the Public Works cess, or any other—in addition to the assessment to be paid, but the liability of the land to these cesses shall be left to the discretion of the local Government after the first period of the 40 years settlement has expired.

IX.—The land shall from time to time be subject to resurvey and re-assessment in accordance with the preceding rule after the expiration of 30 years from any resettlement.

X.—The land shall be subject to all existing rights of way and water and other easements, and to any exceptions and reservations which may be particularized in the notice of sale of lease in form B annexed to the rules.

XI.—The right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to the public, as also the use of a tow-path not less than 25 feet in width on each side of every such stream and channel.

XI(a).—No charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land. But, for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied under the rules for the Sundarban protected forests, dated the 22nd April 1879, at any of the revenue stations mentioned in those rules, viz.—

For every maund of Sundri timber—one anna.
For every maund of any other kind—one-fourth of an anna.

XII.—In the event of any boundary dispute arising between the lessee of any lot and the lessee of any adjoining lot already leased under these rules, or which may subsequently be leased, the lessees shall be bound to submit such dispute to the decision of the Commissioner in the Sundarbans. The decision of the Sundarban Commissioner shall be appealable to the Board of Revenue, and the decision of the Board shall be final and binding on the lessees. No lessee under these rules shall have any claim against the Government for compensation or damages in respect of land having been included in his lease which has already been included in some previous lease; but the lessee shall be entitled to proportionate reduction of the assessment in respect of any land covered by his lease which may subsequently be discovered not to have been available for lease.

XIII.—On being put in possession of a lot which has not been previously defined by permanent marks, the lessee shall, except where the boundary runs along a river or well-defined nullah or water-course, within three months, erect masonry pillars or platforms or such other landmarks as may be required, to the satisfaction of the Sundarban Commissioner, at each point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other properties meet, and large earthen mounds at every angle and at intervals of a hundred yards of the boundary line between such masonry pillars or platforms.

XIV.—If the lessee neglect to demarcate the lands as prescribed in the preceding rule, the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall have the right of entry on the lands, and shall erect the landmarks hereinbefore described; and all costs incurred in that behalf whether the actual costs of the landmarks, or the expenses incurred for clearing any jungle, or for supervision, or travelling expenses; and all charges whatsoever shall be recovered from the lessee by the law in force for the time being for the recovery of Government demands or the recovery of arrears of assessment on the land, as shall be decided upon by the Commissioner of the Sundarbans.

XV.—If any land leased under these rules should hereafter be required for any public purpose such land, whether cultivated or uncultivated, may be resumed by Government on exempting the lessee from payment of the assessment on the area required and in the case of cultivated land by further payment of the reasonable cost of bringing the land under cultivation, and on payment of reasonable compensation for the value of any building, &c., which may stand on the lands.

 that the tenure shall be heritable and transferable, provided that notice of every transfer shall be given to the Sunderbuns Commissioner within one month of its occurrence :

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th November 1879.—The following revised rules for the regulation of the departmental examinations of junior members of the Covenanted Civil Service, the Subordinate Executive Service, the Non-Regulation Commission, Police, &c., having been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, and approved by the Government of India, are hereby published for general information :

1. All Assistant Magistrates, Assistant Commissioners, Deputy Magistrates and Collectors, Assistant Superintendents of Police, and others (to whom these rules may be applicable) who may have been more than six months on duty, shall, and those who have been less than six months on duty may, at their option be subjected to half-yearly departmental examinations, and shall be required to pass according to the standard, or the standards, of examination which may be applicable to them respectively in each subject according to the rules hereinafter set forth.

2. To direct and control these half-yearly departmental examinations, there shall be a Central Examination Committee appointed by Government. It shall consist of a President and of as many members (of whom one shall be Secretary) as the Government may think proper to appoint from time to time.

3. The examinations may be held, in the Regulation Provinces, at any station which is the head-quarters of a Divisional Commissioner, or where there is a District Judge; and for the Non-Regulation Provinces at the following stations, and at any other stations where the Commissioner may, in communication with the Central Examination Committee, think it necessary to hold Committees for examination :—

For Chota Nagpore, at Ranchee.

For Cooch Behar, at Darjeeling or Julpigoree.

For the Sonthal Pergunnahs, at Bhagulpore.

For the Chittagong Hill Tracts, at Chittagong.

4. Each Divisional Commissioner shall notify, at least one month before the date of examination, at what stations in his division examinations are to be held, and shall report the names of intending examinees, specifying at which centre of examination each is to attend. If a Divisional Commissioner has only a very few examinees, and if the means of locomotion are easy, he will probably have only one or two centres of examination in his division.

5. The Central Examination Committee may, on sufficient cause being shown, permit the appearance of an officer for examination at a station other than that at which, under ordinary circumstances, he would be required to present himself.

6. At the several stations at which examinations are to be held Local Committees shall be formed, who shall conduct the examinations under the instructions of the Central Committee.

7. The Local Committee at each station, which is the head-quarters of a Commissioner, shall consist of the Commissioner, the Collector (or Deputy Commissioner), and a native civil officer to be selected by the Commissioner. In the absence of the Commissioner or Collector, the Judge (or Judicial Commissioner) shall take his place on the Committee. At the other stations the Committee shall consist of the Judge, the Collector, and a native officer to be selected by the Judge. At the stations in the Non-Regulation Provinces which are not the head-quarters of the Commissioner, and at which there is no Judicial Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner shall form a Committee, with one or two other officers to be selected by him.

8. The Government will, in communication with the Central Committee, fix the days for the half-yearly examination, which shall be the same for every district. The first half-yearly examination will usually be held in the month of April, May, or June, and the second in the month of October, November, or December.

9. It shall be the duty of the Central Committee to prepare, previous to each examination, sets of questions to be put to the examinees, to forward a sufficient number of copies of each of such sets to the President of each Local Committee in a sealed packet, to determine the order in which the examination in each paper and subject shall be held, and to arrange all other details for the conduct of the examinations. The Central Committee from time to time shall lay down such rules as may appear to them best for the guidance of the Local Committees, in order to ensure a fair and uniform method of ascertaining the proficiency of the examinee in each subject.

10. The Local Committee shall not open the sealed packet of papers until the time of examination; they shall superintend the written examinations of the examinees only so far as may be necessary to ensure the conduct of them with proper strictness; they shall not examine the written answers, but shall forward them to the Central Committee with a report, which shall be furnished by the District Officer and Commissioner under whom the examinee has been employed, respecting his official character, qualifications, and the work done by him during the preceding six months, as well as a statement specifying the marks which they assign to candidates for conversational proficiency in the vernacular, in which branch their decision shall be final.

11. The Central Committee, after perusing the reports and the examination papers, shall report to Government the names of such officers as in their opinion have passed, noticing specially, in the order of their merit, those who may have passed with distinction. They shall also report the names of those officers who have succeeded in some of the subjects only, as well as of those who have failed altogether.

12. There shall be two standards of examination in Law and Languages: the Lower and the Higher Standards. With the exception specified below, officers are required to pass in Law and in the language of the district by both the Higher and the Lower Standards, and in a second language by the Higher Standard only.

13. In Appendix IV will be found the rules prescribing the tests in the vernacular which European officers of the several departments are required to satisfy.

For native officers, when required to pass in any vernacular, the same rules and tests shall apply as in the case of European officers. But if the officer does not know English, he will translate into his own vernacular, and not into English, and it will be unnecessary for him to transliterate the paper set for that purpose.

14. The only language in which officers generally shall be required to pass by the Lower Standard shall be the vernacular of the district in which they may be serving, and the principal object of the examination shall be to test the proficiency for practical purposes of the examinee in such language.

15. The object of the Lower Standard of examination in Law shall be to test the examinee's practical acquaintance with the Criminal Codes, and his general knowledge of certain of the more important local laws, regulations, and rules. One paper shall be prepared specially for this examination, which shall be confined to the Criminal Codes, and for which the use of the Codes, but no manuals, guides, or books with indexes, shall be allowed. The questions must not be such as can be answered by copying a passage from a book; they must be such as shall thoroughly test the capacity of the examinees to understand the bearing of facts, and to ascertain the law and apply it. Another paper shall be prepared, consisting of questions on the local laws, regulations, and rules enumerated in Appendix I. These must be answered without the aid of books. This paper is designed equally for the candidates for examination by the Lower and Higher Standards, but the number of pass marks shall be less in the case of examinees by the Lower than in that of those by the Higher Standard of examination.

16. In the examination by the Higher Standard, it is necessary for the examinee to pass under the rules referred to above in two vernacular languages, ordinarily Bengali and Urdu. The questions of law and practice will be selected from the whole field of the duties of a Magistrate and Collector. All examinees will be required to pass in two papers. The nature of the one, in answering the questions in which the use of books will not be allowed, has already been explained in paragraph 15. The other paper, for which the use of books will be allowed, will contain questions on the local laws, regulations, and rules set forth in Appendix II. The examinees may have all the Acts, Regulations, and Circulars, but no Manuals, Guides or Indexes. The questions should be confined as much as possible to cases commonly arising in the ordinary routine of the office of a Magistrate and Collector, or of a District Superintendent of Police. Certain facts of probable occurrence in real practice should be stated, and the examinee required to find and apply the law applicable to the facts.

17. A Covenanted Civil Servant must pass the examination in local laws, regulations, and rules, and in both languages, by the Higher Standard. He will be required to pass by the Lower Standard in one subject only, and that the vernacular of the district in which he is serving.

18. Officers who, after passing in the higher grade the preliminary examination for admission into the Subordinate Executive Service held in 1873 or subsequently, have received appointments in that service, will be subject to no further examination except the Higher Standard departmental examination, and the opium laws examination for those candidates who are appointed to the Opium Department without having taken the opium papers. Candidates who passed at the Subordinate Executive Service examination which was held in 1872 are exempted from examination by the Lower Standard in the vernacular only. They will be required to pass in Law by that standard.

19. Where a candidate, other than a Covenanted Civilian allowed by Government for any special reason to present himself for examination by the Higher Standard in Law or Languages before passing the Lower, fails to pass the Higher Standard in either subject, the Central Examination Committee shall have full authority to decide whether he has done sufficiently well to pass by the Lower Standard.

20. An officer who succeeds in passing by either standard, (a) in Law or (b) in either of the Languages, shall not again be required to present himself for examination by the same standard in the subject in which he was successful, but only in those in which he failed.

21. The marks to be assigned to each branch of the Law examination, the proportion required for passing by the different standards, and the time allowed for each paper, are set forth in Appendix III. The same information as regards the examination in Languages will be found in Appendix IV. Uniformity must be rigidly enforced in the time allowed for each subject, whether in Law or Language.

22. A civil officer who has passed according to the Lower Standard of examination, and who has exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Third Class for six months, shall usually be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class, described in sections 20—24 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act X of 1872), provided he is certified by the Commissioner to be fully competent to exercise them. Assistant Magistrates and Assistant Commissioners will also then be vested with the powers of a Deputy Collector.

23. An officer, however, who shall have passed by the Lower Standard in the Criminal Codes and in the language of his district, may be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class on the Commissioner's recommendation to that effect, provided he has had not less than six months' experience in his magisterial duties.

24. An officer who has passed according to the Higher Standard shall be eligible to be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class, but not until he shall have exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class for at least six months.

25. An officer who has passed in Law and in the language of his district according to the Higher Standard may also be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class, subject to the condition of his having exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class for six months; but he shall not be entitled to any promotion or increase of pay until he has passed fully by the Second Standard. He shall exercise the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class so long only as he is employed in a district where the language in which he has passed is the vernacular.

26. Assistant Magistrates and Assistant Commissioners on first appointment draw only Rs. 400 a month. On passing the Lower Standard of examination, and being invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class, they shall be allowed an increase of Rs. 50 a month, provided they have exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Third Class for six months at least; and on passing fully the Higher Standard, and being invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class, they will receive a second increase of Rs. 50, provided they have also exercised the powers of a Magistrate of the Second Class for not less than six months.

27. Officers attending these examinations will be allowed travelling allowance subject to the rules laid down by the Government of India in the Financial Department, in Notification No. 4425 of the 12th December 1872.

28. No application from any junior officer, liable to examination, for privilege leave or leave on private affairs, will be entertained if the following half-yearly examination falls due before the expiry of the leave applied for, unless the application specifies that the applicant will attend the examination.

29. If such leave is applied for, and the application from such an officer is submitted to Government, it should be stated that he is liable to pass an examination, and that the next examination will be held within the period of the leave applied for. This will enable the Lieutenant-Governor to decide whether, for the reasons stated, the leave should be granted; and if so, on what conditions.

30. It is the duty of district officers to look to the practical training of the young officers placed under them from their first entering into official life till they acquire a practical experience of their work and qualify themselves for the exercise of higher powers by passing the prescribed examinations. District officers are expected to take active interest in the well-being of the young men placed under them, by exercising due supervision over their studies, by holding periodical examinations to test their qualifications and official knowledge, and by any other means which may seem to them to be expedient for the purpose.

SPECIAL RULES.

1. For Police Officers the papers set in Law for both the Lower and the Higher Standards shall be prepared separately from those for other officers. For the Lower Standard questions shall be set in the Penal Code, the Code of Criminal Procedure, Act V of 1861, the Village Chowkidari Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, Act I (B.C.) of 1871, and the D and N Circular Orders of the Police Department. The use of books will be allowed in answering these questions. For the Higher Standard the questions will be taken from the same Acts and from all the Circulars of the Police Department, from the Excise, Salt and Opium Laws, from Act V (B.C.) of 1876 (so far as it relates to Police), and from the Evidence Act I of 1872. In this examination the use of books will not be allowed.

2. Police Officers transferred to the Executive Service, or who desire such transfer, will be required to satisfy the same tests as those prescribed above for officers of the Subordinate Executive Service, subject to the exception noted below.

3. When such an officer has already passed by either standard in a language, the pass will be accepted as sufficient to that degree.

4. Any officer so transferred, who has passed in Law by the Lower Standard (as hitherto required for the Police), will be required to pass for the Lower Standard in the general papers of local laws, &c. He will be exempted from examination in the Criminal Codes prescribed for the Lower Standard if he so desire; but if he elects to pass, such pass will be taken into account in his favour.

5. Such officers who have passed by the Higher Police Standard in Law will still be required to pass in both law papers prescribed in paragraph 16 above, the term "law" including Revenue and General law.

6. Officers of the Opium Department will be examined, after admission to the department, in the subjects mentioned in Government orders No. 1157G of 28th October 1872.

Revised Rules for the examination of Civil Officers in the Lower Provinces of Bengal in the Vernaculars.

THE following rules for the examination of civil officers in the Lower Provinces of Bengal apply to all European officers of the classes specified in them, and to such others as the local Government may from time to time direct. They do not affect the rules for the encouragement of the study of the languages of frontier tribes, a copy of which is given in Appendix V.

2. Three grades of examination are recognized:—

(I)—The Higher Standard of examination for civil officers, held under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee.

(II)—The Higher Standard of examination prescribed for military officers by G. G. O. No. 734, dated 9th September 1864, and G. G. O. No 294, dated 24th March 1866; and the Lower Standard of examination for civil officers held under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee.

(III)—The Lower Standard of examination prescribed for military officers in Hindustani by the G. G. O. above quoted.

3. Officers of the Public Works, Education, Survey, and Forest Departments are examined under special rules. In their case either of the standards specified in grade II will be accepted as sufficient, should they exceptionally have to be examined along with the officers attached to the general administration.

4. The officers named in the margin are required to pass the examination specified in grade I above in the vernacular of the district in which they may be serving. Assistants in the Opium Department, who have not passed the Native Civil Service Examination in Hindustani, are required to pass in that language only by the Lower Standard of departmental examination specified in grade II above.

Officers to whom the rules apply

- 1 Deputy Magistrates and Collectors.
- 2 Salaried Sub-Registrars
- 3 Canal Superintendents

Officers of the Survey, Forest, Education, and Public Works Departments

Officers required to pass in one language only

5. Deputy Collectors who, under this rule, have passed in one language only will not be eligible for transfer to, or promotion in, another province, unless they pass also in the language which is there the vernacular.

6. Medical officers in civil employ, whether covenanted or uncovenanted, will be required to pass in the language of the district by one or other of the standards specified in grade II. Army medical officers, who have passed the Military Lower Standard of examination specified in grade III in Hindustani, will not be subject to further examination in that language.

7. Medical officers in civil employ, who have passed in one language under the above rules, if posted to a district where another language is the vernacular, will be required also to pass in it, but only by a conversational test designed to prove their ability to converse with the people and be understood by them.

Officers required to pass in two languages.

1. Covenanted Civilians
2. Assistant Commissioners
3. Assistant Superintendents of Police.

8. The officers named in the margin are required to pass by the standard specified in grade I above in two languages, which may be Bengali and Hindustani, or Oorya and Hindustani.

9. Military officers who have passed in Hindustani by the Military Higher Standard of examination specified in grade II are not liable to further examination in that language.

Exemption in the case of military officers.

10. Officers generally are required, in the first instance, to pass in the language of the district in which they are serving by the Lower Standard specified in grade II above, before attempting a second language, in which passing by the Higher Standard only will be required. Covenanted civilians are, however, allowed to pass by either standard, and in either language in any order.

Order in which the languages must be taken up

11. Uncovenanted officers who have passed in any vernacular at the Native Civil Service Examination are not required to pass in it again by the Lower Standard of departmental examinations, but may go up for the Higher Standard in cases where they become liable to this examination.

Officers exempt from the Lower Standard of examination.

12. An officer liable to pass in two languages, when he has passed in the language of the district by the Lower Standard as required in Rule 10 above, may present himself for examination by the Higher Standard in that language, and in the second language, which will be Hindustani in the case of those who first qualify in Bengali or Oorya, and in the case of those who first pass in Hindustani, Bengali or, if they be posted in Orissa, Oorya.

13. Covenanted civilians who, on the 4th May 1874, were of less than 12 years' standing, and have passed in Hindustani and Bengali, will, on transfer to Orissa, as a condition of promotion to the substantive grade of Magistrate, be required to pass in Oorya as a third language. Similarly, those who have passed in Hindustani and Oorya only will, on transfer to Bengal, be required to pass in Bengali as a third language. On passing in a third language under this rule, covenanted civilians become entitled to a reward of Rs. 500.

Cases in which a third language is compulsory

14. Police officers and uncovenanted Deputy Collectors are not required to pass in a third language under the preceding rule; but if they elect to do so, they will be eligible for a reward of Rs. 180.

Cases in which a third language is optional

15. The examination specified in grade I above, and the Lower Standard of examination specified in grade II above, will be held under the rules for the conduct of the departmental examination of civil officers, and under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee in Calcutta.

16. The Military Higher and Lower Standards of examination specified in grades II and III above will be conducted in the case of military officers by the Board of Examiners in Calcutta under the rules applicable to these examinations generally. In the case of uncovenanted medical officers, and optionally in the case of covenanted medical officers, these examinations will be held under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee, and along with the departmental examinations.

The following are the tests prescribed for the several grades of examination:—

Grade I.—The Higher Standard of Departmental Examination.

A.—Reading current handwriting in the vernacular.

Two documents of the more difficult description of office papers selected and lithographed by the Central Examination Committee shall be transliterated into the Roman character.

B.—A written translation from the vernacular into English.

The same documents shall also be translated into English correctly.

C.—A written translation from English into the vernacular.

An English judgment or other official document of a somewhat difficult nature, selected by the Central Examination Committee, shall be translated into the vernacular without assistance, and in a generally correct manner.

D.—Dictation from English into the vernacular.

An English report or other official paper of some difficulty shall be translated into the vernacular and dictated off-hand fluently and intelligibly, and the translation written down by a clerk exactly as dictated.

E.—Conversation in the vernacular.

The examinee shall be tested in conversation with several natives in such a manner as to satisfy the local Committee of his power of making himself understood by them, and of explaining himself with clearness and sufficient propriety in the vernacular in an argument or topic of some difficulty, such as may occur in official business.

The maximum and the pass marks assigned to each branch of the examination, and the time allowed for the papers, are subjoined:—

Subjects of Examination.	Maximum marks.	Passing marks.	Time.
Transliteration ...	20	10	{ One-and-a-half hours.
Translation from ver- nacular ... } One paper	20	10
Translation from English ...	20	10	Two hours.
Dictation from English ...	20	10	Half an hour.
Conversation ...	20	10	Ten minutes.

Grade II (a).—The Lower Standard of Departmental Examination.

For this examination the tests shall be the same as the above, but the papers shall be less difficult. The proportion of marks to be obtained in order to pass, and the time allowed for the papers, shall be the same as for the Higher Standard above described.

Grade II (b).—The Military Higher Standard of Examination.

The Military Higher Standard examination is intended to ascertain the ability of candidates—1st, to read and construe passages in books of ordinary difficulty in Urdu and Hindi; 2nd, to make accurate and idiomatic written translations from English and Hindustani in both the Persian and Deva Nagri characters; 3rd, to read and translate petitions, native letters, &c., in Urdu and Hindi; 4th, to converse with educated or uneducated natives of India in Hindustani.

The following are the tests prescribed:—

First.—Reading fluently, and construing with readiness and accuracy, not less than an ordinary octavo page of the undermentioned works:—

(1) The Bāgh-o-Bahār.

(2) Selections from the prose of the Prém Sāgar.

Second.—Translating accurately, and with correctness of idiom and grammar, not less than half an ordinary octavo page of plain English into language similar to that of the Bāgh-o-Bahār, and an equal amount into language similar to that of the Prém Sāgar. The translation must be reduced to writing, in the former case in the Persian character; in the latter in the Deva Nagri character.

Third.—Reading fairly, and translating readily and correctly, Hindustani manuscripts written in both the Persian and Deva Nagri characters. These manuscripts may be selected from the proceedings of a case in court, from reports or petitions addressed to civil or military authorities, from letters passing between natives of India in the ordinary course of business, or from private correspondence. They should not be written with the clearness of a printed book, nor yet in a very cramped or crabbed hand, but in such a manner as fairly and honestly to represent the written characters as practically employed in the presidency or province in which the examination is held.

Fourth.—Conversing in Hindustani with the examiners or with natives of India with fluency, and with such correctness of pronunciation, grammar, and idiom, as to be at once intelligible.

In other languages the tests imposed are similar, but the books are different. Those used are—

In Bengali	{ (1) Nobonari.
	{ (2) Rajdūt.
In Oorya	{ (1) Hitopadishā.
	{ (2) Batris Singhasun.

Grade III (a).—Military Lower Standard of Examination.

At this examination shall be tested the ability of candidates to read and translate passages from easy Hindustani books written in the Persian and Deva Nagri characters; and to speak on, and interpret, common or professional subjects in Hindustani so as to understand, and to be understood by, any ordinary uneducated native of India.

They are required, first, to read fairly, and construe with accuracy, not less than half an octavo page of the undermentioned works:—

- (1) "Hindustani selections*" in the Persian character.
- (2) "Hindustani selections*" in the Deva Nagri character.

Second, to converse in Hindustani with the examiners, or with natives of India, on subjects likely to occur in the performance of regimental or professional duty, in the transactions of ordinary business, or in the course of every-day life.

"If this test be applied through the medium of a native of India, he should speak the plain Hindustani of the presidency or province in which the examination is held, free from peculiarities of idiom and dialect, and not a patois, and though, as regards the performance of professional duties, it must to a certain extent be technical in its nature; if, in other respects, the candidate prove his ability to comprehend readily all that is said to him, and to make himself fairly intelligible, more should not be required."

The colloquial examination of each candidate will be carefully recorded in writing by the Committee of Examiners, and a copy of this record will be forwarded with the Committee's report to the Adjutant-General of the Army. It is in this portion of the examination that discretion and judgment on the part of the examiners is most required; and in conducting it, Committees should strictly follow the instruction laid down in the extract from the orders of the 9th September 1864 above quoted. Questions intended simply to puzzle a candidate should be particularly avoided. The questions need not exceed 15, but should not be less than 10 in number.

APPENDIX V.

THE following are the rules sanctioned for granting rewards to civil officers in Bengal for proficiency in the languages of frontier tribes.

3. The examination shall be conducted by a local Committee to be specially appointed by Government on each occasion.

* Until these selections have been prepared, candidates will be examined in the first-half of the Bāgh-o-Bāhār and the first-half of the Diyal Pachkess.

4. The tests which a candidate for the above reward must undergo are as follow :—

- (c.) He must without assistance translate from English or his mother-tongue into the tribal language (writing it in either the English, or Bengali, or Hindi character) sentences not of a more difficult nature than those described in clause (b). The translation must be substantially correct and intelligible when read to a native in whose language it might be written.

5. These rules will not affect those prescribing the rewards to which Junior Civilians who succeed in passing High Proficiency and Honors examinations in certain specified languages will be entitled.

APPENDIX VI.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

No. 3101, the 5th October 1864.

THE Governor-General in Council having had under consideration the rules for the examination of military officers seeking admission to the Staff Corps in the Civil and Political Departments, which were published in the notification of Government, No. 242, dated 25th May last, has determined, subject to the sanction of Her Majesty's Secretary of State, on the substitution of the following rules :—

In continuation of the general regulations for the admission of officers to the Staff Corps, notified by the Military Department in G. O. No. 531 of 1864, dated the 27th June, the following rules relating to the future employment of military officers in the Civil and Political Departments of the Government are published for general information :—

I.—A candidate for appointment to the Civil or Political Department, with the view of qualifying for the Staff Corps, must furnish the certificates mentioned in paragraph 5 of G. O. No. 531, of which the forms were given in Appendix A of the same general order, and are now re-published at the end of the present notification.

II.—He must have been previously attached, for a period of not less than one year, to a native regiment;* but such period may form part of the three years' duty with a regiment required by the general regulations for admission to the Staff Corps. He will be required to produce a certificate from his superior officer, testifying to his efficiency and good conduct, and especially to his conciliatory demeanour towards the native soldiery and other people of the country with whom he has been brought in contact.

III.—The period of one year,—reckoned, as explained in the following rule, from the date of the first half-yearly examination held subsequent to appointment,—is fixed as the limit within which an officer, admitted on probation to employment in the Civil or Political Department, will be required to qualify himself to undergo the examinations hereinafter mentioned, in passing which he will have a claim to have his services retained; and he will then, under the orders of the Military Department, be appointed to the Staff Corps.

IV.—Examinations will be held half-yearly in October and April of each year. A candidate may appear at the first examination held after the expiry of the first six months of his probation, and if he fail to pass, must again appear at the next examination six months later. A candidate failing to pass at the first examination, held after the expiration of his year of probation, will be removed from employment in the Civil or Political Department, and consequently will not be appointed to the Staff Corps.

* Any officer who has been employed for a year in one of the departments named on the margin, will be exempted from the condition prescribed by Rule II, of one year's service with a native regiment. Provided, however, that he shall produce, from the officer under whom he may have served in any such department, a certificate (to be countersigned by the head of the department) to the same effect as that required from a superior officer in case of service with a native regiment.

Police

V.—Subject to such general directions as shall from time to time be given by the Government of India, the examinations will be conducted by a Committee acting under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor, or Chief Commissioner, or Political Agent or Resident, as the case may be.

VI.—The examination will embrace, in the case of officers employed in general civil duties, the subjects of Indian History Political Economy, and Jurisprudence. The works on the two last-named subjects in which candidates will be examined are Mills' Political Economy, Austin's Principles of Jurisprudence, Volume I, and Maine's Ancient Law. Notice of any change in the books for examination will be given at least one year before it takes effect.

VII.—Every officer in civil employment will, in addition to the above examination, and notwithstanding his appointment to the Staff Corps, be required to undergo the local and departmental examinations prescribed for Covenanted Civil Servants in the province in which he is serving.

VIII.—The examination in the case of officers employed in the Political Department will embrace the subjects above-mentioned, and the candidate will in addition be examined in Wheaton's Work on the Principles of International Law. He will also be examined in the collection of Indian Treaties and Engagements, now being published under the direction of the Foreign Office.

IX.—No officer will be admitted on probation to civil or political employment who has not passed the examination in Hindustani required by the general regulations for the admission of officers to the Staff Corps.

X.—Cantonment Magistrates will be classed with officers in civil employment. Separate rules will be promulgated hereafter as regards Police Officers; but Police Officers, if transferred to civil employment, will be required to pass the examination prescribed for officers in civil employment.

XI.—As a general rule, military officers will be appointed to the Political Department from among those who are already in civil employment; and every officer so transferred will be required to pass, within one year from the date of his transfer, the additional examination in International Law and Indian Treaties prescribed for the Political Department, failing which he will forfeit his appointment.

XII.—These rules are intended to be prospective in their effect. They will not apply to any officers now holding permanent appointments in civil or political employment. Such officers will be entitled to join the Staff Corps in virtue of their appointments. Officers, however, who do not hold permanent appointments will be subject to these rules. But the case of any officer who has been formerly in civil or political employment, and who, having quitted such employment, may hereafter be re-appointed to it, will be specially dealt with as the circumstances of the case may require.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 8th November 1879.

No. 3745.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 5 of the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879, and in supersession of the rules published with Notification No. 3761, dated 15th October 1873, the Governor-General in Council has made the following rules :—

I.—In these rules (1) "The Act" means "The Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879;" (2) "Local Authority" and (3) "Funds" have the meanings assigned to them respectively in the Act; (4) "The Local Authority" means "The Local Authority applying for or, as the case may be, receiving or raising, or having received or raised the loan;" and (5) "Loan" means "A loan under the Act."

II.—A loan must be defined in rupees, and not by the sterling or any other foreign standard.

III.—No loan shall be granted or raised except for the construction or repair of works of public utility, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the local authority, or for the benefit of the inhabitants within those limits.

IV.—No loan shall be granted to or raised by any district committee for the construction of any public work unless it be estimated that a direct net revenue will be derived therefrom equal to at least four and a half per centum per annum on its capital cost. Provided, however, that the local Government may make a loan, not exceeding Rs. 20,000, and repayable in not more than one year, to a district committee, for a work designed especially to employ labour for the purpose of relieving distress.

V.—An application for a loan, or for permission to raise a loan, shall be signed by three-fourths of the members of the managing body or committee duly constituted and acting for the local authority. Every such application shall state—

1st.—The work or works for the construction or repair of which the loan is required and an estimate of the cost thereof.

2nd.—The amount which it is proposed to borrow.

3rd.—The fund or funds on the security of which it is proposed to borrow.

4th.—The law or laws under which the said fund or funds is or are levied, received or held.

5th.—The period for which the loan is required, the number and amount of the instalments, if any, in which it is proposed that the loan shall be taken, the dates proposed for receiving such instalments, and the instalments in which it is proposed to repay the loan.

6th.—The yearly proceeds of each of the funds received or held by the local authority.

7th.—All expenditure incurred by the local authority in each of the three last preceding years.

8th.—All existing prior charges upon the funds of the local authority.

VI.—The local Government shall cause such enquiry as it thinks necessary or expedient to be made into the statements contained in the application and into the use and value of the proposed work.

VII.—If it appears to the local Government that the loan ought not to be granted or raised, it shall reject the application.

VIII.—If it appears to the local Government probable that the loan ought to be granted or raised, it shall cause to be published in the local official gazette, and otherwise, as it deems fit, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the local authority, a copy of the application and such particulars in regard to any enquiry made under Rule VI as it may think necessary.

IX.—After the expiry of one month from such publication, and after calling for any further information which it may require, and considering any objections which may be preferred, the local Government may either reject the application, or, subject to the provisions of Rule X, grant the loan, or refer the application for the orders of the Governor-General in Council.

X.—(a) Save as provided in clause (b) of this rule, the local Government may make a loan from any sums which the Governor-General in Council allots for the purpose.

(b) If the proposed loan is more than twice the yearly income of the local authority; or if the local authority be not a municipal committee, or persons legally entitled to the control or management of a municipal fund; or if the loan exceeds Rs. 5,000; the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council is necessary.

XI.—Receipts for loans shall be signed on behalf of the local authority in the manner in which orders for the disbursement of money on behalf of such authority are required by law to be signed. If there be no such law, such receipts shall be signed by the President or Chairman, and by the Vice-President or Vice-Chairman, and by two members of the managing body or committee duly constituted and acting for the local authority. The signature of a receipt shall be deemed to be an acceptance by the local authority of the loan and of all the conditions upon which it is granted or authorised.

XII.—The local Government shall make provision for the proper inspection of all works which are being carried out by means of a loan and for ascertaining and securing that the loan is duly applied to the purposes for which it is made. Every such work, and the accounts connected therewith, shall be open at all times to the inspection of the Superintending or Executive Engineer in whose division it is situate, and of any person who may be authorized to inspect the accounts of the local authority, and of any other person specially authorized by the local Government in this behalf.

XIII.—If the local Government considers that the conditions on which a loan was granted or authorized have not been fulfilled, or that the local authority has failed to comply with any of the requirements of these rules, it may, at any time, order that no further payments shall be made or received on account of such loan, and, if the loan was made from the public treasury, recover the amount advanced, with interest thereon, in the manner prescribed by section 6 of the Act.

XIV.—(a) Interest shall be charged half-yearly on each loan at the rate agreed upon; and until the loan is completely raised, or until the local Government shall at some earlier period declare the loan to be closed, shall be reckoned and paid on each instalment from the date on which it is received.

(b) Every loan shall be discharged in equal half-yearly instalments, so calculated that the principal shall be repaid with interest in not more than twenty years from the date on which the loan is completely raised or declared by the local Government to be closed.

(c) Provided that, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the equal half-yearly instalments may be so calculated that the principal shall be repaid with interest in more than twenty but not more than thirty years, from the date of the completion or closure of the loan.

XV.—The local authority may, at any time, repay the whole or any part of a loan made from the public treasury in advance of the periods fixed by the conditions of the loan.

XVI.—The cost of any enquiry made under Rule VI of advertisements published under Rule VIII, of inspections made under Rule XII, and of any other proceedings by order of the local Government or the Governor-General in Council under these rules, shall be determined by the local Government, and shall be paid by the local authority.

XVII.—(a) The accounts of every loan shall be kept by the Accountant-General of the province in which it is made.

(b) The local authority shall give to the Accountant-General and the local Government any information which they may require regarding the expenditure of the loan, and regarding its funds.

XVIII.—An annual statement of all loans granted or raised under the Act, repayments due and made during the year, and balances outstanding at the beginning and end of the year in each province, or under each local Government, shall be prepared by the Accountant-General and submitted to the Government of India through the local Government, which shall add a report of the progress of the works. Such statement shall be published in the local official gazette.

XIX.—An attachment of any funds under section 6 of the Act shall be made by a notice to the local authority prohibiting the collection or management of such funds by the local authority, and vesting the administration thereof in such officer as the local Government may appoint. Such notice shall be published in the local official gazette, and otherwise, as may be directed by the local Government, within the local limits of the local authority. The moneys collected or received under such attachment shall be paid into the Government treasury, or, if the loan has not been obtained from the Government, to the lender; and the accounts of moneys so collected and of the cost of collection shall be prepared in such form as the local Government may from time to time direct. A copy of the accounts shall be delivered to the local authority, and published in the local official gazette.
